Message from the Principal and the Supervisor

I am pleased that our school annal gives me the opportunity to communicate with you all once again.

There are two parts to education; acquiring knowledge and learning to be good. Technology has changed but human nature has not. In our desire to become "modern" we should not blur the distinction between what is good and what is bad. A society of individuals who care only for themselves cannot survive. This is a simple truth often forgotten.

Happily this simple truth has never been forgotten at La Salle College. Our philosophy of always combining prayer with work has a validity which is universal and eternal.

Finally, congratulations to the Editor and his assistants who have put much effort into producing this valuable record of the year in question.

Brother Francis.
Principal and Supervisor.
Editorial

The Lasallite is an official annals recording all the happenings of the school within the academic year. This year, we have the honour to take up the job of editing the School Magazine. Realizing that it is going to be no easy task, we, the 23 enthusiastic yet inexperienced young boys, dedicated all our waking hours to the Editorial Board. We sincerely hope that our efforts would pay good dividends.

We have to write articles, edit, work on the layouts and do proofreadings. We got through a year of sleepy school days and sleepless nights. But we have our happy times. Strengthening the La Salle Spirit within us is our most enduring reward. Whenever we are exhausted, the school motto ‘FIDES ET OPERA’ immediately reanimates us and goads us on until we see it through. So here comes the book — the fruit of our labour.

Nothing can be perfect, and this issue of the Lasallite is no exception. However, we hope that whenever you leap through this book, you will recall your ‘good old days’ in La Salle and give us a warm smile.

Lastly, we would like to take this opportunity to thank our Principal and Supervisor, Rev. Brother Francis and our Teacher Advisers: Mr. Peter Chiu, Mrs. C. P. C. Chong and Mr. Y. K. Wong for their continuous and unreserved support throughout the year. We would like to express our gratitude to all the members of the Editorial Board and many unsung heroes who have helped us in one way or another. Thanks should be extended to those who have lent us a helping hand during the production stage.

The Speech Day

The annual Speech Day Ceremony of this academic year was held on the 24th of November, 1994. This year, we were glad to have the Chief Executive of The Stock Exchange of H.K. Limited, Mr. Paul Chow, to distribute the Certificates and Prizes.

In order to let the ceremony run smoothly, participants made their best efforts. The School Orchestra, the Junior School Choir, the Scouts and student working members all contributed their best during the preparation period. They thoroughly showed their La Salle spirit through their ‘Faith and Works’.

Finally, the day came for their great efforts to be rewarded. Rehearsals of the School Orchestra and the School Choir went on over and over again throughout the whole afternoon. Student working members were busy decorating the School Auditorium. The scouts also arrived early to welcome our guests. At about 5:00 pm, the EXCO members of the Student Association and the scouts gathered at the main entrance to greet our honourable guest.

Soon, our guest of honour arrived. After receiving the salute of the scouts, Mr. Paul Chow was warmly received by our Principal, Rev. Brother Francis and they had their refreshment in the G.P. Room. At 6:00 pm, our guest of honour, together with Brother Francis and teachers, entered the School Auditorium.

The ceremony started with the Orchestra’s String Sonata No.2 by Rossini, which was conducted by Mr. Alex Kwok. Then it was followed by 3 songs from the Junior School Choir, which were conducted by Miss Sita Ho. Both performances won loud applause from the audience.

Brother Francis then delivered the School Annual Report. According to the Principal, young people are to be cared for in such a way that their physical, moral, and intellectual talents may be well-developed. Also, since 1994 has been declared the International Year Of The Family, the Principal, in his speech, emphasized the importance of family life. He kept reminding us that that no amount of extra money may substitute the quality of time that parents and children can spend together. Moreover, he highlighted the outstanding results which LaSallians had achieved in both academic and sporting fields. He encouraged students to keep striving for a better future.

The Annual Report was followed by the distribution of certificates and prizes by our honourable guest to students who had achieved outstanding results in public examinations.

The ceremony reached the climax when our Guest of Honour, Mr. Paul Chow, delivered his speech to the gathering. He analyzed the critical factors which have contributed to Hong Kong’s success as a financial centre. He then take the opportunity to urge us on improving our English skills. He also shared with us his thoughts on Hong Kong’s future as a financial centre. He was optimistic and agreed that H.K. was blessed with the potential to become an international financial centre.

Lastly, he advised us to treasure the education that we have received and take every opportunity for further study.

Lastly, the President of the Student Association, Vincent Chow, gave thanks to the guest of honour and all those who had attended the ceremony.

The singing of the School Song marked the end of the Speech Day. The memorable occasion would surely be remembered by many for years.
Rev. Brother Francis
The Principal

Our Guest of Honour Mr. Paul Chow, Distinguished Guests, Parents, Old Boys, Teachers, Friends and Students.

It gives me great pleasure to welcome you all here this evening to our Annual Speech Day and Prize-giving Ceremony.

This evening I am particularly happy to welcome our Guest of Honour, Mr. Paul Chow. I was prompted to prevail on Mr. Paul Chow a brilliant scholar himself to grace this occasion by presenting the rewards to this year’s graduates.

Mr. Paul Chow is an Old Boy of La Salle College. He is a B.Sc. Engineering and a M.B.A. graduate from the University of Hong Kong. He started his working career with I.B.M. Hong Kong as a system engineer. He then worked for a period of 16 years with Sun Hung Kai & Co. Ltd., a prominent group of companies in Hong Kong with diversified interests including finance, banking, securities and property; his last position being an executive director and chief administrator and financial officer. On leaving the Sun Hung Kai Group in 1988 he lectured and did research on finance at the Chinese University of Hong Kong until he joined the Stock Exchange as its Director of Operations in 1989. Overseeing the Exchange’s trading settlement and technology operation, he was appointed as Chief Executive of Hong Kong Securities Clearing Company in 1990 and subsequently as Chief Executive of the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong in 1991.

He is currently the Director of the Board of Hong Kong Securities and a member of the Council of the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong.

I am very happy to have him here today to be enlightened by him and by his example.

It is my pleasure this evening to report to you on the progress of La Salle College over the last year. We have every cause to be pleased with what has been achieved and every reason to look forward with eagerness to the challenges which lie ahead of us.

Allow me first of all to share with you a few ideas on Christian Education. Christian Education must pay regard to the formation of the whole person so that all may attain their Eternal Destiny and at the same time promote the common good of society. Young People are therefore to be cared for in such a way that their Physical, Moral and Intellectual talents may be developed in a harmonious way so that they may attain a greater sense of responsibility and a right use of freedom and be formed to take an active part in social life. This statement stresses Four Elements. First-Holistic - It seeks the integral formation of the whole person and concerns itself with the development of the Physical, Moral and Intellectual endowments. Second-Developmental - Conscious of the changes and growth young people are experiencing it fosters a sense of gradual formation - an evolution of talents and a heightened sense of responsibility and use of freedom.
Third - Social - Far from an individualistic or selfcentered orientation it aims at the common good of society and it insists on a refined sense of responsibility and a right use of freedom for active participation in the life of the human society. Fourth - Personal - It strives for the formation of the human person - fully endowed with freedom and responsibility and directed towards the person’s final destiny - life in God’s Kingdom.

Much has been written at the present time about the family as 1994 has been declared the International Year of the Family. The theme for this year’s Education Sunday set by the Education Department was “The Family and Education”. It is wonderful that such concentrated attention is being given to the most important social unit in any society. However no amount of beautiful words and well presented ideas will substitute for the quality time that parents and children can spend together.

Hong Kong is a busy city. In such an environment it is easy for the family to neglect finding time to spend with each other. As a result many children now reflect an independence, a loneliness and a sense of isolation, which leads them sometimes to behave in unpredictable ways to attract attention. Can we blame them?

All of us need to feel that as persons we are important and worthwhile. Our children also need to feel this in their own way. Who then can better provide it than their mother and father? An unhappy, lonely and sad child cannot study properly or grow properly as a person .... and no amount of extra money or overseas holidays can substitute for this.

Parents need to reflect on the amount of time you spend with your child, that is, the amount of time, not the amount of dollars you spend. Dollars do not equate with love for most young people. Giving time says that I am interested in you, I care for you, I love you. Nowadays our young people need the love of their father and their mother .... not their money. Dollars can never be equated with the genuine and active love that can exist between members of a family - and that cannot be bought.

As the year of the family is now fast drawing to an end - let us resolve to ensure that if we need we will work so that our family is better at the end of the year than at the start because of the small things we have tried to do with one another during this year of the family.

Then our children will be happier, will study better and will be better citizens because of this.

To commemorate the Year of the Family we have decided to form a Parent - Teachers Association in order to formalize what we have been doing over the past Four years.

The aim of this association is to promote close liaison between school and home as well as to foster friendly relations between Parents and Teachers and among parents themselves and to discuss matters of mutual concern in a common effort to improve the welfare of the students.

We are also in the process of enlarging our Management Board and we have introduced Budgeting for the various subjects in line with the School Management Initiative.

Further improvements introduced over the past year are an upgrading of our Telephone System. We have also computerized our Library and have introduced an Educational Network System in conjunction with the Chinese University.

We have also established a Heritage Centre at La Salle College in order to let our Teachers and Students know more about our Founder, St. John Baptist De La Salle, Patron Saint of all Teachers and to familiarize them with the History of the La Salle Congregation as well as the History and Traditions of La Salle College.

This year we also hope to construct a Second Tennis Court and get the Original Tennis Court resurfaced.

Our Foundation Committee have agreed to remark both our Track and Field and to do major repairs on our Swimming Pool.

For this we are very grateful to our Foundation Commit-Academically last year has been very successful. Although we lost many of our Form 6 students at the end of Form 6 to overseas universities, in the Hong Kong Advanced Level Examination our pass rate was 88%. Twenty of our students were admitted into the Hong Kong University. Ten were admitted into the Chinese University of Hong Kong and Ten were admitted into the University of Science and Technology. Five were admitted into the Polytechnical Institute. The rest were admitted into Universities in United Kingdom, United States, Canada and Australia. Two students are still undecided on what to do.

In the Hong Kong Certificate of Education our boys did very well. Our overall Pass Rate was 88%. We had again some students who did extremely well. One boy, Po Tak Chi, scored 10 As. One boy scored 9 As and a Credit. Two boys scored 8 As. Four boys scored 7 As. Additional Maths. had a Pass Rate of 97%; Ordinary Maths. 91%; Biology 98%; Chemistry 97%; Physics 98%; English 99%; Economics 83%; Commerce 100%; Principles of Accounts 100%; French 82%; Chinese Language 85%; Chinese History 60%; Chinese Literature 67%; Computer Studies 71%; Geography 66%; History 78%; Music 67%; Art 100%; Religious Studies 73%.

So you can see from this we have no trouble in filling our Form 6 classes. In fact we started off the year with 41 boys in 6A and 38 boys in 6B and 6C. We do our best to try to accommodate as many of our own students as possible.

One boy, Cheng Ka Ming, was voted Student Musician of the Year in Hong Kong.

La Salle Boys are well known for getting involved in activities which help others and which at the same time help them to develop their own potentials as fully as possible.

Our Catholic boys are active in the Legion of Mary Groups, in the Catholic Society and in the Young Christian Movement and in many charitable works such as the Caritas Bazaar and in the many Flag Days which support charity.

Christian convictions must be the driving force that empowers Lasallians to be leaders in our society.

La Salle College has always been very active in Sports. We aim at providing a proper balance between the academic side of school with its pressures on the students and the need to cater for recreation and personality development.

This year La Salle won the Omega Rose Bowl for the Eighteenth Time. This award signifies Supremacy in all sports. One of our students, Kevin Liu, was elected Omega Sports Star of the Year.

Jackie Lee reached the Quarter Finals of the World Junior Men’s Open Championship in Squash. Since then he has won many other awards. Vincent Cheung won the U16 Malaysian Junior Squash Open Circuit Championship.

In Inter School Competitions Division One:

In Athletics: A Grade we were Second; B Grade Champions; C Grade Champions; and we were Overall Champions. In Football: A Grade 3rd; B Grade 3rd; C Grade 2nd. We were Overall Champions.

helped to coach our boys.

Before I end I would like to thank our Old Boys' Association represented on stage this evening by their President, Mr. Joseph Lee. They sponsor many of the prizes for this evening's event. I would also like to thank Rev. Fr. Gabriel Lam for providing us with a school chaplain. The Supervisor, Principals and Teachers of La Salle Primary for a job well done as we get 2/3 of our Form 1 students from them. I am more than satisfied both with their Quantity and their Quality. My Managers and my Deputy Principals for their help and advice.

I would also like to thank our Senior Education Officer, Mr. Andrew Poon and our District Education Officer, Mr. Ho and his assistant Mr. Yeung for all their help and advice over the year. My Teaching Staff for their untiring hard work both in the classroom and in Extra Curricular activities throughout the year. Our Teacher Representatives for this year, Miss Loong and Mr. Paul Ip. Last but not least my office staff. Our choir, our scouts and our student association and all those teachers who contributed in any way to make this occasion a success.

Thank you and may God bless you all.
Mr. Paul Chow
The Guest of Honour

Dear Reverend Brother Francis, Distinguished Guests, Teachers and Students of La Salle College, Ladies and Gentlemen,

As an old boy of La Salle who spent ten years of his youth here, it is indeed a great honour and pleasure to be given this opportunity to address you today.

INTRODUCTION

Today's graduation ceremony marks the end of your secondary school education. Some of you are now starting your first job, others are going on to further studies. Perhaps you are wondering what job or career has the best long term prospects, given the major changes that are taking place in Hong Kong right now.

I would like to tell you about Hong Kong as a financial centre. I believe that the prospects for Hong Kong as a financial centre are very bright, particularly in view of the rapid economic development in China. To realise that bright prospect, Hong Kong will need well-educated men and women. Many of you, I am sure, will make a vital contribution in future years to Hong Kong's growth as a financial centre.

I will begin by describing Hong Kong's financial centre as it is today. Then I will identify what I think are the critical factors for its success. Finally, I will say how I think this success will continue.

HONG KONG AS A FINANCIAL CENTRE

Let me start with the highlights of Hong Kong's financial markets.

Hong Kong is a regional and international banking centre. In terms of number of foreign banks Hong Kong is third among the world's financial centres: some 147 overseas-incorporated banks have branches here, and there are a further 32 local banks. In terms of the volume of external transactions Hong Kong is the world's fourth largest banking centre.

The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong is currently the seventh largest territorial market by capitalisation in the world and the second largest in Asia. Hong Kong is the world's sixth largest foreign exchange market, with estimated daily turnover of US$61 billion.

Hong Kong is a fund management centre, the major off-shore fund management centre in Asia.

Hong Kong's gold market is thought to be the world's fourth largest.

There is a developing market in fixed interest securities.

In addition, a full range of international-standard financial services, including insurance, leasing, investment and pensions, is available in Hong Kong.

2 SUCCESS FACTORS

This is an impressive record of achievement. What has made Hong Kong so successful as a financial centre?

To understand Hong Kong's success, one has to look at how it began. Hong Kong began its life as a separate territory as an entrepot, a trading port. Trade was the rationale for Hong Kong's existence in its early years - trade with China and trade within the region. As this trade grew larger and more complex, it had to be financed, and a local banking system developed. Just as in earlier times
London had developed into the world's leading financial centre on the back of its trade, so Hong Kong's financial sector developed to support its trading role.

There are no doubt many factors that are critical to Hong Kong's success as a financial centre. I would like to emphasise four factors today: the rule of law, the use of English, professional expertise, and openness.

* First of all, Hong Kong enjoys a secure legal system and operates under the rule of law. This legal system in its clarity and reliability is probably unmatched in Asia. This is especially important for a financial centre. Investors will be reluctant to put up money into a venture without a clear understanding of their rights, and the knowledge that those rights can be enforced. In day-to-day dealing, financial market practitioners have to trust one another. Trust is easier if the legal rights and obligations of the parties are clear.

The rule of law is partly a matter of sound laws and regulations, and of impartial courts where they can be enforced. However, individual attitudes are also important, for without the collective support of the individuals in society, the laws are only so much paper. Personal honesty, trust and integrity are essential for the rule of law, and for the long-term success of Hong Kong as a financial centre. Corruption has been a problem in Hong Kong, and with the strains of integration with China, it may become more of a problem.

I expect that during your working lives many of you will at some point find yourselves in a difficult position, under pressure, and perhaps be unsure what you should do. In these situations I think a remark made by the American writer Mark Twain is helpful. When in doubt, Twain said, "Always try to do right. This will gratify some people and astonish the rest." Dear graduates of La Salle, I encourage that you should always strive to be honest and trustworthy in your years ahead.

* The second fact for success as an international financial centre is the use of English. English is the most widely used business language in the world, and this is especially true in finance. To communicate with clients overseas, and to prepare documentation accessible to the widest range of clients, it is essential to use English.

As a British colony Hong Kong has had an advantage over many other Asian countries in that, like it or not, English is an official language and we are forced to learn it. Unfortunately, in recent years, the English skills of younger people have declined and many students have less incentive to learn English. I urge you to try to improve your English skills. It will stand you in good stead for the future.

As we approach closer to 1997, I think that it will be equally important for you to improve your Putonghua and written Chinese in order to do business in China.

* The third success factor is professional services. Accounting, legal, and other professional services are needed to negotiate and document complex financial transactions. In its early days, Hong Kong was able to draw upon professionals from Britain and other nations; more recently it has developed its own professional institutes of a high standard. Perhaps some of you will become lawyers or accountants. For others who are considering a career in finance and commerce I recommend that you take at least some courses in accounting and law. Accounting, in particular, is the language of finance.

* The final factor is Hong Kong's openness. In its early days as an entrepot, Hong Kong was open to the free flow of goods from many countries. However, it was also open to the free flow of people, and of capital. This is a critical advantage Hong Kong has over other Asian countries.

Most of our regional competitors restrict capital movements and, especially, the ability of overseas professionals and financial market practitioners to do business. By remaining open, Hong Kong is able to draw in the resources it needs quickly and continue to develop its role as an international financial centre for China.

3 PROSPECTS FOR THE FUTURE

In conclusion, I would like to share with you some thoughts on Hong Kong's future as a financial centre.

The region, especially China, will have a vast need for capital. While some of this capital may be raised from domestic sources, much will have to come from investors in the developed countries. Hong Kong is well placed to intermediate between these investors and the investment.
projects in China and the region. So I think there is great potential for Hong Kong as an international financial centre.

Some people ask me whether Shanghai will threaten Hong Kong’s financial role. As I see it, if Shanghai develops as a financial centre, it will be complementary to Hong Kong. China’s capital needs are so great that there will be more than enough for both cities to do. As Sir Q.W. Lee, the former Chairman of our Stock Exchange said "Hong Kong and Shanghai are the two growing eyes of the China dragon".

Will the change of sovereignty in 1997 affect the factors that are critical to Hong Kong’s success as a financial centre, such as the rule of law? The answer to this depends partly upon you. It will be up to you and all of us within the Hong Kong community to maintain standards and act lawfully through the changes that will take place.

However, the rule of law has developed in Hong Kong over many years, and I think it is well-established and strong.

If I may leave you with one message, it is this. Treasure the education you have received, and take every opportunity for further study. In the financial markets as well as every other area of life in Hong Kong, the pace of change is increasing. Those with a good education will be able to adapt to change and make the most of the opportunities that will surely arise.

Dear graduates of La Salle, as our school song says “La Salle is something more”, I am confident that with the sound and all-round education that you have received at La Salle you will be fully-equipped to contribute to the future success of Hong Kong now and into the 21st Century.

Ladies and Gentlemen, thank you for your kind attention.

Interview with Mr. Michael Hui

Mr. Michael Hui, a prominent old boy of La Salle devoting most of his time to art performance and promoting artistes' welfare, now holds many important offices in this field such as the President of the Hong Kong Artistes Guild, Vice-President of the Hong Kong Motion Picture Association and Consultant of the Hong Kong Screen Play Guild.

Mr. Hui joined the family of La Salle when he was in primary five. Having matriculated in 1964, he went for post-secondary training and became a registered teacher in St. Francis Xavier College. After gaining some money from his career, he started his tertiary education in the CU majoring sociology.

When he was in his third year of his college life, Mr. Hui joined TVB as a master of ceremony of the inter-school general knowledge quiz and held some serious intellectual interviews. Through these, he built up relationship with some comedy producers. Under the advice from those producers Mr. Hui made up a show called "The Twin Stars", which has been accepted as a total success, with his brother Mr. Sam Hui. After several years he started to produce films by himself. He especially enjoyed his position as a producer because this can satisfy his desire to express himself and present the world as he saw view to the public.

During the past 14 years, Mr. Hui reduced his output because he has been engrossing himself in the journey of bringing new types of films to Hong Kong. 'We should make breakthroughs all the time and I don't want all my films to be of the same style,' he said.

About his school days, Mr. Hui's main interest was in soccer. He was a member of the school soccer team. His other interests include holding dance, party and playing guitar. He also devoted much time in religious activities serving as an altar boy.

When asked about which teacher(s) had impressed him most, Mr. Hui gave us two names, Mr. Yuen and Mr. Chan. Mr. Yuen was his Chinese teacher, but in addition to disseminating academic knowledge, he taught him a lot about how one should deal with life. Mr. Chan, a Biology teacher, ones. We should strive hard for what we wanted. Also, Mr. Hui believes that an advantage of being a Lasallian was that he would have a feeling of superiority. The sources of this feeling were the elaborate campus and the outstanding quality of teachers. This feeling gives Lasallians much confidence and this would help us perform better when we first step out of our school in the real world which might seem unacquainted to us.

Finally, Mr. Hui gave us some advice deriving from his own philosophy. He stressed that we should facilitate Lasallians' unique 'courage and daring' in a correct manner. This could be done by having a good training and thorough researches. Combining all these would be a well calculated bravery which would help us in a big way when we face keen competitions ahead. Just as Mr. Hui said, 'We will never know how the future will be, so just move on with what you have planned and see what will happen.'
Mr. Roger Wong, like many La Salle Old boys, is involved in the commercial field. Moreover, he has always been interested in law and thus he is now a lawyer who deals mainly with business documents. Mr. Wong entered the University of Hong Kong after matriculation in 1977 and worked as a lawyer till now.

Mr. Wong entered La Salle in Primary one and spent 13 whole years studying in La Salle. This makes him a ‘100%’ LaSallian. When asked about his choice of La Salle, he simply told us that it was his father’s first choice. Also, he lived very near to La Salle at that time and it would be convenient to go to school.

When talking about his days in La Salle, he told us his unforgettable memories. He was one of the Old boys who had the chance to attend classes in both the old and new school building. During holidays, Mr. Wong and fellow classmates loved to come back to school and play football; when examination was about to come, they would also study together at the School Library. ‘At that time, we loved coming back to school, no matter playing or studying. We had a strong faith in La Salle and enjoyed the school life.’

Mr. Wong had helped a lot in the work of the old Prefects Board. At Form 6, he was also the president of the Interact Club. He organized a lot of activities like service projects, book stores and bazaars, etc. and was a very hard-working student. But he deeply understood that studying was just a small fragment in life and thus became actively involved in a variety of sports events like football, basketball, volleyball, badminton and hockey, etc. and became school representatives of these events. But his favourite was still football. His strong belief and interest in football had been rewarded when he was made captain of the football team in the primary school. ‘Through sports, I made friends with many schoolmates, no matter they are good or bad. I learnt a lot from them no matter on the academic field or on the sports field. Because of the large number of friends I had made, sometimes I felt like being protected.’

Then we changed topic and asked him about the most impressive teacher in his mind. ‘Mr. Cheung Ting Por is definitely my answer. At that time, I spent much time on practising football and track events, and Mr. Cheung was in charge of them. He was a very strict coach and expected very good results. He was not happy if we could not reach the standard, but we all knew clearly that was because he was such a responsible person that he felt like that. His enthusiasm on sports really impressed me,’ said Mr. Wong. ‘Now, we are still very good friends and sometimes we will go out with other Old boys to have dinner together.’

One of the most memorable events in Mr. Wong’s mind was an inter-school hockey match between our school and the Queen Elizabeth School. ‘I was in Form 5 at that time. Before the match we knew we have to score six in order to become champions. Although QES was very strong and we did not stand a very good chance to win, all our teammates did their best and finally we won by 13 to nil. We were just too happy because we had never thought of winning the game.’
'La Salle is something more,' is one of the sentences in our School Song. But what does this mean? According to Mr. Wong, La Salle's 'something more' is about its campus and facilities. The magnificent old building and the new modernistic campus can never be found elsewhere. Moreover, the number of clubs available for students also exceeds that of other schools. It is through the running of these clubs that gives students invaluable experiences which can never be learnt from books and thus helps students balance their growth and become well-equipped for their future. Another unique aspect is the La Salle Spirit. 'I join the old boys committee a few years ago and was very happy to see the spirit is very well-kept.' For more than 10 consecutive years, Mr. Wong has been attending the interschool athletics finals in order to support our school team. 'Just a day before the final of this year, I felt very sick in my office. The first thing I thought about was whether or not I could go to Wan Chai the next day,' smiled Mr. Wong. 'I took a sick leave at 3:00 p.m. and went back home to take a sleep. When I woke up next morning and found out that I was perfectly okay, I thought I was the most lucky person in the world. In fact, I arrived at the stadium at 8:00 a.m. and was even earlier than Mr. Cheung.' Through this incidence we can find La Salle Spirit on Mr. Wong - It is a spirit of care and love to the school.

Last but not least, Mr. Wong gave us some precious advice. 'No matter what you do, make your best effort and do it wholeheartedly. Try to grasp every opportunity and take part in more activities to enrich your life.' Finally, he hoped that more old boys will join the Old Boys Association and participate in its functions so as to maintain contact with the school.
Interview with Mr. Toby Leung

The following is an interview with Mr. Toby Leung, an old boy, who is now a marketing manager in a well-known wine company.

Toby joined La Salle College in Form 3, and witnessed both the old campus and the current one. 'It was strange to go to school one day and find that the school campus was entirely changed. Many of us witnessed the demolition of the dome in the old school campus. It was heart-breaking.' When asked whether he would prefer the old or the new campus, he said, 'I still miss the layout of the old campus with its various bypaths and I also miss the school barbecues.'

Toby was an active student in La Salle. He was a working member of the Interact Club, served as a member of the discipline board and was a committee member of the Athletic Club. He was also a founding member of the Drama and Film Society. Moreover, Toby was active in sports, being a member of the school soccer team and the hockey team. He represented La Salle in the 400M hurdles, 110M hurdles and 100M relay in the Inter-School Athletics Championships. Toby said that his inspiration in sports came from our current sports-master, Mr. T. P. Cheung and that he would not have achieved such excellent performances without Mr. Cheung's help.

Toby believes that the spirit behind every Lasallian is the motivation which keeps them striving for success, and it is this spirit that makes La Salle something more. 'It is a spirit of unity, and this unity will not be hindered by the disparity between ages and classes. This is the reason why we the old boys do not feel any generation gap when we get together, even though we may come from different generations,' he told us.

Being a marketing manager, Toby's profession makes him value what La Salle has given him in terms of inter-personal skills. 'La Salle has given me confidence and I feel proud every time I mention that I am a La Salle graduate. I also believe that every Lasallian will be proud of being one too.'

The interview concluded with Toby pointing out the importance of human relationships. 'We should learn more about how to work and co-operate with others and to understand their point of view. When we do this, it is possible to reach a solution to problems that would be acceptable to all.'
... When the old boys get together,
They will always sing this song."
“Boys of courage, boys of daring, full of manliness and will.”

Under the committee members' zealous support, all the class photos are extraordinary except this one.
The 20th anniversary marks the successful establishment of the Student Association in promoting student welfare and upholding the good name of La Salle for 20 years.

The enthusiastic support of fellow students and the good co-operation among all the hard-working committee and working members, brought the 20th session of the S.A. a fruitful and successful year.

The S.A.(1994-1995) started its work immediately after the Presidential Election and the Annual General Meeting. Before the first large-scale function was held, we realised the necessity of installing some new equipment in the S.A.O. A new photocopier was bought and a telephone was installed in the S.A.O. We found it very convenient to fulfill our duties with the new equipment.

As in the past, numerous large-scale functions were held. This year, they kicked off with the Talent Quest 94. The students showed great enthusiasm in participation and gave outstanding performances shows that La Sallians are all round. On the final day, the contestants tried their best to fight for the champion while the audience showed great interest in listening. Moreover, it was our greatest pleasure to invite one of our esteemed old boys, Mr Philip Chan, together with our respective teachers to be our adjudicators. Furthermore, in order to provide more entertainment for the students, an artiste performance was included. A promising young artiste, Miss Shirley Cheung, was invited to perform for us. Guest schools performance was also an important part of the Talent Quest and the show ended successfully.

To the Form 1 students, secondary school life is a new experience. They are new comers and everything would seemed strange to them. In order to help them adapt to the new life, a Form 1 Orientation Talk was held. We explained to the students the structure of the S.A. and told them the different duties of each board in detail and also the goal of the S.A. Special thanks should be given to our social worker, Mr Ngan, our discipline master, Mr Ng Siu Wing, for giving the first formers invaluable advice in adapting to the new life.

Christmas is a festival which we should celebrate. For this reason, we organised two functions: the Christmas Gathering and the Annual Christmas Ball. These two functions were tailor-made for the junior and senior students respectively. The Christmas Gathering was held on the morning of 21st December, 1994. A football match between the staff team and the Form 7 united team was organised. Stall games were set up on the basketball court and a variety show was held at the School Auditorium. The junior students enjoyed the morning session while the senior students waited until the evening for their turn — The Annual Christmas Ball, which was held in the School Auditorium on the evening of the same day.

In order to commemorate the 20th anniversary, we organised many functions and they covered all the programmes in the Student Fortnight. The celebrating programs started on 25th February with a concert. A lot of preparations went into that. Beautiful tickets, well-designed posters, a long banner and an exhibition board were used to promote the concert. Famous artists were invited to perform. We had Audy Hui, Edmund Leung, Charlie Yeung, Linda Wong, Gig Lei, Karen Tong, Tai Yan Ling, Ricky Fan and Shirley Cheung to sing a few songs for us and also two DJs, Judy and Sammy, one of our previous D.B. chairmen, to be our Masters of Ceremony. Special thanks should be given to the teacher advisors and our devoted old boy, Mr Wilfred Ng for their invaluable advice. Without their assistance, the concert could not have had such a joyful and successful ending. Other functions such as book exhibition, model exhibition, S.A. quiz and tug-of-war were held within this program.

Now we come to the climax of this program — the Finals of the Inter-school Athletics Meet. La Sallians had another chance to in spirit. The S. A. printed stickers, made banners, led the cheering and also provided transportation for the junior students. Though we could not capture the championship, both the students and the old boys showed their ardent support by their presence and cheering and our athletes efforts were commendable.

Rounding off the year’s activities was the Summer Program. This year, we tried to organise the program with a new approach by joining more than one school. We hope that through their participation, the students could enrich their social life and make friends with students from other schools.

The S.A. could not have run so smoothly without the support of the students and the assistance of our Supervisor and the teacher advisors. I hereby would like to extend my most sincere gratitude to our Principal, Rev. Bro. Francis for granting us much freedom to run the S.A. this year. Special thanks should be given to Mr Peter Chiu, Mr Yik Kwan, Mr Joseph Chung and Miss Becky Lam for their help and invaluable advice for all the programmes held by the S.A.

The Clubs Coordinating Board, as its name implies, serves as the supervisor of all clubs to ensure their smooth running. Under the guidance of the teacher advisors and the dedication of the committee and working members, the Board enjoyed a flourishing year.

The recruitment of working members started in October. 26 qualified applicants were accepted. They, together with 10 competent committee members, oversaw the routines and assisted the 45 clubs in our school in various ways.

The Talent Quest 94 was launched in November. Many participants were noted for their outstanding musical skills and captivating stage presence. The finals of the Talent Quest were held on 2nd December. Apart from the singing section, we had performances of our teachers and representatives from our guest schools. Also, we had invited Miss Shirley Cheung to be our artist performer and Mr. Philip Chan to be our adjudicator. The tremendous applause from the audience spoke for the success of this function.

Another colourful event was the Christmas Gathering on 21st December. The Christmas Concert was held in the School Auditorium. There were dramas, lucky draw, a quiz and performances by the winners of the Talent Quest. The teacher-versus-student football match was held to strengthen their mutual relationship. The Christmas Stall games came immediately after the Concert and 12 stores were set up by different clubs.

In April, we began the nomination of new chairmen for various clubs for the next academic year. Moreover, we helped to promote social work and also gave a helping hand in several functions such as the Christmas Ball and the S.A. 20th Anniversary Celebrating Concert.

May I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to our teacher advisors, Mr. Peter Chiu, Mr. Joseph Chung, Miss Becky Lam and Miss Alice Sitt for their invaluable advice and zealous support, and to all committee members and working members who had devoted themselves to contributing and serving the Board throughout the year.

The main aim of the Class Representatives’ Board is to bridge the gap between students and the Student Association. After the Presidential Election, the committee was confirmed and the Board began functioning.

The Annual General Meeting was held in October. During the meeting, the duties and responsibilities were expounded. A form representative was elected from each form, whose job is to coordinate the work of other class representatives of his form.

The first project of the Board was the subscription of newspapers. Unlike previous years, we subscribed a fourth newspaper (Sing Tao Daily Post), so as to provide students a wider range of selection. The project was very popular among the students and it proved to be very successful. This was followed by the renewal of students’ Identity Vouchers and the Form One Orientation Talk. The talk was aimed at introducing the structure of the Student Association and the new school lifestyle. Our Discipline Master, Mr. Ng Siu Wing, the school social worker, Mr. Ngan, and the EXCO members all took up important tasks in this talk. The talk was very successful, and we are indebted to the generous help from Mr. Ng and Mr. Ngan.

The Board also launched two production projects during the year. They included the mass-ordering of sweaters and shoulder bags. Furthermore, the Board also gave help in the Christmas Ball organized by the Student Association and all the participants had an enjoyable night.

The routine job of a class representative is by no means an easy task. They have to collect and distribute the newspapers every morning, inform students about school affairs and collect money for various products. Most of the class representatives performed very well and they helped the Board to have a very successful year.

Finally, I must express my greatest gratitude to our teacher advisors, Mr. Fong Chi Yeung and Miss Grace Wu, for their invaluable advice and help throughout the year, and other committee members who have devoted their time and energy to ensure the smooth functioning of the Board.

The Discipline Board is a popular choice for those who want to work for the Student Association as its works are full of challenges. Its existence is extremely important, as its affairs are to maintain the discipline and to protect the preeminent renown of La Salle.

All D.B. members have to pledge full commitment to the Board. Although routine duties were reduced from four to three weekly this year, the work was still demanding so there was no room for idleness. Many had to sacrifice much of their leisure time to help the school maintain discipline at the tuck shop, canteen and all the corridors; to help students look for their teachers at the staff room, and to patrol outside the campus during lunch-breaks. Furthermore, maintaining discipline during assembly was their daily stint.

In addition, it was also their consignment to maintain discipline at various school functions, such as Speech Day, Sports Day, Talent Quest, Christmas Gathering, Christmas Ball, Parents' Day, and the two commemorative functions, the S.A. 20th Anniversary Celebrating Concert and the Funfair.

Customarily, those who are caught breaking the school regulations will be brought to the S.A.O. and have their names recorded. Emphasis was put on the senior students this year and members were very diligent so that more than 700 cases were reported, including some serious cases, which were forwarded to the Discipline Committee.

Besides our own members, class prefects from Form 1 to Form 5 also assisted much in patrolling around the corridors during break-times.

Let me take this opportunity to express my sincere gratitude to the Discipline Committee, the committee members, the working members, and the class prefects for their fervour and allegiance to the Board.

The Secretariat

The Secretariat is considered as one of the most demanding divisions of the Student Association. Despite the heavy workload we have each year, we have to maintain a high standard in every aspect of our work. With the unfailing support of the teacher advisors and the auspices of the members, the Secretariat enjoyed a successful year.

In early October, eleven experienced and top-notched committee members were appointed immediately after the Presidential Election. Twenty-six applicants who were chosen to be the working members, were divided into the Operation Group and the Publicity Group according to their will and disposition. The Secretariat 1994-1995 was then inaugurated. As 1995 marked the 20th Anniversary of the S.A., various programs were launched to commemorate such a big occasion. The Operation Group members were busy with external correspondence with other schools, and plans and promotion of various products to be issued. They were also responsible for the discipline in the S.A.O. The boundless energy they had and their commitment to perfection did play a vital role in the smooth running of the Secretariat this year. On the other hand, being endowed by nature with great talents in design, the Publicity Group members designed a number of commemorative souvenirs for students to treasure. Diary, keyholder, stationery and T-shirt etc., were all of high quality and reasonably priced. The Publicity Group members also devoted themselves to the board by making banners and decorating the school hall for different major school functions such as the Speech Day, the Talent Quest, the Christmas Ball, the S.A. 20th Anniversary Celebrating Concert, etc.

I would also like to take this opportunity to express my heartfelt gratitude to our teacher advisors, Mrs. Eva Kwok and Mr. Peter Lee, for their steadfast guidance and constant help throughout the year. My sincere thanks must also go to all of my committee and working members for their quiet dedication and selfless devotion to the Secretariat.

It was their hard work that led the Secretariat into another auspicious year. Thank you all.

The Publication Board achieved a breakthrough this year under the guidance of our teacher advisors and the dedication of the committee and working members. Shortly after the Presidential Election, we started recruiting members. Besides interviews, the applicants had to sit for an essay-writing test so as to have writing skills fully assessed. Finally, twenty-six candidates were selected to be the working members of the Board.

Shortly after I had formed the whole committee, the ordering of the past HKCEE and HKALE papers started in October. By doing so, we hoped that our schoolmates could have an easy access to past papers. The response was exceedingly encouraging. Although the workload concerning ordering, handling and distributing was highly laborious, we felt rewarded when our schoolmates found them very useful and helpful.

As usual, we then started the preparation work of our long-lived 'The Lasallian'. It has been twenty-five years since 'The Lasallian' vol.1 no.1 saw the light of print. I am proud to say that this issue, vol.25 no.1, was indeed a successful one and the sales hit the highest record in recent years.

We organised a book exhibition in the Gymnasium Gallery on 20th and 21st March, 1995. There were various kinds of books sold at discounted prices and we hope that through this event, students could cultivate their interest in reading leisure books.

Our breakthrough was in the publication of 'La Salle Express'. It contains a brief report on the operation of the Student Association, news and activities of various clubs and societies as well as some joint-school functions. Our fellow schoolmates can obtain more information about activities in the school and this has aroused their interests in these activities.

Another big event which hit the Board was the replacement of the old photocopier. Thanks to the sound financial situation of the Student Association, we managed to upgrade the machine without any subsidy. The new photocopier had greatly enhanced the Association’s efficiency and proved itself a worthy investment.

In conclusion, the Board has gone through a fruitful academic year and we owe this success to our teacher advisors Mr. Wong Yen Kit and Miss Catherine Lam who have bestowed us precious help and guided us all the way through. I would also like to express my heartfelt gratitude to my committee and working members for every effort devoted to the Board throughout the year.

Financial Committee

The main objective of setting up the Financial Committee is to monitor and deal with all financial matters of the Student Association.

In order to achieve this aim, Miss Winnie Chow, Mr. Peter Lee and Mr. Yik Kwan were invited to be our teacher advisors. The Financial Committee consists of the chairmen and treasurers from the Clubs Coordinating Board, the Class Representatives' Board, the Publications Board and the Secretariat. All Boards have one treasurer except for the Secretariat. Because there are tremendous monetary transactions on the sales of different S.A. products, there are two treasurers on the Secretariat in order to share the workload. However, there is no treasurer in the Discipline Board as no monetary transaction occurs here.

As our job is to deal with financial matters, we must be very careful because a single mistake may have disastrous effect on the S.A. So, committee members are all nominated for their honesty and their ability to handle financial matters. Therefore, we are all proud to be the members of the Financial Committee because it proves that we are the best of the best.

Soon after the Presidential Election, the 'Budget' for the Student Association was made. The aim of it was to minimize the possibility of incurring a loss in this school year and to help us in allocating resources. Though we encountered many challenges in running the S.A., there was no financial difficulty throughout the school year.

Since the Student Association is a non-profit making organization, we have to raise money in order to cover the overhead expenses of the S.A. Therefore, we organized several functions for this purpose, for example, the Christmas Ball and the S.A. 20th Anniversary Celebrating Concert. These functions involved heavy monetary transactions. Although it produced extra workload on our committee, the pressure on us gave us power to strive for perfection. We took great pride in our achievement as we made absolutely no mistake in dealing with the monetary transactions in these functions.

Last but not least, I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude to our teacher advisors, Miss Winnie Chow, Mr. Peter Lee and Mr. Yik Kwan, for their invaluable advice and guidance. Also, I would like to thank our committee members for their selfless devotion to the Financial Committee.

ince 1985, the establishment of Catholic Society has served been a religious group which aims at promoting religious activities in La Salle. Its main aim is to unify and to foster the spiritual life of Catholic students in the school. Besides, the activities also help to spread the Gospel to non-Catholic boys and thus provide more chances for both of them to know more about the words of God.

This year it has experienced further growth and prosperity. The committee of the Catholic Society was set up in early September. In order to enhance the efficiency and smooth running of the Catholic Society through this academic year, 3 working groups have been established, namely the Art Group, the Mass Group and the Publicity Group.

The Art Group, led by Leung Sze Chun, Steve (6B) and Lee Chi Hang, Larry (4D) is responsible for design the art work for the society. Such as, the decoration of the Caritas Bazaar and the Drama of Christmas Gathering. Moreover, the group is also in charge of the board exhibition, etc.

The Publicity Group, led by Yip Pui Lam, Patrick (6B) and Lau Wei Yang (4D), is responsible for promoting the society. Also, it promotes various activities organized by religious organizations in Hong Kong. Moreover, the group also in charge of the Drama in the Christmas Gathering. In addition, products were issued and designed by the Publicity Group, etc. We can say that the Publicity Group edge the gap between the society and the schoolmates.

The Mass Group, led by Lam Ching Hing, David (6B) and Leung Hau Chung, Carter (4C). As its name implies is in charge of organizing various religious activities, namely the monthly First Friday Mass, the F.1-7 Retreats and cell discussion, etc.

This year, we have organized wide range of activities ...

1) Promotion talk

In order to promote the Catholic Society to our schoolmates and encourage our junior F.1&2 students to participate in our word During the Talk, a brief introduction of the Catholic Society was given to the schoolmates by the President. The speech was about various activities and services offered by the society. Moreover, the Person-in-charge of each group were introduced their work. Committee member of the last academic shared the experience with our schoolmates. After all the speech, a quiz was organized to give our schoolmates a clear picture of our role in promotion of Catholicism and serving others. After the concluding speech, students were able to raise questions and shared their views. Lastly, applications forms were distributed and the response were encouraging.

2) Badge Confering Ceremony

The Badge Confering Ceremony was held in November in the Small Lecture Theatre. To express our gratitude to the schoolmates who had contributed much to our religion and to the Catholic Society last year by the means of conferring Certificates and Contribution Badges to them. Furthermore, to confer Badges, to the EXCO and the Committee Members of this year as an appreciation to their contribution. A speech was given by Mr. Alex Kwok, Mr. Chan Tong and the President. About 50 members participate in the ceremony.

3) Caritas Bazaar

Prize-giving Ceremony
The Caritas Bazaar was a fund-raising campaign for the Caritas-Hong Kong which was held in early November at Fa Hu Playground. We cooperated with the Interact Club. After two months' hard working, 4 stall games were made and a 'castle' like decoration was made. Besides, by asking for sponsorship and the money collected from the stall. As a result, a total amount of $226815.9 was collected, breaking the record of the preceding years. The Caritas Bazaar ended in triumph this year.

(4) First Friday Mass

The monthly First Friday Mass is held on every first Friday of each month in the School Hall for all Catholic teachers and students. With the help of the members of the Catholic Society by distributing Mass Liturgies, Mass sheets and hymnals, being members of the Mass Choir, altar boys, assistant readers and main readers. Apart from this monthly Mass, a celebrating Mass was held to celebrate La Salle Feast Day. On that day, working members of the Catholic Society brought all the F.1 Catholic boys down to the School Hall for practicing the hymn songs. Overall, the masses were completed successfully in this year.

(5) Christmas Gathering

"Let us rejoice for Jesus' birthday". In December, an interesting and humorous religious drama was presented by our working members in the Christmas Gathering Show. The topic of the drama was 'The Lost Son'. The story was about a boy who was originally good at sports and study but when he faced a family problem, he played with some gangsters and joined the triad society. Later he was convinced by a priest and turned to God, becoming good student again. We were glad that the drama was so much appreciated by the spectators.

(6) Annual Retreat

The F.5 and 7 Retreat was held on 18th January 95, while the F.1 to F.4 and F.6 Retreats were held on mid-March. All the Retreats were held in the Catholic Institute for Religion and Society. As in the past, the Retreat included sermons given by the priest, group discussions, slide show (For F.5 & 7 Retreat only), confession and Holy Mass. Apart from the above programmes mentioned, a new programme was introduced to F.1, F.4 and F.6 Catholic students, it was:

Gospel Sharing

Each of the students were given a work sheet, containing a few passages chosen from the Gospel. After reading the Gospel, students shared and discussed together, led by the priest or the teachers. Moreover, after the sharing and discussions, we talked to God through prayer and sang hymns.

Another new programme was introduced to F.3, F.4 and F.6 Catholic students only, that was:

Poor and Rich Lunch

Students have a special lunch on those days. They were divided into three different group, having different kinds of food. The students belong to the first group had the most delicious food, i.e. lunch boxes and soft drinks. The students belong to the second group had three slices of bread and soft drinks. The rest of them had only two slices of bread and water.

The aim of having this lunch was to give students a chance to know the difference between being a rich man and a poor. After having this lunch, we hoped that students would learn that if they are being a rich man, they should not waste their food as the poor have only bread and water. And for the poor, they should not be unhappy of having only bread and water, as bread and water also food, which is a gift from God. Since the food can give you power and energy, just the same as the rich man's.

(7) Product
Retreat-Group Discussion

We have planned to issue one product this year, that was the 'Christmas Card Set'. Each set consists of five cards with attractive colour and a high quantity design of the majestic Old Building. These products were welcomed by teachers and the students. As a result, '84 sets were ordered and the profits earned were used for preparation of the Religious Fortnight, such as the banna and the gifts.

(8)Charity service

This year we also organized services for our members to participate. Firstly, the walkthon which was organized by the Catholic Institute for Religion and Society. The aim of this walkthon was act as a fund-raising campaign. There were about 30 members participated and knew many friends from other schools in this function.

Moreover, flag selling was held on 13th May 95 and about 10 members participated. Besides, visits will also be held during summer vocation. Such as visit to the orphans and the Blind Centre, etc. We hoped that members who participated in those services would know how to contact or serve different kinds of needy people in our society.

(9)Publication

Handouts and notes concerning the Old and the New Testament were distributed in every Mass.

Moreover, a blue leaflet was published and distributed to all classes of F.1-F.4. The content of the leaflet was to inform the schoolmates on the five different activities which will be held during the Religious Fortnight '95.

In addition, a pamphlet was published in May. This pamphlet consisted of comics, crossword puzzle, news, essays(eg. World Youth Day) and Bible essays, etc. They were welcomed by the schoolmates.

(10)Board Exhibition and Banner

This year, we have made 3 boards with different topics. All the boards were displayed at the main entrance of the school for all students to have a book at. The first Board was to introduce the 'Lenten Period' to our schoolmates. For those Catholic boys, by means of the board's content, it can arouse the awareness on Lenten Sacrifice, while for those...
nan-Catholic boys, they could know more about the aim and history of the Lenten Period.

The second board was made in order to introduce different activities which was held in Religious Fortnight '95. A simple schedule and information was tabulated on the board for those schoolmates to look at.

Then, the third board was made for displaying winners' work in the Comics Competition during the Religious Fortnight '95. Moreover, the content of a board outside the Religious Education Room 114A was charged frequently. It introduced different kinds of functions which were held by other religious organizations for schoolmates who are interested to participate.

The main aim of making these boards was to introduce religious knowledge to our schoolmates. Furthermore, we would promote the society and activities, such as the Religious Fortnight '95 to the students.

Apart by using board exhibition to promote the activities. Different from the post, a 30 foot banner was made to promote the Religious Fortnight '95.

It is one of the reanimate function which has been held in this year. The aims of organizing the Passover Meal were in memory of Moses took his people to get away from Egypt, acrossed the Red Sea to the Promised Land. Apart from this religions aim, we hoped that schoolmates who participated could increase their scope of friendship through this Joint-school function.

This activity was held on 12th April '95 at the School Hall of St. Bonaventure College. The participated schools included La Salle College, Holy Family Canossian College, Ng Wah College, Our Lady College, Our Lady of the Rosary College and St. Bonaventure College. These were almost 140 person to participate in this activity.

Through organizing different activities, we learnt the importance of cooperation and time management. Besides, we also learnt how to face with any kinds of difficulties. In conclusion, the Catholic Society was extremely successful this year. We would like to take this opportunity to thank our Principal, Rev. Patrick and all the teacher advisors, especially Mr Chan Tong. Mr Matthew Wong and Mr Chan Yiu Yeung, for their invaluable advice and guidance throughout this year, as the President. I would also like to appreciate my committee members and my dearers. Their hard working and sacrifices were cherishable.

Finally, we wish the committee of Catholic Society of the next year every success. We pray God to look favourably in our endeavor and bless our efforts so that we will bear fruit.
Legion of Mary

The objective of the Legion of Mary is to sanctify ourselves and others. One of the dearest duties of the Legion is to show whole-hearted devotion to the Mother of God. So each member is asked to associate himself with it by serious meditation and meditative practice. Besides, the basic duties of the legionaries are having regular and punctual attendance at the weekly meetings of the praesidium, the daily recitation by each legionary of the Catena Legiones (chain of the Legion) and performance of the weekly work obligation. The assignments include hospital visitation, helping at the centres for the blind and at various homes for the aged, feeding the mentally retarded, handbook and bible sharing, visiting Senior Praesidium, Church work and the like. Through these assignments, the reign of Christ is advanced by the legionaries.

Recruitment of new members is also an important job of the legion. In September, a Legion Day was held especially for form one Catholics. We introduced the Legion to them through a talk, a video show and discussions on that day. The form one Catholics could join any one of the five Junior Praesidia of our school.

Apart from the weekly meetings and the assignments, both spiritual and recreational functions were held during the year. Every morning, we led the rosary in the school chapel. Furthermore, during Lenten seasons, we have the Way of the Cross which is led, taking turns, by the five praesidia. Through these activities, we continue to introduce the Legion to the Catholics. Besides, football matches, picnics and cycling were organized. The sense of being... longing was then strengthened and the relationship between members was improved.

Every year, each Curia (the higher Council of the Legion) also organizes some functions. These include the Newcomers' Day, which is held especially for the newly recruited members, the Caroling, through which we can express the Good News in songs, the Annual Reunion and the Acies. The Acies was held during March, and it reminded the legionaries of the importance of devotion to Mary in the Legion system. There would be an individual act of consecration, and the words "I am all yours, my Queen, my Mother, and all that I have is yours" totally expressed that we are working in union with and in dependence on Mary, its Queen. During the summer vacation, retreat and life camp was also organized. The retreat was a good opportunity for the legionaries to get even closer to God while the life camp helped to improve the relationships between the praesidia of different schools.

A spiritual leader is the very mainspring of a praesidium and we gain spiritual knowledge from them. We would like to express our gratitude to the spiritual leaders for their guidance and generous support.
...Amen."
Outside the classrooms, here come the La Salle boys...

wenty years ago, the Prefect Board of the school together with the Central Coordinating Board of extra-curricular activities were officially transformed into a unified student body, that was, the La Salle College Association.

This year, in order to commemorate this remarkable event, the Student Association has organized a series of programmes for the student fortnight.

The first climax of the celebrating programmes was brought about by the 20th Anniversary Concert on 25th February. The concert was a successful one and the audience enjoyed it very much.

Besides the celebrating concert, an inter-board basketball competition was organized to promote friendship between the members of each board. After some fierce competition, the team of the Discipline Board beat all other teams to capture the championship.

An inter-house student association quiz was held on 2nd and 6th, March. The quiz increased students' knowledge of the school and the Student Association.

Following these, a book exhibition organized by the Publication Board was held on 20th and 21st, March. A variety of healthy and interesting reading materials including reference books were sold at a discount.

The Funfair Day on 12th March marked another climax of the celebrating programmes. On that day, many old boys came back to their mother school and they reminisced about their old days in the school. At the covered playground on the ground floor, stall games were set up by clubs and societies and they attracted many children.

At about 2:15 p.m., a football match between our 'La Salle College Student Association Team' and the 'Teachers team' began. After a fierce battle, our 'La Salle College Student Association Team' won with a score of two to zero.

15 minutes before the match between the 'Old Boys Team' and the 'All Stars Team', the seats at LG1 had already been filled up by audiences.

The match started at 3:00 p.m. Although the boys had tried their best, the 'All Stars Team' led by Chan Pak Cheung seemed too good to them and finally the old boys were defeated with a score of two to four. As a whole, the funfair day together with the celebrating programmes was a great success.

In the last twenty years, although La Salle College has gone through many changes, the pain-taking efforts dedicated by the Student Association throughout these twenty years allowed the school to harvest remarkable success on every frontier. We all hope that the Student Association will continue to uphold the reputation of our school.

Report on Guidance Centre activities 94-95

This year, the Guidance Centre had a new member, Mr. Jaxon Wang, added to our strong, full-fledged team. We were able to embark on more new projects and thankfully, all led to pleasing results. The first program of the Guidance Centre was an extension of welcome to all newcomers in Form One 1994-1995. The Newcomers’ Day, which was held on 20th August, 1994, successfully drew over 800 parents and pupils to the gathering. More than 20 clubs and societies in our school took part in the board exhibition; giving the new batch of students a glimpse of the various extra-curricular activities offered in school.

In September, our school social worker, Mr. Ngan, visited all Form one to six classes and a video tape was shown introducing the Guidance Centre and the work of the school social worker. The first bridge between the pupils and the school counsellor was built.

The Form Six Orientation Camp took place in Lady MacLehose Pokfulam PHAB centre on 23rd-24th September. Around 50 F.6 boys and 20 old boys who are freshmen from various tertiary institutes participated in the camp. Despite the pouring rain, the boys spent a meaningful evening when they shared their experience on the different faculties in different tertiary institutes as well as their “first taste” of university life. Some dedicated old boys even volunteered to come back to the school a week later to impart more information of their courses to the interested boys.

In October, the recruitment of G.C. student volunteers began. This year, 90% of the volunteers were new members. The Guidance Centre specifically requested all members to undergo a training session before the badge conferring ceremony. Moreover, the “Peer Counselling” scheme, which started last year, was further expanded. Eighteen F.6 boys were selected as peer counsellors and they had to undergo training sessions conducted by the school social worker. The purpose of the scheme was to provide individual peer counselling to F.1 boys who might have problems in their peer relationships or personal growth.

A promotion talk for F.5 was jointly organized by the G.C. and the Student Association. The talk on 31st October was for the science classes, the one on 2nd November was for the arts and social science classes. F.6 boys with distinguished results in the HKCEE shared their “fruits of success” and their study methods with the new batch of candidates. Everybody was curious to know what made a 10A’s student.

On 12th November, the F.3 Promotion Talk was organized for parents of F.3 students. The response was extremely good. More than 400 parents turned up. The discussion session was enthusiastic.

The Careers’ Day which was jointly organized by the G.C. and the La Salle Old Boys’ Association, was held on 27th November in the Large Lecture Theatre. We had a splendid program this year which covered 8 professions: Medicine, Law, Architecture, Engineering, Accounting, Business Administration, Police and Aviation. The speakers came well-prepared and well-presented.

The “Self-awareness” programme targeted to F.3 and F.4 classes was completed in February. The programme was implemented in the classrooms. The guidance teachers helped the F.3 boys to learn more about themselves through drawing the “Johari Windows”. In F.4, the school social worker, Mr Ngan, made use of a questionnaire based on “Transactional Analysis” to help students identify their types of personality.

The Form Five Promotion Talk was held on 7/3 and 8/3 respectively for the science and arts classes. Students were briefed on the procedures to apply for F.6 places in own school on the day of dissemination of HKCEE results. Different leverages and choice of programmes in F.6 were introduced. Students were cautioned that their choice of subjects in F.6 was directly relevant to their prospective studies in the tertiary institutes.

This year the Manners Programme for F.1 and F.2 took on a new format. Instead of asking subject teachers to pass a mark on the performance of each class, a creative comic competition was held in March and April to promote the importance of good manners. Students in F.1 and F.2 were asked to submit either individual or group entries to the teachers.

The programme on “Growth and Adaptation” was implemented for all F.1 boys at the end of April. A comic video called “The joy of life” was shown to students to help them understand the physiological and psychological changes during adolescence. Discussion was then held with the help of the school social worker.

A programme on “Relationship with people” was organized for F.3 boys in May. With the help of a video show, students were introduced the correct attitudes of getting along with the opposite sex and the boys took part actively in the discussions that followed.

The smooth running of the programmes throughout the year owes much to the laudable effort put in by every member of our team. We are also indebted to our Principal, Brother Francis, for his generous and continuous support for all our programmes. We hope through these activities, students could understand and appreciate more about themselves, learn the ways to help others and ultimately choosing the right course of life.

The School Library reopened in early October this year after our new committee had been formed. It provided students with reading materials for leisure as well as for study. New books were frequently introduced through the recommendation of students and teachers. With borrowing facilities opened to all students, the bookshelves arranged the thousands of books in the correct order. Therefore, the running of the Library encountered no problem throughout the year.

Apart from book borrowing services, we also provided photocopying service. The Library had installed a photocopier for the convenience of students and teachers. We merely charged a low price for the service. The service was in great demand and it was a hard job especially before tests and examinations.

Also, the books of the Scholastic Book Club were most welcomed by students. New books were often introduced from the U.S.A. As students only needed to pay low prices for their favourite books, many piles of books were ordered indirectly from the U.S.A. each month by the co-ordinators. This promoted the reading atmosphere in the school.

Besides, the Study Room was managed by the Library. Study Room monitors were chosen from Form 7 and Form 5 boys to maintain discipline. It was opened during lunch time and after school till 10:00 p.m. everyday and provided a comfortable and silent place for students to study in.

One of the greatest changes of the Library this year was its computerization. With the generous support from the school authorities, the Library began to install computers at the beginning of this year. Many students helped to input the data of the books and stuck the bar codes on the books. Students can easily find the information of books and the borrowing and returning of books procedures can also be simplified in the near future so that the Library can be run more efficiently.

Lastly, on behalf of all librarians, I would like to take this opportunity to express our deepest gratitude to Miss Edith Loong, our teacher librarian, and Brother Bernard for their invaluable advice and guidance through out the year. We would also like to thank those students who had sacrificed their precious time to carry out their duties and all those students who had given generous support the to Library. Without all of them, the School Library would not have been so successful this year.

At the beginning of the 1994-1995 scholastic year, with the help of our User Unit Leaders, Mrs. Gail Wan, Miss Tam Wai Ling, Miss Winnie Chow and Mrs. Nagendra, we held our Annual General Meeting on 15 October in the Small Lecture Theatre. At the meeting, the student committee was introduced to our schoolmates and a brief introduction of the scheme was given with the aid of a slide show and a brief talk given by Miss Tam Wai Ling. Many members have been recruited this year, reflecting the growth in popularity and the success of the Duke of Edinburgh’s Award Scheme in our school.

In order to make our members more informed about the Duke of Edinburgh’s Award Scheme, we invited the Chief Secretary of the Education Department Operating Authority (E. D. O. A.), Mr. John So, to give a talk to our new members in the small lecture theatre in late October. Mr. So gave a very informative and interesting talk, helping to successfully arouse the interest and enthusiasm of our new members in the scheme.

The scholastic year 1994-1995 witnessed a brand new structure in the committee of the Duke of Edinburgh’s Award Club. As last year’s committee had such a heavy workload and such a large number of club affairs to deal with, four Form 3 boys and four Form 4 boys joined the committee as co-ordinators, with two more new teacher advisors, Miss Winnie Chow and Mrs. Nagendra.

Of course, the main objectives of the Duke of Edinburgh’s Award are still the same, that is, providing opportunities for our members to discover their interests and develop a sense of responsibility to society.
Many Courses were organized throughout the year by the D. E. A. headquarters for D. E. A. members. Moreover, a number of courses were organized by the D. E. A. club in the various sections of the respective awards. It was necessary for the club by the D. E. A. headquarters very often clashed with our school calendar. The courses organized by the D. E. A. club are given in more detail below.

The D. E. A. Room, L. G. 103, was opened every Wednesday and Friday after course, where members were welcome to familiarize themselves with the courses on offer by the D. E. A. headquarters and the D. E. A. club, and to follow their progress in the various sections of the respective awards, bronze, silver and gold. Members could follow their progress on the ‘tracking form’ on display on the notice board in the D. E. A. room.

Service

Many of our members this year were also members of the student Association, the Catholic Society or the Guidance Centre, these school services allowed many of our members to pass this section of the bronze award with ease. For those without a service, flat selling was organized by the D. E. A. club in conjunction with the Student Association. In addition, some members also participated Joint School Service Course organized by the United Christian Hospitals this year.

Skills

Skills include interests such as learning languages, playing musical instruments, arts and crafts, etc. Since this is the longest section to complete of the respective awards, the D. E. A. club organized a Joint School Japanese Course with the Diocesan Girls’ School and St. Rose of Lima College, which provided our members with a chance to learn a foreign language. A Ceramics Course was also offered to our members by our User Unit Leader, Miss Tam Wai Ling. In addition, a Spanish course was offered to members by another User Unit Leader, Mrs. Gail Wan. Our members were active in participating in these courses.

Expedition

In this section, members are expected to learn how to survive in rural areas by learning the skills of map reading, tent pitching, knotting, first aid etc. They have to attend a series of lectures and participate in 2 practice journeys and an assessment journey, which involves camping and hiking for a few days. An old boy and gold award holder, Mr. Patrick Ng, ran 2 bronze expedition courses for our members this year. We would like to thank Mr. Ng for organizing expeditions for us again this year. We would also like to thank our principal, Rev. Brother Francis for generously providing our club with HK$12,000 to buy the necessary camping equipment for members participating in the scheme at this school.

Physical Recreation

This section aims at improving the physique of our members and at introducing a variety of sports to them. The D. E. A. club organized a badminton again this year. It was held between April and June and was given by a professional instructor. In addition, we held a joint school social dance course from March to May in conjunction with Diocesan Girls’ School and St. Rose of Lima College. The D. E. A. club also organized a canoeing course this year. All our members were successful in participating in these courses actively.
In this scholastic year, a delegation which was comprised of more than 20 district representatives from China and known as the National Working Committee of Chinese Young Pioneers visited our school. The aim of their visit was to enhance the understanding of the D. E. A. Scheme in Hong Kong and to exchange ideas on youth development. We were proud that La Salle College was the chosen school which the delegation would visit to see the D. E. A. Scheme in operation. Our principal, Bro. Francis, was invited to give a speech introducing La Salle College to the delegation. The delegation was also given a tour of the school, culminating in a visit to the D. E. A. Room.

In order to let more members finish the bronze and silver levels, we hope to organize a canoeing expedition during the summer vacation for those members who have not finished the expedition section of the bronze award will also be able to participate in some of the summer courses organized by the Student Association will qualify for the D. E. A. requirements.

Lastly, the D. E. A. committee members would like to thank Rev. Brother Francis and Mr. Patrick Ng. We would also like to thank miss Winnie Chow, Miss Nagendra Geetha, Mrs. Gail Wan and Miss Tam Wai Ling, our User Unit Leaders, for their enthusiastic support and their valuable time in supporting the Duke of Edinburgh's Award in La Salle College.
Our Group has maintained the glory and strength of the past.

Our glory was retained by great achievements by our scouts in various competitions organized by the Kowloon City District and the Kowloon Region. Four scouts won a Chief Scout’s Award 1994-95 each. They are Tsang King Hei, Trevor, Yam Tze Jim, Andrew, Chan Wai Shing, Wilson and Cheung Hung Ming, Tommy. Congratulations!

Our strength has been further consolidated by recruiting more scouts. Miss Mary Chow and Mr. Eric Lee joined the Venture Scout Troop in September 1994 while Mr. Chan Yiu Yeung joined the Scout Troop in April in 1995.

During this scholastic year, our unit continued to devote efforts to achieve the aims of the Youth Red Cross: Protecting Health & Life; Serving the sick & the suffering and Promoting International Friendship & Understanding. Through the co-operation of all the members and the unit committee, we marked another prosperous year on our record.

HKRC 45th Anniversary
Hong Kong Red Cross has served the territory since 1950. It celebrates its 45th anniversary in 1995. An International First Aid Competition would be held this summer vacation. Youth Red Cross leaders from different countries would come together putting the Youth Red Cross Aim of International Friendship and Understanding into practice. Our unit was appointed as the host school of this international function.

Membership
The recruitment of this year increased the number of members on roll to 70 and all of us received ample training in different fields and zealously participated in various services throughout the year. The introduction of 'new blood' had undoubtedly strengthened our squad with vitality and made our unit well equipped to fulfill various goals.

Training
In order to give the new members a thorough understanding of the Red Cross Society, lectures were given and a 'Practical Welfare Course' was organized by our Cadet Officer. With a view to enforce discipline, punctuality and fitness of our uniform group, and routine drill lessons were conducted for the new members, and hard drill practices as well as physical training were introduced to the seniors. On the top of the above mentioned, our members also actively attended courses in para-medical training, field training, camping communication, rescue, service project design and leadership training, organized either by the headquarters or by our unit.

The Annual Red Cross Parade was held on 20th November, 1995. Six of our members participated and they all gained valuable experience. Our Section Leader, Cheung Sam Yu was appointed as assistant continent commander.

Service
During the last summer vacation, we organized a service project serving the mentally retarded children in Tung Tau Estate with Cadet Unit 25 (Maryknoll Convent School). For the coming summer holidays we will have another service project serving the solitary old people in To Kwa Wan with Cadet Unit 10 (St. Mary's Canossian College).

As in previous years, we continued to operate the first aid post for our schoolmates during recess and lunch time. A new system was introduced to better serve our fellow schoolmates. Besides routine services, our first-aiders also lent its services at the Annual Sports-day, Form outings and in inter-school competitions. In addition, we were also active in publicizing the Blood Donation Days in the school. Other miscellaneous services like flag selling and first aid services also added some worthy services to the records of the unit.

Friendship

During the last summer vacation, a reunion was held with Cadet Unit 2 (Sacred Heart Canossian College). A newcomers' picnic, which aimed at promoting friendship between old and new members, was arranged at the beginning of the year. We had gatherings with Cadet Unit 171 (St. Stephen's Girls' School) and Cadet Unit 142 (Pooi To Middle School) during Lunar New Year and Easter Holiday respectively. All these functions awarded us with satisfactory outcome. In the coming summer, a gathering will be held with Cadet Unit 10.

Glories

The brilliance of the La Salle Boys never faded on the Youth Red Cross froniter. On the drill ground, our high-spirited footdrill team captured the champion in the Divisional Footdrill Competition. In spite of the shortage of manpower, our team managed to win the honorable 2nd runners-up title in the Departmental Footdrill Competition.

Our service project which was held last summer captured the 2nd runners-up in the Best Service Project Competition. We also won the Service Shield last year. Our talented members, Yip Wing On, Lester and Leung Fuk Ling, David came first in Best Slogan Competition and Christmas Card Design Competition respectively. Moreover, our past Head Section Leader, Lau Tin Hang, Peter was selected as representative of the School Base Youth Organization Outstanding Members Award 1994-95 organized by Lions Club International District 303 Hong Kong and Macau.

All in all, we would like to take this opportunity to thank our Patron, Rev. Brother Francis, the guidance of the Cadet Officers and the enthusiastic participation of our members. The unit committee would like to express their heartfelt gratitude to all of them.

Under the leadership of our officer, Mr. Lai Tsz Kai, and teacher advisers, Mr. Wong Wing Hong, Miss Alice Sitt, together with the support of our cadets, this year turned out to be another year of great success.

In the Annual Inter-divisional Competition held in October, we came third in First-aid, second in Footdrill and fifth in Uniform Inspection. Finally, we were placed third overall. In this year, we also won the championship in the Internal First-aid Competition and member Ku Ka Tat was elected as the ‘Cadet of Year 1994’ by the SJAB Head - Quarter.

In order to serve the schoolmates and the school, our cadets carried out daily first-aid duties in school. Services are also rendered at various school functions such as the Annual Sports Day, Campus Race, School Outing and the Interschool Athletics Meet.

Basic first-aid and footdrill training courses were organised for our members throughout the year. Moreover, a series of proficiency courses such as Home Nursing and Life-saving were organised by the Head Quarter.

This year, the St. John Ambulance Brigade in Singapore organised an International First-aid and Footdrill Competition to celebrate their 60th Anniversary of establishment. Our cadets Ku Ka Tat, Tang Tsz Ming, Chan Tak Keung, Lau Tsz Kit and Chan Chun Kwan were appointed to represent Hong Kong to participate in this competition. We came second in footdrill and we have gained invaluable experiences also.

The Interact Club is a worldwide youth organisation patronised by the Rotary Club. Our main objectives are to promote international understanding, to provide an opportunity for the training of leadership and to arouse young peoples' social awareness through community services. This year, about 50 members were recruited.

In the last summer vacation, we teamed up with the Zonta Z Club of St. Clare's Girls' School in organising the Joint School Summer Project. The target of this project was to serve the mentally handicapped children of the Caritas Medical Centre in Sham Shui Po.

In October, our club was invited to participate in the election of the Board of Committee of three external organisations: the Joint Interact Council (J.I.C.), the Joint School Volunteers' Association (J.S.V.A.) and the Joint School Social Scheme (J.T.S.). And two of our committee members were elected to be the Vice-president of the J.I.C. and the P.R.O. of J.S.V.A.

Our first project in this academic year was the Caritas Bazaar. It is a fund-raising programme for Caritas and this year it was held on 6th November, 94. at Fa Hui Playground. A central committee was formed in early October with the Catholic Society and the preparation work lasted for about one month. Finally, after the hard work of our members and with the cooperation of the Catholic Society, we managed to set up two stalls and displayed three stall games. The response on that day was excellent and we raised about $200,000 for Caritas. Here, we would like to thank the generous support and all those who had contributed prizes and helped us in the Bazaar.

To provide our fellow schoolmates with interesting entertainment to enhance our club co-operated with the Clubs Co-ordinating Board to participate in the Christmas Gathering. One game stall was set up and our stall was one of the most popular stalls at the gathering.

During the Christmas Holiday, we joined the Voluntary Service Club of St. Rose of Lima School to organise a Christmas Project for the elderly. The project consisted of a visit to the elderly and a Christmas Party on 26th and 27th December. The programme was successful and all of our workers and the elderly had a happy and meaningful Christmas.

Apart from the service project, we also participated in some walkathons and charity walks organised by J.I.C. and J.S.V.A., helping them to raise a considerable sum of money.

During the Easter Holiday, our club co-organized with the Social Service Society of St. Paul's Secondary School to organise an Easter Party for the single-parent children from S.K.H. Lady MacLehose Centre. The programme ended in a happy atmosphere and the children and their parents had a whole day of fun. Moreover, a day camp will be held for the children during the summer vacation.

In order to achieve one of our aims, to promote international understanding, pen-pal project was co-organized with the Interact Club of St. George's Girls' School in Malaysia. Through this project we have cultural exchange and have learnt a lot from a foreign state.

In addition, we have participated in seven flag-selling days throughout this academic year, helping various charity organisations to raise funds.

In this summer vacation, we will team up with the Social Service Club of Maryknoll Convent School and the Zonta Z Club of St. Mary's Canossian College to organise the Joint School Summer Project. The target of this project will be the elderly who live on their own in the Kwai Chung district.

Here, we would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere gratitude towards our teacher advisors, Mr. Chan Yue Ham, Mr. Chiu Wing Fai and our Rotarian advisor Mr. Paul P.T. Shum for their invaluable advice and guidance.

Although most of our committee members were from five students, we carried out our work smoothly and enjoyed a fruitful year.

This academic year the committee was formed in early September and we started the recruitment of members in early October. 87 members were recruited and most of them were form one students.

In line with tradition, lectures were conducted regularly from October to February. Different topics on Astronomy were discussed in the lectures, such as 'The Solar System', 'Galaxies and the Universe' and 'Deep Sky Objects'. In total 20 lectures were held and many students found them intriguing and refreshing.

Shortly after the Lunar New Year holiday, we threw all our effort into the preparation for the Astronomy Week. The first programme launched was the Astronomy Seminar held in the small lecture theatre. About 60 students participated in the lecture. It was followed by a slide show 'Deep Sky Object' which was also held in the small lecture theatre. Many students showed keen interest in it. The inter-class astronomical knowledge quiz marked the climax of the astronomy week. It was held for four students to test their knowledge of the 'Solar System', 'Constellations' and the 'Deep Sky Object'. Throughout the whole astronomy week, a board 'The Universe' was displayed outside the canteen.

In the coming summer vacation, there will be a visit to the Space Museum for our members. Apart from this, a Joint School Astronomical Observation Camp will be organised in August.

The art society aims at arouse schoolmates' interest in art, and at improving their skills in drawing and designing. Throughout this academic year, the society organized a range of activities such as courses and visits which allowed La Salle students to exhibit their creativity and imagination in different aspects.

After the first Annual General Meeting in late October, we had an enrollment of over 20 members. Since the response of our schoolmates was good, it gave us a strong sense of confidence in holding activities later in the year.

From March to May, we organized a Drawing Course with the Art Club of Maryknoll Convent School. The response of the course was so good that we had to select participants among members who wanted to join. The course was held at Maryknoll Convent School and was conducted by our chairman - Leung Sze Chun. During the course, basic techniques of drawing were taught and participants were given lots of chances to practice.

In April, we held a drawing
Athletics Club

competition. The competition was divided into two sections: Junior section for Form 1 and 2 students and senior section for students from Form 3 or above. The winning pieces were published in the LaSallite. Moreover, we had given support and advice to the art design of the LaSallite this year.

During the Easter Holiday, we paid a visit to the Hong Kong Museum of Art. Members had learnt a lot during the visit.

In conclusion, we have felt encouraged by the active participation of the members and the committee. We hope that fellow LaSallians will continue to develop their sense in art. Besides, we would like to express our sincere gratitude to our teacher advisors, Miss Wan and Miss Tam, for their invaluable support and guidance throughout the year. Without their encouragement, we would not have been so successful this year.

A thletics is a combination of track and field events and it is well supported in our school. The Athletics Club was established to promote ‘Sports’ as well as to give an opportunity to all LaSallians to achieve their potential in this area.

In early October, we held our annual general meeting in which more than 120 students were enrolled and this was an encouragement to us.

As in the past few years, training courses were held every Tuesday and Friday immediately after school from mid-October to mid-November. These were organised by our experienced team members, such as Kenward Ma (6B), our school Athletics Team captain, who was in charge of the field events while Kong Wing Ho, Michael (6A) and Chan King Hang (6A) were in charge of the track events. Through practice and training, our members were therefore well-prepared for the Annual Sports Day. Most of them showed drastic improvement under our student advisors’ guidance. Of course, the consistent attendance of the members was an important factor. The talented and outstanding ones were selected to join the school team and represent the school in the Inter-school Athletics Meet.

Besides activities, we also issued shoe bags. Each shoe bag costs only $35. Over 250 students had placed their orders and that really exceeded our estimation.

In short, we would like to express our heartfelt gratitude to our teacher advisors, Mr. Cheung Ting Por, Mr. Chan Chau Mo and Mr. Chan Siu Ming for their invaluable advice and unfailing support throughout the year.

Aviation can be defined as the science of aircraft, flying and aerodynamics.

This is the seventh year since the Club has been established. The aim of our club this year was to raise interest in aviation through visits and lectures. As part of our recruitment drive, we hung up a 20-metre-long banner to promote our club. Fortunately, our effort was handsomely paid off and 110 schoolmates joined the club.

During this academic year, we conducted lectures once a fortnight. Notes and reference materials were offered to our members to encourage further study. Our lectures covered a wide variety of topics to enrich our members' knowledge in aviation. The topics touched on communications, navigation, airports, the principle of flight, the development of military aircraft, the development of civil airliners, ammunition and weapons, air disasters and aircraft hijackings.

Besides lectures, we organised many visits since we believe that our members would benefit greatly from physical exposure to different aspects related to aviation. This year we paid visits to the Royal Air Force 28 (AC) Squadron at Sek Kong, the Government Flying Service (GFS), the Cathay Pacific Airways (CPA), the Hong Kong Aircraft Engineering Company Ltd. (HAECO), the Provisional Airport Authority (PAA) and the Control Tower of Hong Kong International Airport. During our visits, we were given the opportunity to take photographs, and even to shoot videos. We were also allowed to get into different types of aircraft such as the Westland Wessex of the RAF, the Siokorsky S-76 Spirit and S-70 Black Hawk of the GFS, and the B747-400 Simulator of the CPA.

In January, our club was honoured to be interviewed by the popular youth magazine, the 'Breakthrough Youth' (突破少年). An article featuring our club made the cover story in issue No.195 of the magazine.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank Miss Iris Cho, the editor of the Breakthrough Youth Magazine for interviewing our club. We would also like to thank all our members for their enthusiastic support, our committee members for dedicating their precious time to run the club so smoothly and efficiently, and our teacher advisors, Miss Mary Chow and Mr Pong Chi Yeung for their invaluable time, support, encouragement and constructive advice. Lastly, we look forward to an even more successful Aviation Club in the coming year!

The main aims of the basketball club are to arouse students' interest in basketball and teach them the proper basic skills in playing basketball. This year is a very fruitful year, as we achieved all of our objectives in running this club. In early October, we held our annual general meeting and more than a hundred students were enrolled. It reflected that basketball is now very popular among our fellow schoolmates. In October and November, we organized the Junior and the Senior inter-class basketball competitions and the inter-matriculation basketball competition respectively. The outstanding players were selected to join our school team as new blood.

Having realized the importance of training the junior students who will become the successors in future, we had intended to hold a training course during the Christmas holiday. Unfortunately, the course was canceled due to the fluctuating weather. We would like to apologize to those students who had enrolled for this course.

In May, the Street-basketball and Shooting Competitions were organized. More than a hundred students participated. The shooting competition was divided into two sections, free-throw and three-point shooting. The winners were Ma Tak Sun (2E) and Sin Sai Ki (3G) respectively. The Street-basketball competition was divided into Junior and Senior sections. The junior champion is the team of Paul Lee, Dixon Ma and Charles Lam, the senior champion is the team of Mak Wan Long, Wong Kin Bong and Wong Lung On.

Finally, we would like to take this opportunity to thank our teacher advisor, Mr. Victor Lo, for his support throughout the year. Thanks must also be given to the committee members who contributed a lot to the club.

The aims of the Badminton Club are to improve the standard of badminton and to arouse students' interest in the sport. This year, we have recruited more than 50 members.

Same as in previous years, we organized the inter-class competition which was divided into three sections: junior, senior and matriculation. Furthermore, we provided booking services for the members so that they could practise every Saturday. From the competition and practice, talented players were selected to join the school team.

In addition, a badminton course will also be organized during the summer vacation in order to provide our members with more chances to train and improve themselves.

Last but not least, we would like to thank Mr. Fong Chi Yeung and Mr. Chan Chau Mo for their guidance and support for the running of the club throughout this year.

Bridge is not a game just for fun. Through playing bridge, one gains knowledge on probability and psychology and, most important of all, mutual cooperation between partners. As a matter of fact, a successful partnership is worth more than any triumph.

The aims of the Bridge Club are to popularize 'bridge' in school as well as foster friendship among various bridge players.

When the Annual General Meeting was held, many junior form students joined our club despite the fact that most of them did not know how to play bridge. Aiming at introducing different bidding systems and elementary techniques to our members, a beginners’ course was conducted shortly after the A.G.M. In addition, general meetings were held every Friday to provide opportunities for our members to better their bidding systems and sharpen their playing skills. In these meetings, many talented players were unearthed.

We have a few words to share with the 'new blood' of the La Salle Bridge Club. Traditionally, La Salle has been famous for her remarkable powers in playing bridge. We captured the Rose Bowl, the highest honour of all inter-school bridge tournaments, in 1970, '72, '74, '76, '78, '79, '80 and '91. This is a tremendous record in the history of inter-school bridge competition. However, we are now facing the risk of lacking successors to bring more glory to La Salle. We hope you all would train and practise hard in order to become prominent players in bridge. Remember, learning bridge is very easy, but becoming an expert is not.

Finally, we would like to take this opportunity to thank our teacher advisors, Mr. K. Yik and W.S. Tong, for their guidance and advice and all the members for their support throughout the year.

Several outstanding runners were invited into the school team and glorified our school in the Inter-School Cross Country Competition on the 28th Nov., 94. After the inter-school competition, we held a series of training lessons for our club members. Fortunately, several runners with good potential were found, and our Cross Country Team next year may be strengthened. Moreover, in January 95, we issued our club product, a vast, which was quite popular among our club members as well as fellow schoolmates. Finally, I would like to extend my sincere thanks to our teacher advisors, Mr. T.P. Cheung and Mr. John Au for their invaluable advice throughout this academic year.

The Community Youth Club is organized by the Education Department. Our main objective is to encourage our members to take active part in community service projects and take personal interest in community problems and the welfare of the society. It is hoped that by participating in various activities, students will develop a sense of civic consciousness and responsibility.

The first Annual General Meeting was held in mid-October. This year, we recruited nearly four hundred new and old members. This was an encouraging start to the year.

In order to fulfill the C.Y.C. Charter, a series of activities were organized. Throughout the whole year, we had participated in many flag-selling functions to raise funds for the charity organizations. About forty members participated in each flag-selling day.

Moreover, as educational camp was held on 25th and 26th November 1994. This two-day camp provided valuable opportunities for our members, the forty participants, to learn more about the disabled. We were also taught how to communicate with and help the disabled in our daily life.

Helping the needy is our main aim. In late December, we were invited to prepare a Christmas party for the mentally retarded children in Kowloon Hospital. Twenty members participated in this meaningful event. Also, we set up a stall game for students at the Christmas Gathering.

In response to the C.Y.C. theme of the year, 'Respect the Elderly', we organized a community service project—'Caring for the Elderly' from November 1994 to April 1995. It aimed at promoting respect and a caring attitude towards elderly. Sixty members participated in this project. A brief training programme was held and a gathering was then arranged at Hung Hom Kam Po Shek Restaurant. Also, we paid two visits to the H.K.M.E.A. Cheng Yu Tung Social Centre during the Easter holiday. Our work was appreciated by the elderly there and so we were invited to visit the social centre in the coming summer vacation. This project provided us with opportunities to share the experiences in communicating with the elderly.

In order to raise funds for the Community Chest, we organized a cleaning campaign, 'Greening for the Chest', in Tai O Mun on 8th April 1995. It was welcomed by the students. The profits gained were used for organizing activities such as visits, service projects and the forestry work camp.

Besides, we held a board exhibition in May. The topic was 'Life in the Third World Countries'. It touched on the harsh life and the difficulties people in developing countries face. It aimed at arousing students' concern towards these people.

For the coming summer vacation, we are going to organize a forestry work camp at Tai Tong Management Centre. The target is to arouse students' concern to our surroundings and through forestry work, our members will help in protecting our beautiful environment.

The scholastic year 1994-1995 had been fruitful and successful. Members were enthusiastic in serving the needy and had participated in various activities actively.

Last but not least, we would like to express our heartfelt gratitude towards our teacher advisor, Mr. Wong Kwan Yau, who has helped us so much in our work. Only with his invaluable support and guidance could we have had such a fruitful and successful year.

The main objectives of The Current Affair Society is to increase students' awareness in social and world affairs as well as students' interests in current affairs. In late October, we held our Annual General Meeting. During the meeting, 30 members were recruited.

The first activity organised was the Orientation Outing, which was held in mid-December. We aimed at developing a better relationship between our members, committee members and teacher advisors through this outing. We had also hoped that the participants could relax themselves before the Mid-Year Exam.

On the day of Christmas Gathering, we set up a stall game called 'Hong Kong Before and After 1997'. A long queue could be seen throughout the day, and we hope that the participants would be aware of some difficulties which Hong Kong will face before and after 1997.

During the Easter Holiday, we organised a visit to the Supreme Court. The visit was aimed at increasing students' knowledge about the judicial system if Hong Kong and the operation of the Supreme Court. We noticed that there were many differences between what goes on in real court and the situation depicted on television.

In early May, an Inter-Class Current Affair Quiz was organised for all Form 1 to Form 3 classes. Through this competition, we aimed at increasing students' knowledge and interests in current affairs. The competition was keen, and all of us were surprised that some participants had thorough knowledge of local and world affairs.

Last but not least, we would like to express our deepest gratitude to our teacher advisors, Mr. Fong Chi Yeung and Miss Grace Wu for their in valuable advice and zealous support throughout the year. Without their help, the society could not have been run so smoothly.

The main aim of our club is to arouse our schoolmates' interest in chess-playing. In order to fulfill this aim, we organised a wide range of activities for our members throughout this academic year.

In September, we published a pamphlet and distributed over 700 copies to our fellow schoolmates. The pamphlet introduced all the activities to be held by our club. We received a good response and over 200 members were recruited. Starting from October, general meetings were held every Friday after school. These meetings provided precious opportunities to fellow members for friendly chess playing.

Last year, we noticed that many of our members had great interest in playing International Chess, but most of them could not play well as they did not know the basic skills of International chess playing. Therefore, we organised a beginner's course on International Chess. More than 20 members attended our lecture. Each participant was given comprehensive notes which served to familiarise them with the rules and tips in playing International Chess. Besides a Chinese Chess Lecture for beginners was held in October in order to sharpen the skills of our members. Detailed notes were given to all participants.
Conservancy and Rural Service Society

About 30 students, including members and non-members, attended this lecture.

In previous years, the response to the Individual Chinese Chess Competition was very good. This year, over 60 students joined the competition. Because of the great number of participants, the competition lasted for several weeks from November to December. Prizes and certificates were awarded to outstanding players. Immediately after the competition, 10 outstanding players were selected to form a chess team. Regular team meetings were held in order to strengthen their skills. As a result, they were able to obtain good results in may inter-school competitions.

Moreover, we conducted a stall game at the Christmas Gathering, which was very well received by our fellow schoolmates. Besides, a course in Chinese chess playing was organised in March for intermediates. This course consisted of three lessons and about 20 members joined the course.

In April, we organised an Inter-school Chinese Chess Competition with King's College. This competition lasted for two days and our team captured the overall championship as well as the individual 2nd runners-up.

Last but not least, we would like to express sincere thanks to our teacher advisors, Mr. Yik Kwan and Mr. Sham Chor Wai for their invaluable advice. We hope that chess will become a popular activity for all our schoolmates in the future.

Environment protection has become a 'hot' topic in recent years. We hope that, through the establishment of our society, students can acquire a positive attitude towards conserving the world's precious resources and protecting our environment.

Our first annual general meeting was held on the 26th October, 1995 and over 40 members joined us. Then we started our work immediately. On 19th December, we paid a visit to the Kadoorie Farm with Ying Wai Girls' School. That day was a memorable day for us because we learnt biological and ecological concepts through the lectures given by the officers there. The result of this meaningful programme was very good.

Besides organizing internal activities, we also took part in inter-school activities. This year, our chairman Ho Sze Man, Benedict was elected the Chairman, while Francis Lee and Fong Ka Cheung were elected onto the sub-committee of the School United Conservancy Association (SUCA), a joint school student organization which aims to arouse students' interest in the aspect of environmental matters. In March, we participated in the School Environmental Trip '95 held by SUCA. In July, we are going to take part in the Conservancy Quiz organized by SUCA. Our committees also paid a visit to the 'Produced Green' and brought back materials and booklets for interested members.

Last but by no mean least, we would like to express our deepest gratitude to our teacher advisors, Mr. Sham Chor Wai, Miss T. Tang and Miss Carol Ip who sacrificed their precious time to go on visits with us and their invaluable advice. Without their support, our club would not have operated so smoothly.

Both the Chinese and English Debating teams got themselves organized at the beginning of this scholastic year. Intensive training was carried out in order to raise the standard of the team members. These included internal debates and friendly matches with other schools.

This year has been particularly challenging for our Chinese Debating Team because all but one of our original corps of trained debaters had left the school to further their studies abroad. Fortunately after a diligent search, we managed to pull together a team comprising of four inexperienced but capable speakers.

At the beginning of the academic year, our committee members Ng Ka Leung and Yu Kwan Yeung were elected Exco members of the 27th Joint School Chinese Debating Society. After warming up in two friendly matches with St. Paul's Secondary School and King's College, our Chinese Debating Team entered the Joint School Chinese Debating Contest with heightened morale. With zealous support from the teachers, our school social worker, Mr. Ngan, the old boys and our schoolmates, we managed to defeat Tsuen Wan Government Secondary School, St. Francis Canossian College, Queen's College and St. Paul's Convent School to enter the finals, losing one vote only in these four preliminary rounds.

The finals was held on 21st May at the Hong Kong Cultural Centre. This was also the ninth time for our School's Chinese Debating Team to enter the finals in fifteen years. Our opposing team was once again DBS this year. We had to speak against the motion (居港七年人士應享有投票權。) Despite the witty and entertaining performance given by our speakers, we lost with two votes to three in this breath-taking finals. But we were glad that our second speaker, Bosco Ng, received the Best Debater Award. Congratulations!

Our English Debating Team had experienced many ups and downs this year. However, through the constant effort contributed by the teachers and the debaters, we had a challenging year.

At the beginning of this scholastic year, the team suffered from the loss of debaters. However, with the great determination of the only debater left, much had been done and a team consisting of greenhorns with a few experienced debaters was formed.

As in previous years, friendly matches with other schools were organized in order to get our speakers more prepared for battle—that is, the Joint School Debating Contest. After polishing their debating skills in friendly matches against Wah Yan College, Hong Kong, St. Mary's Canossian School and Heep Yunn School, we met St. Paul's Convent School in the first round of the Joint School Debating Contest. With great confidence and much preparation, our team performed very well, but our opponent was in fact a bit stronger. Though we lost by 1:2, our debaters learnt a valuable lesson.

In our next challenge we met our traditional rival, St. Francis Canossian College. With the lesson learnt, our debaters did a remarkable job, being well prepared in arguments, organization and presentation. Eventually, we won the match with ease. Then, we were once again to meet St. Paul's Convent School. Unluckily, one of our speakers was ill. Therefore, our overall performance was affected. Although our points of argument were stronger than our opponents, we still lost the battle with a one to two vote.

Our F.4 Chinese Debating Team was also a bit unlucky. In the Sing Tao Interschool Chinese Debating Contest, the team faced strong rivals and lost in the first round. After the defeat, several friendly matches with Canossa College and Sacred Heart Canossian School were organized. The team members gained much experience from these and became more skilful in debating.

Debating should not be confined to debaters representing the school alone. Therefore, apart from external functions, our club also held the F.2 and F.3 Interclass Chinese and English debating competitions. The response was satisfactory. Students who exhibited potential were chosen to join the school debating team. Indeed, it was encouraging to see that debating is so popular in our school.

Last but not least, special thanks must be given to our teacher advisors, Mr. Tong Wun Sing, Mrs. C.P.C. Chong, Miss Catherine Lam, Miss Yim Wai Ying, Mr. Wong Kwan Yau, Mrs. Gail Wan, Miss Au Mei Ho, Miss Linda Yeung, Miss Winnie Chow, Miss Tang Tsuen, Mr. Alex Kwok and Mr. Peter Chiu, and our school social worker, Mr. Ngan for their precious time and efforts spent to give us guidance. We would also like to thank all those who have supported the School Debating Team.

The Drama and Film Society aims at arousing students’ interest in drama and providing opportunities to gain some knowledge in drama. In November, our first general meeting was held, and about 160 students joined the club, which is the largest number of members in recent years.

After a successful recruitment, we began our work by organizing a drama for the Christmas Gathering. Members from F.1 to F.3 practised hard under the guidance of our committee members. When the drama was staged on 21st December, they performed well and it proved to be an entertaining and interesting for our audience.

Moreover, a stall game was set up in the basketball court at the Christmas Gathering, in order to provide fun and excitement for all our schoolmates.

One of the club’s largest functions was the Joint School Drama Night. It was started in 1990 and is entering its fifth year.
Joint School Drama Night '95

This year, the Joint School Drama Night was co-organized by La Salle College, Ying Wa Girls' School, and Queen's College. The show will be held on 1st August, Auditorium, Shatin Town Hall. The actors and the actress will be chosen from the three organizing schools. One of the special features of this year's show will be the language used. In the previous years, most of the shows were in English. This year, however, we will use Cantonese instead. In addition, some famous scripts were used in the past years, but this year, we are going to write our own script. Most importantly, all the revenue, after deducting the expenses, will be donated to ORBIS for part of its running costs.

Lastly, we must express our word of gratitude towards the three teacher advisors, Miss Loong, Mr. Wang and Miss Sitt, for their invaluable support and advice throughout the year.

The aim of the Electronics and Computer Society is to arouse students' interest in Computer Science and to widen their knowledge in both electronics and computer. Moreover, we had completely reorganized our committees. We formed five working groups, namely Software Group, Hardware Group, Multimedia Group, Publication Group and Exhibition Group, to share our workload as well as provide more activities for our members.

Our school as a subject for students of all forms. During the AGM held on 11th October, we recruited 200 members. This gives us much courage and confidence to organise the activities, and also reflected the importance of Computer Science today.

1. Software Group, Leader-Wong Cho Yin, Jason (6C)

The software Group aims at providing chances to know more about the use of computer software, including computer language programming and the use of Computer Applications.

In March, we organised the Pascal programming course. This course is mainly for our F.4 members, to help them prepare for the HKCEE Computer Studies Examination. Results were quite satisfactory and our members' knowledge in Pascal was strengthened.

In May, we held a Windows Application course. This course was for F.6 computer application members to understand different essential Computer Applications such as FoxPro, MS Office, etc.

2. Hardware Group, Leader-Chuang Siu Nam (6B)

The Hardware Group aims at providing knowledge on computer hardware and electronics. To achieve this, we did our utmost to organise activities for our members.

In April, we organised an electronics course. The course aimed at providing our students with brief idea about electronics. During the course, some common electronic components were explained to students, their feedback was very good and this gave us much encouragement.

3. Multimedia Group, Leader-Liu Kai Sai, Joseph (6C)

Noticing the rising importance of Multimedia technology, a Multimedia Group was formed to let students know more about Multimedia.
In November, we organised a MIDI programming course with the Music Society, to broaden students' interest in computer music. Students then had a clearer idea about MIDI interface and music Programming via the computer.

4. Publication Group, Leader-Po Tak Chi (6C)

The Publication Group aims at issuing computer magazine for our members. We also tried our best to provide most up-to-date information of computer technology for our members.

In January, we issued our ECS Newsletter. With the help of many lower form working members, the content of the Newsletter was interesting and well-received.

5. Exhibition Group, Leader-Kam Wai Hon, Roger (6B)

The Exhibition Group is responsible in making showboards for our students, providing interesting topics about computer technologies for our students.

We also participated in the Hong Kong Joint School Computer Exhibition '95 and the 11th Joint School Electronics and Computer Exhibition, which were organised by the Hong Kong Joint School Association (HKJSCA) and the Joint School Electronics and Computer Society (JSECS), providing a chance for our students to exchange ideas with students of different schools.

Apart from the activities organised by the working groups, our committee also organised a picnic at Wong Shek Pier in May. The picnic provided a chance for our members to relax before taking the final examination. During the picnic, we also help out members to solve questions related to computer studies.

To help our F.5 students prepare for the Computer Studies Examination, we joined the Joint School Computer Rehearsal Examination organised by the HKJSCA. That provided out F.5 students with an opportunity to sit for a mock exam before taking the HKCEE.

This year, we also took an active role in external activities. We joined the HKJSCA and the JSECS, and La Salle was also the Chairman school of HKJSCA this year. These activities also gave us an opportunity to establish a better relationship with other schools. We would like to take this chance to congratulate Terence Yim of 5D for being awarded the 1st runners-up in the Computer Programming Competition organised by the Department of Health.

Finally, we would like to express our teacher advisors, Mr. Chow, Mr. Wong and Mr. Yik for giving us generous guidance and support in various aspects throughout the year.

The Economics Society of this academic year was re-organized in October 1994. We recruited 51 members, which was the highest membership in the last five years.

As a tradition, we joined the Hong Kong Joint School Economics and Public Affairs Association (HKJSEPA) in November 1994. Our school became the Chairman school again.

As one of our objectives is to help our schoolmates to perform better in the public examinations, we held lectures and offered suggested answers for Form 4 and 5 schoolmates studying Economics.

At the Christmas Gathering '94, for the first time in the history of the society, we ran stall games for our schoolmates. The names of our stall games were 'Crazy rolling' and 'Organizations' with the names and Logos Matching'. The long queue appeared before our stalls.
showed that our attempt was a success.

In March 1995 we participated in several important activities. The first was the Joint-School Economics and Public Affairs Knowledge Quiz ’95, which was held by the HKJSEPA. Our team members, who came from Form 4 and 6, defeated TWGH Chang Ming Thien College and Our Lady of the Rosary College at the heats and defeated Queen’s College at the semi-finals. However, we were defeated by Sing Yin Secondary School in the finals. We captured the 1st-runner up of that quiz while Diocesan Boys’ School was the 2nd runner-up and Islamic College was the 4th.

The second event was the HKJSEPA’s annual walkathon. About 10 members participated in that walkathon and raised nearly a thousand dollars for the HKJSEPA.

Our third event was to achieve another objective of our society to arouse our schoolmates’ interest in Economics. Our members and committee members, who were led by one of our teacher advisors, Mr. Hui, paid a visit to the Head-quarters of Hang Seng Bank in Central District. We got a better understanding of how a bank works after the visit.

The last event we participated was the lecture held by the HKJSEPA, and was given by Professor Steven Chueng, at Chong Gene Hang College, Chai Wan. The topic of the talk was ‘One Country, Two Systems’, which was about Hong Kong’s economic system after becoming PRC’s Special Administration Region in 1997. We benefited from listening to his opinions on Hong Kong’s future, which could not be learnt from any textbook.

Finally, we would like to thank our teacher advisors, Mr. Hui and Mr. Wong, for their valuable advice and assistance throughout the year.

The fencing club aims at arousing the interest of Lasallians in this not-so-well-known sport. Quite a number of boys joined our club this year and we invited some of these new members who have potential to join our school team further increase our strength.

The regular training session on every Saturday resumed in October. During the session, members were given instructions on basic concepts and various tactics and skills. Physical training is also provided as fencing itself demands great perseverance. Under the guidance of our coach, Mr. So, all of them improved gradually. Moreover, we have bought a number of equipment for our new members so that they can have a more formal training which we believed can help to develop their skills.

Like the past years, we encouraged our members to take part in various competitions, such as the Junior Challenge Shield and the Age Group Championship. In addition, some of them who were chosen to be the team members have the chance to represent our school to participate in the annual Joint School Fencing Competition. They achieve good results and some of them were selected to receive training at the Hong Kong Sports Institute. It is our sincere hope that our members can continue to keep our school's spirit and reputation in fencing.

Last but not least, we would like to express our gratitude towards our coaches, Mr. John Tsang and Mr. So Wing, teacher advisors, Mr. Cheung Ting Por and Mr. Shum Chor Wai and the assistant coaches, Mr. Brian Wu, Mr. Patrick Wu and other La Salle old boys for their invaluable advice and support throughout the year.

Football Club is one of the oldest and most popular sports clubs in La Salle. It aims at arousing students' interest in football and enhancing the popularity of football in our school. Apart from this, it aims at scouting talented footballers for our school football team.

On the whole, this year's Football Club has been a successful and fruitful year. We held the first general meeting in October and, owing to the zealous support of our schoolmates, about 190 students have become members.

This year, as usual, we are in charge of the booking of our school football field, which is open to all our members. This provides a valuable opportunity for members to practice and enhance their football skills.

In addition, the Football Club was responsible for organizing the inter-class football competition. The competition was opened to all the 41 classes, ranging from F.1 to F.7, and was divided into three groups. Matches were played from Oc-
October to April, and during this period, the committee members devoted their time to arranging the fixtures and to be referees of these matches.

At the Christmas Gathering, the “Christmas Cup Competition” was held with the cooperation of the CCB. It was a football match between the La Salle Teachers and the Form 7 students. This year, the exciting and interesting match ended with 1:0 score and the teachers won the trophy again for the second consecutive year.

Moreover, in February, the Football Club organized a training course for its members. This provided a golden chance for them to grasp some basic soccer skills, and many of them showed their talent and enthusiasm in football.

Lastly, we would like to take this opportunity to thank our teacher advisor, Mr. T.P. Cheung, for his invaluable advice and support throughout the year.

Geography Society, as its name suggests, is a society whose main aspiration is to stimulate students in the study of geography and, to enhance the schoolmates’ knowledge in the subject. In September, we launched a P.1 to P.5 promotion program and 90 new members joined in our Annual General Meeting held in October.

During the Lunar New Year holiday, we invited Sacred Heart Canossian College to organize a Joint School Field Trip to Po Toi Island. The executive committees from Sacred Heart Canossian College had prepared some interesting games for the participants. At the field site, the participants observed many geographical and weathering features such as block disintegration, exfoliation, honeycombs weathering and other types of physical and chemical weathering features. Some special and strange features such as Budist’s Palm Rock, Tortolite Rock, Monk Rock, Coffin Rock were also found during the field trip. Moreover, some coastal features like geo and stack could also be observed from the islands nearby.

This year, our society also organized another field trip for the lower form students. Under the guidance of Miss Tam Wai Ling, a field trip was organized to Tai Po Kau rain forest area in late November. During the trip, some of the characteristics of a typical rain forest and weathering features were studied.

In this academic year, we took up the post of External Secretary in the Joint School Geography Association (J.S.G.A.). Besides, our school was elected as the working member of five different sub-committees, namely Field Camp sub-committee, Field Trip sub-committee, Academic Board sub-committee, Exhibition sub-committee and Orienteering sub-committee.

The walkathon, lectures, field trips and field camp organized by J.S.G.A. were all well received. The field trip to Cheung Chau was the most memorable one. Not only did this field trip offer us an opportunity to eye the delicate coastal features, but also our map-reading skills and analytical power were enhanced. As this event received unexpectedly excellent response, a field camp will be organized in the coming summer vacation.

Last but not least, we would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere gratitude to the teacher advisor of Sacred Heart Canossian College, Miss Kathleen Chu, who tried her best to assist and advise our committee during the preparation stage in the Joint School Field Trip. We would also like to express heartfelt appreciation to our Teacher Advisor, Mr. Fong Chi Yeung. Without his invaluable guidance, enthusiasm and support, our society would unquestionably not be run so smoothly and successfully.

As a gathering place for Christians and non-Christians, the Gospel Train expresses itself by giving and sharing. "My children, our love should not just be words and talk; it must be true love, which shows itself in action." (1 John 3:18), the motto of the Gospel Train, lays the foundation of the whole year's activities and is the source of our inspiration.

This academic year, we held weekly gatherings in Room 403 on Wednesdays as. Emphasis was put on uniting the Christians in our school and spreading the Good News to our fellow schoolmates. With thanks to God, we experienced deeply His grace and guidance on us. Through various activities such as Bible study, hymn appreciation, role play games, debates and video shows, we were united together as a real family and shared experience in Christian life.

Jesus said, "I tell you more: whenever two of you on Earth agree about anything you pray for, it will be done by our Father in heaven." (Matthew 18:19). In view of this, we held prayer meetings on Fridays during lunch time. Our difficulties, worries and weakness were then out into God's hand through prayers, for we believe that God's promise of strength, guidance and support is always there for us to take.

Yet we did not just stay in the school campus, we also had a Picnic Gathering at Sai Kung in March. Situating at the magnificent scene of nature, we were reminded of God's great words and His grace in giving us his beloved son Jesus to save us from sins. We all realized the truth of an old saying, "the visible world reveals the invisible God."

Our success in the past year must be attributed to the constant guidance and invaluable advice of our teacher advisors, Mr. Jaxon Wang, Miss Carol Ip and Miss Shirley Lam. We hope that this Train of Gospel will be led by God's own promising hand now and forever.

The History Society aims at stimulating and promoting the interest of students in the study of both History and Chinese History. In early October, we held the First Annual General Meeting and altogether 34 members were enrolled.

Starting from late October, a series of meetings were held. During these meetings, notes, past HKCEE papers and other relevant materials were distributed to the members. Our committee members also made every effort to enlighten them on the proper way to cope with difficulties they encounter in their study of history. We hope our members would perform better in both public and internal examinations.

In late March, an Inter-Class History Quiz for F.1 to F.3 students was organized. The Quiz was divided into the heats and final rounds. Each round comprised of two parts. Part one consisted of 15 compulsory questions for each class while part two consisted of 30 quick response questions. Questions on both History and Chinese History were asked. The performance of competitors was good, and the quiz ended in an exciting and harmonic atmosphere. Each team member of the champion classes was awarded a certificate and a special gift. The best important goal is that the quiz not only made the competitors able to acquire more history knowledge, but also to arouse their interest in the study of history.

Last but not least, we are greatly indebted to our teacher advisors Miss Tang Tsuen, Miss Cecilia Tang and Miss Catherine Lam, for their valuable suggestions and guidance throughout the year. Without their zealous support the smooth operation of the History Society would not have been possible.

Mathematics is an art in science. It involves a lot of thinking and so, it can help us to have a more mature mental development. Therefore, the aim of the Mathematics Society is to arouse students' interest in Mathematics. Bearing this aim in mind, we welcome students of all forms, no matter whether they are from the art or science stream. The First General Meeting was held on 26th October, 1994. As in previous years, the response was very encouraging—162 students were recruited as members. First of all, in November, members were encouraged to take part in the Statistical Project Competition for Secondary School Students. Next, in order to develop students' interest in Mathematics, a series of lectures had been held throughout the academic year. These lectures covered many areas of daily living and the response from students was very good.

We believe that practice makes perfect. So, both internal and external past examination papers were photocopied and given to Form 1 to Form 4 members. Internal mock examination past papers were also photocopied and given to Form 5 members, so as to help them better prepare for the HKCEE.

Competitions were also organized by our society. In early March, we organized the Friendly Match Mathematics Competition with the Mathematics Societies from other schools. Nine schools were invited to participate and our school team obtained a satisfactory result. In May, the Interclass Mathematics Quiz was held for Form 1 to Form 4 students. These competitions were very keen, We hope that our schoolmates would raise their standards in Mathematics through these competitions.

As in the previous year, we took part in the Joint School Mathematics Society. One of our committee members was elected as the vice-chairman of the JSMS, while another two were elected as the directors of the sub-committees. Our members enjoyed themselves in the activities organised by the JSMS. These activities included a visit, walkathon and a Mathematics competition. In April, our school participated in the Inter-school Mathematics Context and obtained satisfactory results.

Finally, we would like to express our heartfelt gratitude to our teacher advisors, Miss M.L.Luk and Mr. K.S.Wat, who have given us support and guidance. Without their help, we could not have run the Society so smoothly this year.

The aim of the Music Society is to uplift the standard of music appreciation for all LaSallians. Under the auspices of our teacher advisor, Miss Sita Ho, and with the full support of the students, our Society went through a remarkably successful year.

This year's program started off with the Annual Talent Quest co-organized with the CCB in November. It was divided into 4 sections: solo-singing, group-singing and band. We were much delighted to see that the music standard in this college was greeted with applause.

In November, we jointly organized the MIDI Class with Electronics and Computer Society. MIDI (Musical Instrument Digital Interface) is the most common format of computerized music. As it may be new to our members, we organized this course so that they could have a better understanding of it. 4 lessons were given. In the first three lessons, theory was taught and in the last lesson, a demonstration of how computerized music can be produced with a MIDI keyboard was given. Students showed keen interest in it.

At the Christmas Gathering, our society was responsible for a stall game. It was greatly supported by our schoolmates and the stall game was very successful.

In April, we organized the 'Music Week' which consisted of 2 programs, namely, the Music Quiz and the mini-concert. The Music Quiz was held for Form 1 and Form 2 students. The champion classes were F.1B and F.2F respectively. The mini-concert was jointly organized with the School Choir and the School Orchestra. With the full support of our fellow schoolmates, it proved to be a success.

Furthermore, the Music Society organized a Music Theory Class for Form 1 and Form 2 students which aimed at providing supplementary aids for those who do not fully understand the music theory taught during lessons.

Externally, our members took an active part in the Joint School Music Association (JSMA). In March, the JSMA organized a newsletter and our school played an important role in it. Newsletters were distributed to our members. During the summer vacation, the JSMA will hold a singing contest. Our school took up the responsible post of External Secretary.

Lastly, we would like to take this opportunity to express our thanks towards our teacher advisor, Miss Sita Ho, for her invaluable guidance.

Many scholars and socialists complain that nowadays most students are indifferent to what is happening in the society. The gaining popularity of TV games and personal computers have made them become more and more self-centred. In response to this, our club aims at providing opportunities for members to visit various government departments and big companies which are purposely-designed to give insight to their structures and operations, and to arouse students' awareness and interest in society.

After the Annual General Meeting which recruited about 150 members, we started to organise our first visit with the Senior Science Club of The Ying Wah Girls' School to the Future Safe Company Ltd. - A factory that recycles used paper. We were astonished to find piles of paper which nearly filled a quarter of the factory. The guide told us to bear his slogan in mind - Don't waste paper!

Then, we joined The Stamp Collecting Club to visit The International Mail Centre in Hung Hom. After visit, we realised how letters and parcels are mailed.

We paid our third visit to Kowloon Bay MTR Station in the early May. During the visit, the progresses of regular check-up of trains and repairing malfunctioning carriages were demonstrated. The staff told us that these checkings were essential since the company had to ensure the safety of thousands of passengers everyday.

Furthermore, our club is going to help The Student Association to organise several visits which will be held as part of The Summer Programme.

Finally, we would like to express our gratitude to our teacher advisors, Mr. Peter Chiu, Miss Mary Chow and Miss Alice Sitt, since our success is much indebted to their devotion. Lastly, we hope that members joining our club will widen their horizons concerned with society, and be good observers.

Orienteering is a sport which requires map-reading skills, careful route planning and physical fitness. The club aims at developing both skills and interests of our members in orienteering. This year we recruited over forty members.

In October and November, we organized an introductory and elementary course for our new members. The courses were conducted by qualified coaches from the Orienteering Association of Hong Kong (OAHK). Our members had a chance to practise skills in various field ranks. Members who participated in these courses enjoyed it. Certificates and badges were issued by OAHK.

Our club also sent members to participate in various competitions monthly. In the 6th Inter-school Orienteering Competition, our club captured the 2nd runners-up. Although the results might not be regarded as good, they were definitely encouraging to us. Furthermore, we also sent four member, Joe Wong, Thomas Tsoi and Adrian Leung of H16, Anthony Tung of H14, to attend the selection of Hong Kong orienteering team which was organized by OAHK.

The main aim of the Photographic Club is to promote photography as a distinctive and creative form of art through improving the techniques of taking pictures. We have also made a tremendous effort in providing a means for our members to exchange their experience.

This year, over 30 members were enrolled. As a welfare to our members, a discount rate is given to them this year when they plan to purchase several models of cameras. Fundamental photographic courses were conducted to teach our members the basic knowledge of photography. A variety of topics were taken: composition of pictures, use of lights, films, filters and lenses.

Internally, the Club has taken part in the Photo Exhibition of the Inter-school Athletics Meet 1996. We also provided photographers for various functions such as the Speech Day, annual Sports Day and the Swimming Gala, and the results were far beyond satisfying.

Externally, we took part in the Joint School Photographic Society and we did learn a lot from other intermediate level photographers through lectures, outings and photo exhibition.

Last but not least, we would like to give our deepest thanks to our zealous teacher advisers, Mr. Leung Shiu Tak and Mr. Tsang Wing Kay for all their giving us the full support and invaluable guidance throughout the year.

Last year, our training sessions during the summer vacation were well received by our schoolmates. This year the training was continued. After the beginning of the academic year, the Physical Fitness Room was opened for our club members and school team members for about three or four days a week, both during lunch time and after school until around 5 o’clock. Although among our 100 members, less than one third used the Physical Fitness Room regularly, under the guidance of our teacher advisers and committee members, those who were determined to do so showed marvelous improvement.

Invited by some of our ex-committee members, our committee paid a visit to the Flora Ho Sports Center of the University of Hong Kong during the Chinese New Year holidays and learnt much about physical training. It was interesting to find that many of their equipment are identical to ours, although ours are a lot newer and in better conditions.

We have had another fruitful year. However, achieving such success was no coincidence, nor was it easy. Besides the numerous efforts contributed by our committee members, lots of constructive advice given by our teacher advisers, Mr. Cheung Ting Por, Mr. Chan Siu Ming and Mr. Chan Chau Mo throughout the year and the watchman of LC2 who worked for hours everyday keeping the Physical Fitness Room clean. Without their effort, it would have been difficult for us to become so successful. To them, and to those who have given us support, we owe our sincere thanks. Lastly, we wish the committee next year every success.

The aim of the Public Speaking Group is to arouse students’ interest and to boost students’ confidence in speaking English.

During the academic year of 94-95, we held our meetings every Tuesday. We introduced a new system of the meetings this year. Instead of having lectures and group discussions during one meeting, we had these two parts scheduled on alternate weeks so that the students could have a more intense study of English and may have more chances to speak English.

During the lectures, which were conducted by Mr. Tse, students learnt how to use the phonetic symbols and can perform ‘three-minute talks’ before other students. This encouraged students to speak English more freely. Also, students played a game called ‘Kumite’ a game which is similar to a debate. Through this game, students had the chance to train their brainwork and express their ideas in English. During the Radio Model Control Club

Group discussion periods, Mr. Fong and Mrs. Chong discussed various topics with our members and they could express their views freely.

Participating in the Hong Kong Speech Festival was one of the highlights for our group members. Although the festival was held in November, our group members started to practise in October with the help of our teacher advisors. The response to this festival was so keen that the number of participants broke the school record. The result of the competition was encouraging. Four boys obtained 1st prize in their respective events. More than 20 of our schoolmates received certificates of merit. After this competition, our members gained much experience, too.

In April, an internal speech festival was organised. Members and non-members participated in 9 different events. Trophies, shields and prizes were given to them as an encouragement.

Lastly, we would like to express our heart-felt thanks to Mr. Peter Tse, Mr. Fong Chi Yeung and Mrs. C.P.C. Chong for their valuable advice and guidance throughout the year. Without them, the group could not have run so smoothly and efficiently.

The Radio Control Model Club aims at arousing students' interest and broadening their knowledge in radio control models. Over forty members were enrolled this academic year.

Throughout the year, lectures were conducted every two weeks, they included topics on scale models, 4WD model cars and garage kits. Members who had problems on them could get help from the experienced lecturers.

At the Christmas Gathering and Fun Fair, our club ran stail games. With the great support from our schoolmates, the stall games were successful.

Two radio control model cars races were held during Christmas and the Easter holidays. Participants built up their friendship through this function.

A model exhibition was held in March. More than thirty schoolmates participated in this exhibition. All participants showed their talent in modelling. Adjudicator had a hard job to pick out the best exhibit.

In conclusion, we paid much effort to achieve our goal, and we made progress in this academic year. Lastly, we would like to take this opportunity to thank our teacher advisors Mr. Sham Chor Wai and Mr. W. Leung for their invaluable advice and support.

Under the guidance of our teacher advisers and good effort of our members, this year has been a very successful year for the School Orchestra. We started to recruit new members in early October and an audition was held for them. Finally, more than 20 talented members were recruited.

In order to sharpen the performing skills of our members, we practised twice a week. The outcome of our diligent practices could be heard in our performances in various school functions and inter-school competitions.

On Speech Day, under the baton of Mr. Kwok, we performed String Sonata No.2 composed by Rossini. Our performance was well received. The hard work of our members did pay off.

Besides internal functions, we also participated in various external activities. During the mid-autumn festival, invited by the Joint School Music Society, we performed at Po Leung Kuk. Moreover, in November, we performed in the Annual String Interflow held by the Music Office. The audience's response to our performance was very encouraging.

This year we again participated in the Schools Music Festival and gained brilliant results. Our String Orchestra played Vivaldi's "The Four Seasons" and Britten's "Simple Symphony" in the Intermediate String Orchestra section. In spite of the small team size, our orchestra captured the championship. This year was only the second year we had entered this competition, but we came out winners, the best result our school orchestra has ever had.

Furthermore, our members were also very successful in other individual competitions. Two of our senior members, Raymond Lau (6C) and Lau Tin Hang, Peter (5C), played the demanding Prokofiev's "Violin Duo" in the Senior Violin Duet competition and won the first prize. This success marked the end of the domination by a certain school over this competition. In addition, our cellist, Seanon Wong (2F), who is only a form two student, captured the second prize in the Senior Cello Solo competition, highly praised by the adjudicators.

In March, we also participated in the Joint School Music Competition. Our La Salle Quartet, with Cheng Ka Ming (6C) and Raymond Lau (6C) playing the violin, Yuen Lap Yan (5D) playing the viola, and Seanon Wong (2F) playing the cello, gave an outstanding performance of Tchaikovsky's "String Quartet No.1" in the Western Ensemble section. Of course, we were awarded the championship.

Besides achieving good results in the competitions, our members also acquired opportunities to participate in international music functions. Six of our members, Philip Yeung Sze Leung, Cheng Ka Ming, Victor Lam, Peter Lau Tin Hang, Edmund Yip and Seanon Wong joined the Hong Kong Youth Symphony Orchestra (HKYSO) in her Beijing tour last summer. Moreover, Cheng Ka Ming (6C), who is currently the concertmaster of the HKYSO, has been selected to represent Hong Kong in the 1995 World Youth Symphony Orchestra Interlochen Arts Camp to be held in the United States this coming summer. This will certainly add valuable experience to his life.

To round up, we would like to express our sincere gratitude to our teacher advisers Mr. Alex Kwok, Miss Sita Ho and Miss Grace Wu for their precious guidance and support. Without their help, we would never have been able to achieve so much this year.

Here, we promise all LaSallians that we will continue to do our best and make La Salle famous not only for her sports and academic results, but also for her musical performance.

With the enthusiastic support of our schoolmates, the School Choir continued to promote 'borderless sound' in the year. Also, schoolmates may have realised that the School Choir this year is not simply a 'traditional' one.

The first performance in the year was at the Annual Speech Day in November 1995. The Junior School Choir sang a number of songs selected from the Walt Disney Movies including 'Bare Necessities' and 'Candle on the Water'. Then the choir concluded the performance with a Chinese song 'Hope' and won loud applause from the audience.

In December, the Junior School Choir performed in the Variety Show at the Christmas Gathering. As the prelude to the variety show, the choir sang some famous Christmas carols including 'Joy to the World', 'O'Christmas Tree' and 'Away in the Manger'. The performance was well-received by the audience and our members also gained much experience from this performance.

After the Easter Holiday, a joint-department mini-concert was organised as a programme for the Music Week. The concert 'Voices in One' was held in the music room. The Junior School Choir sang a number of folk songs from different countries including 'Moscow Nights' from Russia, 'Banana Boat Leaders' from Jamaica, 'Rasa Sayang E' from Indonesia and also a Negro Spiritual 'My Lord, What a Morning'. It was then followed by the performance of the School Orchestra.

This year, the School Choir continued its previous good harvest and we would like to thank our teacher advisor, Miss Sita Ho for her support and guidance.

The main aim of the Squash Club is to provide our students with the opportunity to learn how to play squash and to gain experience through competitions.

This year we gave our members the chance to participate in different squash competitions on campus and in other inter-school squash competitions. The Inter-class Squash Competition and the Individual Championship were held in mid April and February. The response was very good. Many classes and students participated in the competitions. Each competition was divided into junior and senior sections. Through these competitions, the players gained much experience and improved their skills. It was encouraging as we realized that the standard of the competitors was surprisingly high.

Last but not least, we would like to thank our teacher advisors, Mr. Paul Ip and Mr. Joseph Hui, for the work, time and devotion they have put into the running of the Squash Club. Without their valuable help and advice, the club would not have run so smoothly.

The Science Society (formerly Science Union) is the society with the longest history among all the clubs in La Salle. The aims of the club are to arouse students' interest in science and broaden their knowledge in the subject. Our annual general meeting was held in mid-October and about 60 members were recruited.

External activities:
This year, more emphasis has been put on external activities, so that the members can share the fun of studying science with students from other schools.

1. Joint School Science Test (JSST)

It is a 'pre-mock' examination for F.5 science students. Being the chairman school, our society helped more than 100 F.5 students from La Salle to take this test, which was proved to be useful to them preparing for the HKCEE.

2. The 28th Joint School Science Exhibition (JSSE)

The JSSE is one of the largest joint school functions in Hong Kong. Two students from our school have become EXCO members. In addition, our school entered the finals of the 'Proposal Competition'. Our exhibits will be displayed at the exhibition which will be held in July.

3. Joint School Science Competition '96

Being one of the founders, our representative was chosen to be the Vice-chairman. Apart from the traditional science knowledge quiz, the competition included the practical applications of science followed by a presentation on pollution problems. This competition helped to arouse students' interest in science.

4. Other Science Competitions

Besides organising functions, our club was also responsible for sending representatives to various science quizes and competitions. Our school participated in the Joint School Science Contest and captured the first runners-up in the Bridge Constructing Section. Moreover, our school entered the semifinal of the Joint School Science Quiz.

Internal activities:
The Science Society was also active in internal activities.

1. Board Exhibition

In August, a board was put up in LG1 during the Newcomers' Day in order to arouse the interests of the new LaSallians in science. In May, the Float Tour Exhibition organized by the Joint School Science Exhibition will come to our school to promote this function.

2. Visits

In December, we visited the Science Museum. There was a special exhibition entitled 'Our time in space'. Many F.1 and F.2 members joined the visit and it was a good opportunity for them to learn more about man and space. In February, the club organised a visit to the Chemistry Department of the Hong Kong Baptist University. Members ranging from F.1 to F.4 joined this visit. Demonstrations of some interesting chemistry experiments, video tapes and computer programs were shown to the students.

3. Inter-class Science Quiz

In April and May, Inter-class Science Quizes for F.1 and F.2 students were held. Through those quizes, our schoolmates were able to test their knowledge in science. Souvenirs were given to the champion classes.

Finally, we would like to express our sincere gratitude to our teacher advisors, Mr. Sham, Miss Lam and Mr. Chan, for their endless support and valuable advice throughout the year.

Throughout our first general meeting in the mid-October, 120 members enrolled. It was a record ever and signaled our will to become reanimated and revitalized. The objective of the Stamp Collecting Club is to arouse interest of more Students in the activity. Moreover, we also hope that members can broaden their knowledge and promote friendship among themselves through our activities.

1) Advanced Ordering of the First Day Cover Service—Among the numerous activities we held, the ‘Advanced Ordering of the First Day Cover Service’ was still the our main activity. With close cooperation with the Philatelic Bureau of the General Post Office, we were helped in the ordering of the local first day covers such as Hong Kong Cornals, Year of Pig, Hong Kong International Sport Events and Hong Kong Rural Heritages. Moreover, this year we extended our service to order the first day covers of other foreign countries like the Sydney 2000 Olympic Game, Australian Zoo, Eucalyptus and the Japanese New Year Greeting Stamp. We hoped that the members could know more about the world through the stamps.

2) Stamp Exchanging Session. The ‘Stamp Exchanging Session’ was one of the traditional functions of the club. During the general meetings, we provided opportunities for the members to share their collections. We hoped that the members could increase their collections and promote friendship among themselves through the sessions.

3) Visits to enrich the knowledge of the members. This year we organized two visits this year. At the end of January, a visit to the International Mail Centre was held jointly with the Observers’ Club. All participants had the chance to see and even operate the newly installed Optical Character Recognition System. In the coming July, we will pay another visit to the General Post Office. We hoped that through these two visits, members could have a clearer idea about the daily operation of the post office.

4) Stamp Exhibition – This year, we were invited to participate in many different kinds of stamp exhibitions which were held by different organizations such as the exhibition held by the China Philatelic Society in November. In April, we organized a Joint School Stamp Exhibition with the Stamp Collecting Club / Philatelic Club of Hong Kong Wah Yan College, Sacred Heart Canossian College and St. Joseph’s College. Our members also received free souvenirs sponsored by the Philatelic Bureau of the General Post Office in the exhibition.

5) Joint School Philatelic Quiz – During the Easter Holiday, we formed a team to participate in a Joint School Philatelic Quiz which was held by the Joint School Philatelic Society. Our representatives Chan Wing Hong, Arthur (1D), Tse Tsung Ting, Christopher (3E), Hong, Edwin (6A), Wong Lik Shun, Eric (6A) and Yip Ting Fai, Peter (6A) performed well in the competition. Although finally we were 10 points behind and could not make the final three, a good relationship was established with the participants of other schools.

6) Publication – In order to enhance the philatelic knowledge of our members, this year we provided notes concerning general stamp knowledge regularly to all members and they reaped benefits from these notes. Finally, we would like to express our sincere appreciation to our teacher advisors Miss Becky Lam, Miss Shirley Lam and our new teacher advisor, Miss Cheng Po Chu for their invaluable advice and zealous support throughout the year.

This is the sixth year since the establishment of the Tae Kwon Do Students’ Fraternity. Our club has proceeded well under the guidance of our teacher advisors and the support of students. We are glad to see that our members are not only physically strengthened but also have inculcated an indomitable spirit.

Our aims are to propagate the meaning of a chivalrous spirit and to provide a chance for our schoolmates to achieve a healthier being through practising this Korean traditional art. The training was demanding. However, our boys found it very interesting and challenging especially when they had the freestyle practice. Through the freestyle practice, they could make use of the techniques of attack and defence, showing their enthusiasm and endurance in learning Tae Kwon Do.

We held a training course every Thursday and a promotion test every three months. Our members passed with excellent results in the test and were promoted to higher grades. Also, we had held a Christmas Party in December.

Lastly, we would like to thank our instructor, Mr. Lau Hon Leung and teacher advisors for their support and advice. Without their guidance and supervision, the Fraternity could never have had such a successful year.

This year, the Volleyball Club continued to work to enhance the popularity of the sport within our school.

At our annual general meeting in October, more than 50 sportive junior students who actively took part in various activities that we organized throughout the academic year joined the club.

Inter-class competitions for junior, senior and matriculated students were held in May, November, January respectively. It was undeniable that the competitions were very keen and entertaining. Therefore, crowds of spectators were attracted to gather around the court and to support their classes.

As in previous years, two training courses were organized for our members in December and April in order to sharpen participant’s basic skills. Being the organizers, we were delighted to see that our members had shown great enthusiasm and eagerness during the courses.

Last, but not least, we would like to express our deep gratitude towards our teacher advisors, for their valuable guidance.
“There are famous schools in plenty,
With theire heroes by the score,
And they flourish high and mighty,
But Lasalle is something more.”
Athletics Team

No matter how hardly you could believe, how poignant you could feel, it is anyhow a truth that we lost the Inter-school Athletics Meet this year, and the McEwan Shield has gone to a place where it did not deserve. In the heart of every Lasallian, however, it was another glorious victory, as we succeeded again in elucidating everyone what is TRUE SPORTSMANSHIP by showing them FAIR PLAY, which we did traditionally, and will keep on doing unceasingly.

"May we either as champions or losers live up to the name of true sportsmen by showing fair play, recognizing others though who may be better but not the luck to get the honours."

— 85'-86'

"No matter what results we got, we ought to be proud of ourselves because we won with 100% Lasallians and we won it in our own effort."

— 92'-93'

With the departure of some outstanding athletes, the athletics team was a bit more vulnerable compared with last year's. As a result, we first tasted the bitterness of training early in December, expecting that through training, the tyros could make obvious improvements, and the experienced could be in their best forms at competitions. However, things were not going as we wished. At the very moment before the Inter-school Athletics Meet, injuries happened to many a team member, which made them unable to fight in their best conditions. Nonetheless, all of us were willing to be at pains to fight; none of us was willing to give up, though we faced a lot of discouragement, from both outside and inside the school.

"To a La Salle athlete, winning is not his most important aim compared to participation and improvement. 'Second to none' would be both meaningless and hollow if there was no genuine effort made."

— 88'-89'

"They (La Salle athletes) simply said, 'I want to win for La Salle.' Yes, it was this strong sense of belonging, which we call 'La Salle Spirit', that motivated them to overcome all odds."

— 89'-90'

At last, the competition came. With the 'Never-Say-Die' spirit, our B and C grade teams overmatched the arch-rival and gained the victories. For our A graders, it was a totally different scene. They were facing a newly combined Hong Kong Junior Athletics Team! They tried their best and obtained the 1st runners-up. However, the loss in A grade was too great that the superiority of the B and C grade could not match it. Notwithstanding we lost, there was no shame on us because we have tried our best to fight, just as our slogan says, "Be calm and do your best, that's all La Salle requests", only those who achieved their success immorally might feel ashamed.

"We were fighting against a 'United College Team' with sweat, blood and tears of 100% Lasallians."

— 90'-91'

Someone may ask a Lasallian, "How dare you say that you got it with your own hands?" We dare to say it because WE REALLY GOT IT WITH OUR OWN HANDS! Only those who win by poaching athletes have no courage to say it, but this will never happen in La Salle!

Again and again, forthright gratitude should be given to the coaches of the team, Mr.T.P. Cheung, Mr.C.M. Chan and Mr. S.M.Chan, for their guidance given to and effort put in the team; Bro. Patrick and Bro. Mark, for their concern to the team; the Student Association, for organizing the cheering team, which was very important to us; teachers and fellow students, who came and gave us their greatest support; and most importantly, the old boys, who spared a lot of time to come and support us with their imperishable spirit, which could hardly be seen in other schools.

"We gain, as we paid; we play fairly, since we are true sportsmen; we feel proud, because we got it with our own hands."

Overall
Inter-school Athletics Meet '95

Day 1

The Inter-school Athletics Championship 1994-95 began at 8:30 a.m. on 8th March. The venue is the same as previous years, the Wanchai Sports Ground. There were 26 boys events on that day, including 7 finals and 19 heats. Our school participated in all of these events and got good results in the first day.

The day started with the Boys B grade Shot Put and two of our excellent team-members, Chiu Hao Kan and Albert Ngai, gave our team a good beginning of the day by winning the first two places in the event with throws of 13.90m and 13.50m respectively. That was also the first medal of our school in the Championship. The second event on that day was C grade Discus final. Although they were competing with the strong opponents from other schools, Stephen Lau and Lam Chun Pong threw 29.34m and 27.50m respectively and squeezed themselves into the top eight and gained us valuable points.

Then it came the A grade 400 Hurdles. Mak Ho Nung and Law Chee Ho kept their usual shape and entered the semi-final without any difficulties.

The events followed was 200m. It began with C grade. C grade is always the strongest in our school and the C graders also did well this year. Leung Ka Kit and Jacky Chan did not disappoint us, both of them gained their way into the semi-finals. In B grade, both Jonathan To and Lo Chi Hang took their places and entered the final without any difficulty. In A grade 200m, Tung Ting Chung entered the semi-final ranking the 10th. However, Kong Wing Ho could not gain himself a position in the semi-final probably because of the lack of practice.

The final event followed was A grade Discus. We put great hope on our two representatives, Lam Hong Tak and Kwok Chi Lung, and they didn’t let us down. Lam won the 1st runners-up with a throw of 33.20m while Kwok won his bronze medal by throwing 31.60m. Then it came the A grade High Jump final. Both of our representatives, Dickson Hui and Yu Ching, jumped 1.72m and ranked 2nd and 4th respectively in the event and gained us 12 points.

The next final event was the C grade Long Jump. Terence Mak got a silver medal in the event while his team-mate, Wai Sin Hei, could only finish the race as the 5th despite his great effort. Their results on the day were 5.73m and 5.46m respectively.

Attentions were shifted to the track events then since there were no more field events until the lunch break. The immediate event was 1500m. Hau Yuen Cheung, one of our best athletes in C grade, showed his champion potential by finishing the heat in the 1st rank. His teammate, Leung Hoi Shun also managed himself to enter the final. In B grade, Danny To, a talented runner as well as a brilliant swimmer, easily found his way entering the final. However, our three year winner of the best-all-round student award, Lo Bill Archie, failed to enter the final despite his effort in the practice before. It was followed by the A grade 1500m, Ricky Leitao gave us no surprise and entered the final smoothly but Luk Hoi On, under the pressure of the HKCEE, could not perform his best and just failed to squeeze himself into the final.

The last event before lunch was 400m. The C grade boys, Tang Lap Shing and Chan Yuk Pang, got themselves through the heats into the semi with their brilliance. After his excellent performance in the 200m, Lo Chi Hang again showed us his great talent in athletics by finished the heat of 400m as the 1st runners-up and gained himself a position in the semi-final. Lois team-mate, Au Ying Man also pushed himself into the semi-final as the 4th in the heat. In the A grade 400m heats, both Law Chee Ho and Tung Hing Chung showed their potential and earned their positions in the semi-final.

The A grade Triple Jump final was immediately after the lunch break. Yu Hiu To showed us the result of his hard-working practice and jumped 12.60m, the best result throughout the entire year, and got himself a silver medal. However, affected by his injury, Ma Kam Wing only got the 5th rank.

While the A grade Triple Jump had just finished, 100m Hurdles begun on the track. It was quite disappointing that only Tung Yuk Yu was able to gain his position in the C grade final, but Wong Man Kin could not. In B grade 100m Hurdles, the two representatives of our school, Wong Wai Leung and Lai Tsz Cheung performed steadily and entered the final as expected. In the 110m Hurdles, although against tough opposition, Ma Kin Kwok and Andy Chan found their ways entering the semi-final.

When the Hurdles were ended, it was time for the field event again. In B grade Javelin, Carmelo Lopez threw for 44.20m and continued to announce himself to be the king of the event.

A newcomer in the event, Chiu Hao Kan, defeated his nervousness and performed very well in the competition and earned himself his first silver medal in Javelin with a throw of 42.62m.

Now it came the most exciting sprint, 100m. Although being asked not to push themselves too hard in the heats, Jacky Chan and Leung Ka Kit in C grade finished the heats ranking the 3rd and 5th respectively. The event followed was B grade 100m, Jonathan To and Fung Si Luen showed their superiority in the event and earned their positions in the final easily. In A grade, Ma Kam Wing, neglecting the tire from the events before and his injury, got a position in the semi-final. Unfortunately, another star runner in our school, Lau Chung Sing, had injured in the competition before and could not attend the Championship or our school was sure for another place in the semi.

The first day of the Championship ended up with 4 x 400m relay. All of our relay team did very well, entering respective finals with ease.

Our school was leading the others at the end of the first day and we hoped that such situation would last throughout the three days.
Day 2

The second day of the Division 1 Inter-school Athletics Championship 94-95 commenced on the 14th March, 1995. Although all the La Salle boys were aware of the fact that we were leading the other schools on Day 1, they still tried their best in order to ensure we would be able to capture the Overall Championship on Day 3.

The first Boys event on the day was the B grade Long-Jump. It was quite disappointing because only Im Ka Yeung could pushed himself into the top eight with a jump of 5.73m while his team-mate, Lee Kin Wai, could not. In the semi-finals of A grade 400m Hurdles, Mak Ho Nung ranked 5th in the semi but his way into the final, but Law Chee Ho only ranked 9th and just failed to enter the race on Day 3.

B grade 3000m followed. Although competing with 38 opponents, Danny To finished the race in 10:05min and got the 4th in the event. Another representative, Lo Bill Archie, restored his courage by gaining himself the 6th position in this event.

In the A grade 5000m race, Amarjit Singh showed us his potential in distant running and managed to get into the top eight with time 18:08min despite the tough opposition. Ricky Leitao was unable to show his best probably because he was facing the HKAL and was just off from the top eight.

After the above long distance races came the 100m sprint. The C graders started first as usual. Jacky Chan once again showed his talent over short distance running finishing the heat in a superb time of 11.95s, a time even better than Kevin Liu, the school's sports captain last year, in the same event. Leung Ka Kit also managed himself to enter the final in 12.26s.

Our B grade sprinters, Jonathan To and Fung Si Luen gave us a shot in the arm by moving themselves into the final with remarkable time, 11.70s and 11.77s respectively. The A grade 100m was the most disappointing event on the whole day. Ma Kam Wing was unable to find his way into the final due to his injuries.

When the exciting 100m sprints were over, the B grade Discus began immediately. John Shum announced himself the king of the event with a throw of 42.40m, his best result in this year. Carmelo Lopez, the champion in B grade Shot Put, seized the bronze medal from a DBS boy with a 1.20m further.

Leung Man Chung and Calvin Chan, encouraged by their team-mates' excellent performance, also did well in the B grade High Jump and ranked 3th and 4th respectively. Meanwhile, another field event, C grade Shot Put took place. Due to their inexperience, Pang Kai Chun and So Chin Man were so nervous that they did not perform well. As a result, Pang was just off from the medal list with the 4th position and So was unable to push himself into the top eight.

A grade Long Jump was the last field event before the lunch break. Yu Hiu To and Roy Wong defeated most of their opponents and got the 4th and 6th rank with the result of 6.34m and 6.22m respectively. Their good performance increased our overall result with 8 points, thus getting nearer to the Overall Championship.

The attention was shifted back to the track again. 800m sprints were the next event. Two C graders, Hau Yuen Cheung and Tang Lap Shing, showed their champion potential. They finished the race with excellent time of 2:11.81 and 2:13.48 respectively. This could be used as a prediction of their remarkable performance on Day 3.
Our B grade athletes, Adrian Lei and Au Ying Man, also found no difficulty in entering the final. Our senior runners, Luk Hoi On and Mak Ho Nung, found their way moving into the final with ease.

As the middle distance running had finished, it was time for the battle of ‘half-lap’ races. Jacky Chan, our only representative in C grade, was not satisfied with his result on Day 1 and ended up the race with a better time of 24.46s.

Jonathan To, after entering the 100m B grade final, again managed himself into the final of the 200m sprint. His team-mate, Lo Chi Hang, although finding it a little bit harder, also captured a place in the final on Day 3. In A grade, Tung Hing Chung secured his position in the final with a time of 24.25s.

Towards the end of lunch, the hurdles were once again ready for the B and C grade 100m Hurdles and A grade 110m Hurdles. In the C grade semi-final, Tung Yuk Yu kept his good shape and entered the final with good performance.

In B grade, both Lai Tsz Cheung and Wong Wai Leung did improve their performance and got themselves tracks in the final. In the A grade 110m Hurdles, Ma Kin Kowk cleared all the hurdles in 15.58s and ranked 2nd in the heat. However, Andy Chan was unable to make into the final.

The last field event on Day 2 was A grade Javelin. With a throw of 39.02m, Roy Wong placed himself in the 7th rank in the event. Another A grade athlete, Lam Hong Tak, was not fortunate enough to squeeze himself into the top eight under such tough opposition.

The last individual event was the ‘full-lap’ races. Tung Lap Shing moved into the C grade 400m final easily with an excellent time of 55.82s. However, Chan Yuk Pang could not enter the final with the result 58.77s.

The two B grade runners, Lo Chi Hang and Au Ying Man, did not let us down. They finished the lap with 54.53s and 53.79s respectively and entered the final as the 1st and 3rd.

Tung Hing Chung continued to perform well and go on his place in the final without any difficulty, but Law Chee Ho could not make his way into the final despite his effort.

The second day of the Championship finished with the 4 x 100m relay. All of our relay team walked into the final with ease.

At the end of the second day competition, we were still leading the others and all the Lasalle athletes would try their best to keep it this way in the third day of the Inter-school Athletics Championship.
Day 3

On 17th March, 1995, the “Judgement Day” came. It was the last phase of the Hong Kong Inter-School Athletics Championship. On that day, the mild weather contributed a nice day for the finals. Moreover, all the Lasallians once again assembled at Wan Chai Stadium to support our enthusiastic athletes and wished they could bring the Glory to our school.

After Day Two, we were leading our traditional rival by 15 points but our situation was not optimistic, since our arch-rival had more “athletes” to enter the final-round than us, especially in A Grade. If all went the same as in the semi-finals, we would lose by a considerable margin. All our athletes, being conscious of the fact, were determined to put their best to fight until the end.

The first field event of the day was the A Grade Shot Putt. Wong Pak Ki performed very well throughout the competition. Unfortunately, he faced two strong opponents and only got a bronze medal with a throw of 11.42m, while his teammate, Kwok Chi Lung was affected greatly by his waist problems and was only able to gain a standard point despite his effort.

The next event was the B Grade Triple Jump. Im Ka Yeung was a newcomer to the event. He faced stiff competition but with his talent in jumping, he made a good leap of 12.44m. Actually, he only had a 0.04m slice over a “new” Diocesan boy. This slice brought him to the 3rd place. The performance of another Triple Jumper, Larry Lee, was affected by his injury but he tried his best to get a standard point for our team.

The last field event in the morning was the C Grade High Jump. Terence Mak was full of confidence and performed remarkably. He made a good beginning for the School by capturing the champion of the event with a powerful jump of 1.7m while Lee Cham Bond also did well to squeeze himself into the top eight.

Focus was then shifted to the track where the A Grade 400m Hurdles final proceeded. Our hurler Mak Ho Nung, was the only one of our school who entered the final. He was eventually ranked 4th, just fell off the medal-list.
The semi-lap race followed. Here came our promising Jacky Chan. Last year, he only ranked 4th in this event. This year, he showed his championship potential by winning other competitors in 24.44sec. Well done, Jacky! Then, his B Grade seniors, Lo Chi Hang and Jonathan To also performed well by getting 3rd and 5th positions respectively. The situation in A Grade was very different. Tung Hing Chung faced a much steeper challenge because he was the only one to represent us in this event. To make the matter worse, his opponents were very strong since there were 2 DBS opponents who were the representatives of Hong Kong Junior Athletics Team. Tung did try his best and got a valuable position mark for us.

The last events before lunch were the 800m run, our representatives were the two C Grade brilliant runners, Hau Yuen Cheung and Tang Lap Shing. With their talent, they grasped a gold and a silver medals with times of 2:09.64min. and 2:12.93min. respectively. Then the B Grade run followed. The opponents in this event were very strong, especially the two DBS boys. Moreover, Au Ying Man needed to reserve energy for the 400m race that would be held immediately after lunch while Adrian Lee’s performance was not very pleasing. They only came 7th and 8th in this race. In the A Grade, since Mak Ho Nung has not yet completely recovered after he had a race in the 400m Hurdles before, while his teammate, Luk Ho On, was not in his best shape, their performances were a little bit disappointing. Lastly, they came 5th and 6th with times of 2:07.92min. and 2:08.49min. respectively.

After that, the events in the morning were finished. By now, we were only 5 points behind our rival, DBS (A Grade was trailing by 27.5 points, B grade was leading by 13.5 points and C Grade was also leading by 9 points). Everyone held over hopes high, and everyone knew we still had a chance, a chance to win, a chance to triumph.

Soon, the stadium was filled with the school spirit. All Lasallians’ voices were giving out an invincible cheer, cheering out to support our Team.

The first event in the afternoon was the C Grade 400m. Although only Tang Lap Shing entered the final-round, he kept in the 2nd place for the whole race and won a silver medal again. In the following event, the B Grade 400m, our two praiseworthy athletes captured both of the first two places. Au Ying Man lost in a morning event but with his “power” saved up, he finished the race in 53.51sec. and seized the goal medal. His counterpart, Lo Chi Hang gained a bronze title in a morning event and now he grasped the silver with a time of 53.88sec. In the A Grade 400m, Tung Hing Chung also got a chance to play in this final-round. In this event, Tung needed to compete again with the same DBS athlete who had come 1st in 200m. At last, Tung ranked 6th with a time of 54.12 sec.

After the 400m came the exciting 100m sprints. In C Grade, Jacky Chan, the champion of the 200m race, also performed well by attaining a silver medal with a time of 11.82 sec. His teammate, Leung Ka Kit came 6th with a time of 12.00 sec. Besides, in the B Grade 100m, Jonathan To and Fung Si Luen had a keen competition with other competitors, as some of the competitors were in the top three of the 200m race. Finally, the points gained from their 4th and 5th position were very much cherished. Unfortunately, we were more than sorry that we had no finalist in the A Grade 100m because our Team Captain, Ma Kam Wing, was injured during the competition on Day 1. So, he could not participate in the semi-final of this event.

Following the sprints were the Middle Distance races. In C Grade, Hau Yuen Cheung easily captured the champion, as he did in the last year, with a time of 4:43.83 min., yet his teammate Leung Hoi Shun could... not enter the top-eight despite his effort. In the B Grade matches, Danny To proved himself to be a spirited runner again. He came 2nd with a time of 4:29.64min. which was a record he rarely made over the entire year. Our A Grade representative, our School Sports Captain, Ricky Leitao could not make the first eight positions even though he was able to enter the final. The approaching A-level examinations were really giving some stress on him.

Hurdles were then set for the sprint-hurdle run. The junior Tung Yuk Yu was a bit too nervous and lack of confidence. This led him to be ranked 7th in this event. In B Grade, Lai Tsz Cheung and Wong Wai Leung passed the finishing line together with at least 3 or 4 other opponents. It was quite difficult to judge the results with naked eyes. Later on, we learnt that Lai and Wong came 4th and 8th position with times of 14.75sec. and 15.26sec. respectively. The last individual event was the A Grade 110m Hurdles. Our hur-prised of George Fung, Kwok Chung Yin, Leung Ka Kit and Jacky Chan. Having been placed first, our juniors did make good use of this “gift” and kept the 1st place during the whole lap. When the DBS opponent wanted to pass our team at the last takeover, Jacky Chan was encouraged and supported by all Lasallians’ vociferation. Eventually, the promising Jacky and his counterparts got the first gold medal in the relay event with a time of 46.90sec.

Chan Pak Him, Fung Si Luen, Wong Wai Leung and Jonathan To comprised our B Grade 4x100m relay team. Although they did well in all aspects, fortune was not with them. Our B Grade team only got a bronze with a time of 45.96sec.

The A Graders were up against great competition. Ma Kam Wing, Chan King Hang, Kong Wing Ho and Roy Wong made up our relay team. As our Team Captain, Ma Kam Wing’s injury had not recovered yet. In despite his injury, he ran the first leg and was followed by Chan. When Kong passed the baton to Roy, our team was in the 4th place. Roy did his very best and finished the race in the 6th position with 45.13sec.

The last events of the Championship were the 4x400m relays. With the two arch runners, Hau Yuen Cheung and Tang Lap Shing in the C Grade relay team, together with Wong Man Kin and Chan Yuk Pang, we were assured of the gold medal. Surely, the boys did not let us down. Wong finished the first lap smoothly. After receiving the baton, Chan ran at his highest speed and he was the first one to pass the baton. The remaining road was smooth because our last two legs Hau and Tang were the champion and 1st runners-up of the individual 800m respectively. Not surprisingly, Tang was about 30m ahead of the others when he passed the line. The four of them won another gold medal with a time of 3:51.92min.

Lui Chi Wang, Danny To, Lo Chi Hang and Au Ying Man formed the B Grade relay squad. Initially, with the champion and 1st runners-up of 400m race present in our team. We hoped that they could defeat the Diocesan team. Undoubtedly, the first two legs of our team were a little bit weaker than those of the DBS team. We expected Lo and Au could overtake the DBS boys. Unluckily, we were quite disappointed when we saw Au passed the line in the 2nd place. They got the silver with 3:38.93min.

Then the A Grade 4x400m relay followed immediately. It was comprised of Luk Hai On, Tung Hing Chung, Law Chee Ho and Mak Ho Nung. The situation was the same as in B Grade. When Luk passed the baton to Tung, Tung felt the coldness of the hollow aluminum cylinder and then ran at his fastest speed. In the last 200m, Tung jumped from 4th to 2nd position and got closer to the DBS boy. Law then got the baton and kept the position well. Lastly, Mak did his best in catching the 1st place but due to the un mendable gap set before his run, Mak could come home 2nd with a time of 3:35.66min.

The results were eventually announced. We gained 441 points while DBS had 492. We missed the title of the Overall Champion this year. However, although we could not get this honorable title this year, we did not lose in all the grades. This year, we won the B Grade and C Grade Champions again. In the heart of all Lasallians, we knew our athletes had given us everything they had. Actually, we still won, we won the Glory but not the trophy. Remember, We Love The Way We Win!

Swimming Team

Representing our school in the first inter-school competition of this scholastic year, the swimming team was well prepared and determined to take our school to a good start. We resumed our training immediately after the reopening of school in September and held trials to select new blood to strengthen our team. On October 21, 1994, we captured the 2nd runners-up titles both in the overall standing and in the C grade in the Inter-school Swimming Championships 1994-95 held at the Kowloon Park Swimming Pool Complex.

Owing to the fact that many of our brilliant swimmers went abroad or had graduated, over half of the A grade team had to be chosen from B and C graders. Despite this, all the A-graders tried hard to give their best performance out of a greater sense of responsibility. Quite a number of them managed to squeeze into the final and gained many valuable position points for our school. Our team captain, Kwok Shek Ming, was placed 7th and 8th in the 200m individual medley and the 50m butterfly respectively. Eddie Chou Chi Yin, our ex-captain, made the 5th and 7th rank in the 200m and 50m freestyle respectively. One of our 'promoted' C-graders, Gary Hui, was also able to get the 7th position in the 100m breaststroke. Moreover, we were 4th and 7th in the 4x50m freestyle and medley relays respectively. All these efforts paid off as we eventually got a respectable 5th in the A grade.

For the B grade, we had a stronger line-up than the previous year. However, we were placed 4th finally, trailing by a mere 5-point margin behind the South Island School, the 2nd runners-up. This could be attributed to the 'Brendan factor'. Our talented swimmer, Brendan Leung, had to represent Hong Kong in a competition held in South Africa during the Heats. This could probably be counted as a 16-point (two gold medals) loss to our school. But fortunately, Brendan managed to come back on the Final day and joined our B grade 4x50m freestyle relay squad, which eventually earned a gold medal for our school in a superb time of 1'49.04", nearly 4 seconds faster than the team from our traditional rival. Our 4x50m medley relay squad also gained the 4th position. Danny To, another brilliant swimmer, added two bronze medals to our school in the 50m and 100m freestyle. Another bronze medal came from Alfred Kong in the 200m individual medley, and he was also placed 7th in the 100m freestyle. Besides, Lau Kwong Chung and Tang Tsz Ming did a good job by ranking 6th and 7th in their respective events.

As usual, our C grade team was the strongest among our three grades. Our C grade captain, Albert Hau Yuen Cheung, snatched a gold medal in the 50m backstroke with a new record of 30.19 seconds, which was even faster than the A and B grade champions by more than one second. Albert also occupied the 2nd place in the 200m freestyle with a comfortable margin. David Chiu Kwok Ho performed very well too. David won a gold and a silver in the 200m individual medley and the 100m freestyle respectively. Another talented swimmer, Harbeth Fu Wing, captured a gold medal in the 50m freestyle in an excellent time of 26.32 seconds, while he also came 5th in the 50m breaststroke. Moreover, we came 2nd with a record-breaking time in the 4x50m medley relay and were 3rd in the freestyle relay. Other greenhorns like Chow Tsz...
Ho, Sunny Leung, Jacky Chan and Gabriel Lau also swam well and contributed much to bringing the team up to the 3rd position.

Since we have been suffering from a loss of brilliant swimmers such as Matthew Hung, Ben Tse, George Yam and Gordon Chang, while other prestigious schools were recruiting strong swimmers from other schools, there was obviously no chance of our winning the overall title this year. However, facing all these obstacles, we were filled with an even stronger school spirit and continued to uphold the importance of fair play. We were all proud to be members of the swimming team and most importantly, members of the great family of La Salle.

Finally, we would like to express our sincere and whole-hearted gratitude to Mr Chan Chau Mo, Mr Sin Man Fai and Mr Ng Chi Hang for their unfailing guidance and support. Special tributes should also be paid to our supportive schoolmates and old boys, especially Mr Henry Leung, who devoted much time to train us, and Mr Eric Ng, who sacrificed his precious time to cheer for our swimmers. We are looking forward to an even more fruitful and triumphant year!
Go, La Salle. Go, go, Lasalle.*

"We are the champion, we are the champion." Slogans are floating inside the stadium and the zealous students tried their very best to support the Lasalle swimming teammates. The results of the teammates did not disappoint their fellow supporters this year. We got a satisfactory result, in which remarkable improvement can be observed.

A-graders got the 5th and the B-graders got the 4th, while the C-grade teammates received the flag of the second runners-up. The overall result this year was the second runners-up, which again showed that the potential of the Lasalle swimming team should not be neglected.

C-grader Fu Wing won a gold medal in 50m free style and a fifth in 50m breast stroke. He also cooperated with his teammates to get a silver medal in the 4x50m medley relay. Another excellent C-grade swimmer, Hau Yuen Cheung, won a gold medal in the 50m back stroke with a new record, a silver medal in the 200m free style, and also a silver medal in the 4x50m medley. Moreover, Chiu Kwok Ho got a gold medal in the 200m individual medley and a silver medal in the 100m free style. He also took part in the 4x50m medley relay. There were four swimmers worthy of being mentioned, they cooperated with each other to win the bronze of the 4x50m free style relay. They were Lau Hang Hin, Chow Chi Ho, Leung Hoi Shun and Chan Cheung Yiu. For the B-graders, Danny To won two bronze in the 50m and 100m free style respectively. Alfred Kong also got a bronze medal in the 200m individual medley. By the cooperation of these two outstanding swimmers and Tao Wai Chun and Lau Kwok Chung, they won the gold medal of the 4x50m free style relay. Another star swimmer in our school, Brendan Leung helped our school to win one more silver medal with other three swimmers, Lee Tin Yan, Tang Tsing Ming and Lo Bill, in the 4x50m medley relay. Like the previous years, our A-grade is the weakest in the three grades. We got no medals in the A-grade events. However, with the great efforts of the team members, some of them, such as Kowk Shek Ming and Chan King Chun, earned their position in the final of some events.

The good results of this year will be extremely helpful in keeping up the efforts of the swimming team members in order to get better results in the coming year.

Badminton Team

Overall

This year was a memorable year for our team members. Our team has captured the Overall Champion trophy in the Inter-school Badminton Competition for three consecutive years. Last year, the outstanding results in the inter-school badminton gave us full confidence to win the Grand Slam this year again. To our disappointment, we could only capture the A and C Grade Champions and the first runners-up in the B Grade, but the result is good enough for our team to bring home the overall champion again.

First, congratulations to the A and C Grades players who displayed excellent skills and stamina in the competition. Our B Grade team also had the opportunity to get the champion in the competition. Unfortunately, one of our team members misunderstood the schedule for the matches and since we did not have any reserve players, our team was forced to give up the matches against Wa Ying College. Finally we lost by one point behind Kowloon Technical School and ended up with the first runners-up in the B Grade.

Most of our members of the A-Grade champion team last year such as Chan Tsz Kin, Alan Wong, Francis Lee and Rex Cheah still remained in the A-Grade team this year. At first, we had full confidence under the leadership of Chan and Lee. But before the inter-school badminton competition, Lee decided to go to Australia for further studies and we started to worry about his vacancy of the first single. Consequently, we lost the two matches against CIS. At the moment, our coach Mr. Chan Chau Mo made a bold decision by using Cheong Siu Wing, a C-Grade upgrader to play the first single. He did his best in the matches. Lastly, our A-Grade team’s spirit was restored and we won all the remaining matches, including those against our strongest enemies, Kowloon Technical School and DBS.

Our B-Grade team was the strongest among the three grades. Team captain Lo Chi Hang, teammates Leung Hau Chung and Kahlon Ginder were Hong Kong Badminton Junior Team representatives. Although Lo faced the study pressure in the HKCEE, he still sacrificed his time for practices at the Hong Kong Sport Institute. Obviously, Lo’s, Leung’s and Ginder’s talents helped the team to win without any difficulties. Besides, other players like Lo Bill, Li Chi Yan and Chung Ka Man also did a good job. Although Chung was a new member of our school team, he played very well and didn’t lose a single match in the competition.

This year, most of our C-Grade members were Form One and Form Two students except our captain Jacky Cheung. Jacky was a senior boy in the C-Grade team and his three years’ experience in the team made him the most suitable one to be the captain. Moreover, the greenhorns such as Chu Ho Cheung and Lam King Yin also did a good job. We all played well and won the C-Grade Championship without losing a match in the competition. Congratulations to all the junior members who did such a good job in the competition.

After the Inter-school Badminton Competition was over, all team members practised even much harder because the Inter-school Badminton Individual Competition would be held in Christmas. This year, the representative list was comprised of Chan Tsz Kin as the A-Grade single, Chung Ka Man as the B-Grade single, Chu Ho Cheung and Lam King Yin as the C-Grades singles, Lo Chi Hang and Leung Hau Chung as the B-Grade double.

In the A-Grade single, our green horn, Chan Tsz Kin, who has been ranked first seed in the competition, faced no problem at all in the matches and was regarded as the “A-Grade Victor”. Our newcomer Chung Ka Man lost the matches in the third round of the B-Grade single due to the lack of experience. In the C-Grade single, Chu Ho Cheung and Lam King Yin both did their best but they were finally defeated in the semi-finals. As a result, they played against each other in the Third position matches. Lam performed a bit better than Chu in the matches and got the third place, while Chu came fourth.

Besides, our two representatives, Lo Chi Hang and Leung Hau Chung joined in the B-Grade double. They were ranked first and won the championship without losing a set of matches.

Congratulations again to all our excellent players for getting these marvellous results. Credits should be given to Mr. Chan Chau Mo and Mr. Fong Chi Yeung for their invaluable assistance. We would also like to thank our fellow schoolmates for their support and cheers, and our dear comrades who have been supporting our team throughout the year.

Basketball Team

This year was very tough for our basketball team. We suffered from many defeats. As a result, we were unable to win any medals as in past few years. Still we managed to get a respectable fourth place in the Inter-school Basketball Competition.

Early at the beginning of the scholastic year, tough training was carried out to refine our team members' skills and technique. Before the season started, we were confident in capturing a title. Our nightmare started when we faced strong oppositions from other schools.

Our A-grade team suffered badly from a loss of many experienced players such as Dannis Yuen, Ian Wong and Gary Chao. Furthermore, some of our important players had injuries, the performance of our team was very fluctuating. Under the leadership of our coach, Mr. Victor Lo, we started our first game against Ying Wa College in Choi Hung Road Indoor Games Hall. Unfortunately, we lost this match by a narrow margin. After this unexpected defeat, we summoned up our courage and defeated Newman College and Ho Lap College by a wide margin in the following two matches. In the next game, we faced our rival - Diocesan Boys' School. Unfortunately, we were defeated. Then, our confidence was undermined, we lost the next match against St. Francis Xavier College. After these two defeats, we fought hard with our 'Never-say-die' spirit, we won the last game against CSW Catholic College by a very wide gap. Finally, we were fourth place in the A-grade. Credits should be given to Lam Po Loy, Patrick, who was the top scorer for two years.

Lastly, we would like to take this opportunities to thank our coach, Mr. Victor Lo who had given our team members many invaluable advice throughout the year. Credit should also be given to our three captains, Timothy, Carmelo Lopez and Lee Cham Pong, who had contributed a lot for our team.
Lasallians were disappointed when they learnt that the overall championship had slipped away, after recapturing the title of the Overall Championship in the Interschool Volleyball Competition (Division 1) last year. However, the true meaning of sports is not just gaining a prestigious title but playing it fair and hard.

Owing to the graduation of some brilliant players, we started our training in late September. The intensive training was rather painstaking and debilitating. However, the rhythm of progress was significant. All the team members were ready to face challenges and determined to try their best.

In late October, the interschool matches for the A Grade and the B Grade began. The trail for the A Grade team was not smooth at all. Our A Grade Team was weakened to a very large extent due to the leaving of many skillful and experienced players. They lost several matches at the beginning of the tournament except for the first match that was played against Queen's College. Unforced errors and poor cooperation among the players were not uncommon. Although they all tried very hard, they came seventh in the competition.

Since our B Grade team was just the same as last year's champion team, the result of the B Grade was expectedly good. Our B Graders showed their championship potential through winning all the matches in a convincing style. They worked hard and practised true La Salle Spirit in every match. Therefore, they managed to win the championship in the competition.

This season, the result of the C Grade was rather disappointing. They won only one match throughout the tournament. Although some of our experienced players and our coach Mr. Chan Siu Ming and Miss Kong Man Yee put much effort into training the greenhorns, they were daunted by the lack of confidence and experience. However, we are confident that they had learnt much in these fiascoes and would work hard in future in order to gain back what we deserve. Finally, we came sixth in the overall title.

Last but not least, we would like to express our gratitude towards our coaches, Mr. Chan Siu Ming, Mr. Chan Chau Mo and Miss Kong Man Yee, who devoted much time to bring up the reputation of La Salle Volleyball Team. Thanks should also be given to the team members and staunch supporters.

Cross-Country Team

This year was a tough one for our Cross-Country Team. The Inter-School Competition (Division 1) started on the 23rd of November at Fanling Golf Club. It was a new route with gentle but long slopes which were really killing. The performance of our team was not quite satisfactory, we only managed to come forth in the overall standing.

The C-grade team was a competent one this year. Two of them came under fifth position and other team members tried their best. Unfortunately, the team was ranked forth due to keen competition. The B-grade squad did a great job and became the second runners-up. Our senior boys had to struggle a lot more than their younger counterparts to have a seventh ranking. It was a pity that our Cross-Country team was unable to snatch an overall third place. We only lost to the Diocesan Boys' School by an extremely narrow margin.

We would like to express our sincere gratitude to our teacher advisors Mr. Cheung Ting Por and Mr. John Au, who sacrificed most of their time in training our team members. Moreover, credit should be given to Han Yuen Cheong, who came first winning himself the title of individual champion, Chris Chin and Chan Chi Yin for their marvellous performances.
Fencing Team

As in the past few years, the fencing team faced the problem of many talented and experienced fencers leaving school after graduation. This was a serious problem for our team this year. So we started our fencing team's intensive training immediately after the final examination, as we know the competitions would come soon. New blood was injected into the team, and those who had potential were given extra training. As one of our coaches, Mr. John Tsang was busy with his own work, we were led by the coach Mr. So Wing and assistant coach Mr. Fong Siu Yan. They taught us different skill and tactics. We were physically and mentally well prepared and our team captured the 2nd Runners-up in the Inter-School Fencing Competition and the 4th place in the Joint School Fencing Competition.

The Joint School Fencing Competition began in mid-October. Apart from other secondary schools, many institutions like the Hong Kong University and the Hong Kong Polytechnics also participated, which reflected the high calibre of this competition.

This year we sent in 4 foil teams. Team A was led by Francis Pang (Hong Kong Under 16 1st Runner-up 1991), supported by Bosco Ho, Eric Ng and Gerald Kwan; Team B consisted of Victor Ching, Ho Dick Chi and maturing fencer Eric Wong; Team C and D were made up of inexperienced green-horns but their skills were good and they achieved satisfactory results.

After a series of exciting matches, most of our teams got to the top 8. Unfortunately, in the quarter-final, Team B was defeated by our arch-rival Kei Chi Secondary School by a slight margin, while Team A defeated City Polytechnic with a score of 5:4.

The next opponent in the semi-final was the Hong Kong Polytechnics. Although our team fought hard, we were defeated with a score of 5:1. Finally, we captured the 4th Place in this competition.

In the individual event our teammates showed their high spirit and performed well throughout the whole competition. Green-horn Eric Wong captured the 1st runner-up in the Junior section and others had achieved satisfactory results.

After the victory we kept on training every afternoon to prepare for the Inter School Fencing Competition which would take place in three weeks. However, owing to the fact that some of the experienced fencers had graduated, it made the road to victory not as smooth as that in the past years.

The Inter School Competition took place in early November in the Hong Kong Sports Institute. The Team was led by team captain Victor Ching, supported by Ho Dick Chi, Gerald Kwan and Eric Wong. We entered the semi-finals with ease. Unfortunately, we once again faced Kei Chi Secondary School. Though we fought hard, we lost the game. In spite of the setback, our fencers did not lose compouere and fought with all their strength against the next opponent, Mun Sang College. With determination, we won with a score of 5:2 and captured the 2nd Runners-up title in this event.

On the whole, the performance of our team this year was satisfactory. We sincerely hope that they can continue the Team Spirit and regain the title in the coming year.

Last but not least, we would like to thank our coach Mr. John Tsang and Mr. So Wing, assistant coach Mr. Fong Siu Yan, our teacher advisor Mr. T.P. Cheung and Mr. C.W. Sham for their invaluable advice and zealous support throughout this year.
Squash Team

For years, we have produced many outstanding players and their performances in the Inter-school squash competitions had been remarkable and exemplary. This year was another fruitful years for the squash team with team members winning many awards in various inter-school competitions and tournaments.

The Inter-school Squash Competition, organized by the Hong Kong Squash Rackets Association each year, is held at the Hong Kong Squash Centre and is open to all secondary schools in Hong Kong. This tournament is divided into two sections, the individual and team competitions. La Salle squash team has been the champion of this tournament for seven successive years since 1985. As a matter of fact, we were defeated by St. Joseph's College last year, but we kept on practicing very hard and finally we recaptured the title again.

This year our C Grade team was further strengthened by Kam Chun Him (1C) who won the under-13 events in Hong Kong Junior Squash Closed Championship. Moreover, our two promising players, Cheung Cheuk Yin (3F) and Adrian Fong (3F), are the Champion and the 1st runner-up of the under-16 events in Hong Kong Junior Squash Closed Championship respectively. Eventually, in the C Grade individual event of the Inter-School Squash Competition, Cheung Cheuk Yin captured the championship after defeating his fellow Adrian Fong, who ended up as the 1st runner-up.

In the B Grade Plate event, our team member Lam Yuk Keung (5F) won the plate champion. In Grade A, our players still struggled very hard to compete for title. Jackie Lee (5G) outclassed all his opponents and became the A Grade Champion after beating Wong Wai Hang, the under-19 second seed player in Hong Kong while Lee Kam Lun (6B) captured the fourth place.

Our squash team, consisting of Jackie Lee Chun Kit, Vincent Cheung Cheuk Yin, Adrian Fong Tin Yau, Francis Lee Kam Lun and Leung Chin Man participated in the team event of the Inter-school Squash Competition. It was in fact an invincible team because we had the under-19 first seed and both under-16 first and second seed players in Hong Kong.

Our team defeated other opponents in straight games and recaptured the title.

Additionally, there was still a number of success the squash star Jackie Lee was the only Asian player to reach the quarter-finals at the World Junior Championships in New Zealand. This brought not only glory to the school but also to Hong Kong. Moreover, he obtained the 'Coca-Cola' (Junior) Sports Stars Award Hong Kong for two consecutive years and also won the Hong Kong Sports Institute the Best Squash Player Award. Our younger fellow Cheung Cheuk Yin had also brought glory to the school and to Hong Kong because he had represented Hong Kong in the Malaysian Squash Competition and won the Under-16 Championship in March. He was also selected by the HKSRA Junior Development Sub-Committee for the Philip Lee Award.

Finally, we would like to take this opportunity to express our heartfelt gratitude to our teacher advisors, Mr. Paul Ip and Mr. Joseph Hui and our excellent squash team members for their enthusiasm and the sacrifices they have made to the Squash Team.
Table-Tennis Team

This has been a fruitful year for the Table-Tennis Team. We have participated in a number of competitions such as the Inter-school Table-Tennis Competition, the Inter-school Table-Tennis Competition for Novice and the All Schools Table-Tennis Promotion Scheme. We have also invited other schools to play friendly matches.

In the Inter-school Table-Tennis Competition held in November, we got the 5th position in A Grade. Our B Grade Team got the 9th position. Our C Grade Team was very strong this year. We got the 3rd position in C Grade. We got the 6th position out of 16 schools in the overall ranking, showing that we have improved satisfactorily.

We have participated in the Inter-school Table-Tennis Competition for Novice and the All Schools Table-Tennis Promotion Scheme which were held in May.

We have successfully played, three friendly matches with Law Ting Pong Secondary School, Jockey Club Government Secondary Technical School and Chan Sui Ki (La Salle) College. We sent our greenhorns to play the matches so that they could gain more experience.

We have invited talented players of the competitions held by the Table-Tennis Club to join our training course on every Tuesday and Thursday. The best players will be recruited as the team members in the next academic year.

From the competitions we have found the shortcomings of our team and we have also gained more experience. Our members have much potential and we believe that we will make much improvement in future.

We wish to express our deep gratitude to our teacher advisors, Mr Peter Lee and Mr Matthew Wong, for giving us invaluable support and encouragement throughout the year.
Last year, we were the Champion of Inter-school Tennis Competition Division Two. And it was really a memorable year for all the team members. At last, we could struggle our way back to Division one.

This year, with a strong will to remain in Division One, we started our training programme since early September so as to keep our team members in good form physically and mentally. We practised very hard under the valuable guidance of our team advisor, Mr. Paul Yip. However, one month of training before the commencement of matches was hardly enough. So we could only try our best.

On 15th October 1994, we played the first match against Wah Yan College, Kowloon. Unexpectedly, we won the match with a score of 5:0, a very encouraging victory. Confidence of our team members was greatly strengthened.

Unfortunately, our next opponent was DBS, last year’s Champion of Division One. We tried our best, yet we still lost with a score of 1:5.

The third match was held on 5th November 1994, and this time we encountered Island School. It was a tough match, but we had enough confidence. After a very long combat, we narrowly won the match with a score of 5:4.

In the matches that followed, we lacked concentration, and our performance was far from being satisfactory. After all, we are lucky to be able to remain in Division One.

Next year, there will be some changes to our team. Our first player, Man Cheuk Fun, will graduate this year which means we will lose a ‘great volley killer’. Moreover, our team captain Albert Luk and vice-captain Johnny Ho, will sit for their HKCEE and this will inevitably affect their participation.

Nevertheless, many younger players like Ian Pang, Tong Tat Fu and Howard Chu have achieved remarkable results in the past matches. It is our sincere hope that they can take up the coming challenges boldly. With all other promising tennis players we anticipate more fruitful and more successful years to come.

Finally, we would like to express our heartfelt gratitude towards Mr. Paul Yip for his precious advice and his wholehearted effort in training and managing the team. Whenever we lost a match, Mr. Paul Yip never blamed us, but simply encouraged us to be prepared for the next match. We are truly thankful for the good spirit and morale he has created in our team. It is really our regret that Mr. Paul Yip will leave our school next year. Here, we want to say, ‘Thank you, Sir, for all the things you have done for us. We hope you will always remember us.’

Softball Team

Maybe most of the boys do not know how the softball team came into being in our school. To retrace this, we should chase back to what has been done by nine Le Salle boys who were very interested in playing softball. After a year of regular practices once a week organized by the old boys, they decided not to let the other Lasallian comrades miss the chance of venturing out their hidden talent in playing softball. Finally, a softball team was set up in 1994. It was entitled LASALLIAN.

Thanks should be directed to the unfailing effort contributed by our team members and our coach Mr. Au throughout the whole establishment of the softball team. Without their support, problems such as the selection of talented members from our fervent applicants, the recruitment of the ‘best-of-the-world’ equipment needed, as well as the scheduling of practices and matches, would definitely not allow us to arrive at such an achievement so much better than before.

On the 8th of March, in our first match, we defeated the Ng Siu Mui Technical School. Of course, special applause should go to our HOME RUN HERO, James Kwong, who scored 2 points for our team. Succeeding on with our team spirit after our first victory, we beat the Hong Kong International School and advanced into the semi-final.

Unfortunately, a newly established team such as ours was defeated by the TWGH Yow Kam Yuen Prevocational School. The La Salle Team, being a group composed of boys, though inexperienced, yet equipped with special qualities, captured the fourth position of the whole competition.

Special thanks should go to each of our dearest members: Pitcher - David Kung; Catcher - Au Yeung Chuk Kwong; First Base - Jeff Ng; Second Base - Vincent Lee; Third Base - Joseph Wong; Short Stop - James Kwong; Left Field - Bryan Ng; Center Field - Edward Yau; Right Field - Ricky Lau; and two reserve - Alex Li and Ip Ying Hoi.

Of course special heartfelt thanks should also go to our teacher advisors: Mr. T.P. Cheung, Mr. Jaxon Wang, Mr. Matthew Wong. Under their dedicated guidance and the ardent interest of our members, we will equip ourselves to the best for next year’s championship.

This year our Annual Sports Day was held on 17th November, 1994. It was indeed an exciting day for both athletes and their supporters, as the athletes needed to compete with each others and tried their best to win their “goal”. The track events of the day included the 100m, 200m & 400m sprints, 1500 middle distance, the 100m & 110m Hurdles, 4x400m & 4x100m Relays.

The overall performance of the athletes was inspiring. Among the keen competition, five records were broken. In A-grade, our School Athletics-team captain, Chris Chin (5G) clocked an excellent time of 52.75sec in the 400m event, 0.65sec shorter than the old record and he also won in 200m sprint. In High Jump, Dickson Hui (4F) broke the record by jumping 1.77m. Apart from these two brilliant athletes, Mak Ho Nung (5B), he eliminated his opponents by received gold medals in both 400m Hurdles, 800m and 1500m. As a result, he got the A-grade individual champion.

In B-grade, the results were also impressive as there were two records broken. In 3000m, Lo Bill Archie (4C) and Danny To (5C) broke the record with times 10min.11.80sec and 10min.11.91sec respectively. Another remarkable event took place in Javelin. Carmelo Lopez (4F) threw a distance of 46.0m, 1.5m longer than the old record which had been held since 1966! The B-grade individual champion was Lo Chi Hang (5B), who came first in both 400m and 400m events, with the result of 55.12sec and 23.89sec respectively. Furthermore, he also came third in the Long jump event.

Turning to C-grade, Hau Yuen Cheung (3G) also broke the records in 800m event which had been held since 1966. On the other hand, Jacky Chan (3C) snatched the C-grade individual champion by getting outstanding results in 100m and 200m sprints.

For D-grade, the title was captured by Leung Ming Lock (1A) who was the winner of the 100m and 1st runner-up of 800m.

Following all the individual events were the relays which included Class Relay, Invitation Relay, Prefects and Service Groups Relay and the Staff Relay. All those events built up the climax of the day. Chong Gene Hang College beat the other teams in the Invitation Relay. But the highlight of the day was the Staff Relay, the team which was composed of Miss Winnie Chow, Mr Hui Wai Keung, Mr Wong Kwan Yau and Mr Chan Siu Ming won the race. Crowds of the students ran to the football field to watch the teachers “swirled” like a hurricance.

After all the events were finished, it was time for prize presentation. Our guest of honour, Mr William Yan gave a very enlightening speech as well as presented the prizes to the athletes. The overall champion was 6C. Above all, the Annual Sports Day’94 was a memorable day was a time for all Lasallians gathered together to demonstrate the invincible La Salle spirit.

Swimming Gala 94

The Annual Swimming Gala of our school was held on 30th September at our Olympic-sized swimming pool.

As a result of the achievements of all elite swimmers, 14 old records were broken, including both the individual and relay events.

In A grade, To Kam Lung, who was the record-holder of 100m and 50m free style in B-grade, again displayed his talent in swimming and established new records in 100m, 50m free style and the 4x50m free style relay in A-grade with his 5C classmates. He broke the old record, which was set in 1974, by an advancement of 0.38 second in 100m free style. Another outstanding swimmer in A-grade, Kwok Shek Ming, captured the championship in 50m butterfly and 1st runner-up in 50m back stroke. He shared the A-grade individual champion with To Kam Lung.

In B-grade, our star swimmer, Brendan Leung, the record-holder of three events in C-grade, got a remarkable result. He championed in 200m breast stroke, 50m butterfly and 200m individual medley, breaking the old records of these events.

In C-grade, Hau Yuen Cheung won the grade’s individual champion by making two new records in 200m free style and 50m back stroke. Fu Wing and David Chiu also broke the records of 50m and 100m free style respectively. The 3G students also established new records by completing the 4x50m free style in 1'57.62" and the 4x50m medley events in 2'15.47".

Lam Ming Kok, our D grade individual champion, won 25m butterfly and 50m free style while Wong Chi Yun. Furthermore, Wong Tsun Yin both broke the record of 25m breast stroke.

At the end of the meet, prizes were presented by our guest of honour, Rev. Bro. Patrick, to all the winners. He was surprised by the excellent results of the swimmers. 3G, the Overall Champion of the Swimming Gala, was particularly praised for their good teamwork.

It was indeed a memorable event in our school and we are waiting for even better results in the coming year.

“Spirit nought for danger caring, Hearts to conquer every ill.”
Wake up Kevin, it’s already a quarter past seven!... “Run for the ferry or you’ll have to wait twenty minutes longer!”... “In only five minutes I’ll be off duty!”... “Sorry, I have dated Cindy tonight at seven-thirty...”... “I have an important meeting tomorrow morning at eight o’clock...”... How many more occasions do one mention about time in a day?

It is not surprising to learn that this seemingly imaginative and intangible concept constitutes an integral part of our livelihood. In fact, even though time is a lifeless man-made concept, it attributes to a very personal nature. If you stare intently at your wrist-watch for a while, with your eyes fixed upon the ticking second hand, and contemplate how time has accompanied you through the ages, no doubt, you may realize that time seems to be your closest friend—it never abandons you when you are in deep trouble, yet intermittently causes some trouble for you; it holds no persisting rancour even if you berate it to the point of insolence. Of course, its role might not be always as desirable as your congenial best friend; it might as well act like an outrageous and notorious villain: it robs you of your chances to initiate or carry on your plans, disrupting all your schedules mercilessly, and yet you have no way to oppose but to tolerate it.

So how have we humans defined our intimate friend, or rather, our greatest enemy? Time—personified as Father Time—is what we measure in hours, days, years, etc. Generally, it refers to a specific point in time, which can be shown by sundials, water-clocks and sand-clocks in the past and by the more familiar digital clocks and watches in the modern world. Scientifically, time is what one says about the fourth-dimensional space. Abstract though this concept is intrinsically, it is now perceived as a set of concrete numbers or common names representing different instances or durations. For example, the period of time that the sun rises is assigned several hours and is called the ‘morning’; the brief moment that the sun descends—a romantic time for most lovers—is again allocated a few hours and is known as ‘dusk’.

Furthermore, to know why we have twenty-four hours a day, we need to trace back to the time of the Ancient-Egyptian, one of the greatest builders of the past. In order to standardize the different periods of a day, the Ancient-Egyptians, with reference to the activity of the sun, assigned ten hours each to the daytime and the night-time, one hour each to the dawn and the dusk and another two hours for the mid-day and the mid-night, forming a twenty-four-hour cycle.

Apart from defining time according to the observations of Nature, man, due to the tighter and soaring number of interactions with each other over the centuries, has also created another way for indicating the myriad of different instances of time. For example, we have so-called ‘prime time’ describing a period of prosperity, ‘recreation time’ allocated for fun, as well as ‘part time’ picturing the time occupied by the extra job one often has to take up for paying off his debts or taxes. Some other terms for description have also evolved as a consequence. In Indonesia, ‘rubber time’ is used to illustrate the elasticity of time. It is believed that time can be stretched longer than it is prescribed. Like the way that a meeting is convened, its duration can be readily extended by an additional couple of hours, exceeding the limit of the schedule. Equally interesting is the term ‘mayana’—originally means later or tomorrow—which is used to describe the way that... people are late or much late in doing their work. In the world of business, ‘timeservers’ is used to represent the group of people who are likely to change their opinions according to current fashion, hoping to flatter the rich and powerful superiors.

Even though we have a consistent and indisputable definition for time, different people, particularly of different nations, interpret time according to their own temperaments. This appealing discrepancy has driven quite a number of writers to examine it more profoundly. Believe it or not, one of them arrived at a conclusion that for an ordinary American to arrange a dinner at eight o’clock, his American friend will arrive around five to fifteen minutes later; his Latin-American friend will probably appear at nine o’clock, reassuring himself that it is still too early; and his Ethiopian friend will show up at eleven o’clock, discovering that party time is over already. But certainly, unlike this exaggerated model, it is an undeniable fact that people from every country strive hard to make the best use of their limited time.

Thousands of years ago, man has already exhibited a relentless demeanour in tackling the various atrocious natural disasters threatening their lives. So is man’s attitude towards time. In order to manipulate the limitations caused by time, man, instead of delaying the process of time—which is unattainable with the present technology at least, has resorted to manage the time available in the most effective way. To achieve this, different people have their own different methods. In contrast with the people who do their jobs one at a time, it is observed that a group of people tend to do several of their tasks at the same time. In this way, their work won’t become too autonomous and it offers a time to ponder upon the progress of individual tasks. Nonetheless, since they do each individual work spasmodically, they could hardly concentrate on their work. But somehow, the effectiveness of every method varies according to personality. This also explains why both the people performing their tasks systematically and sloppily sometimes accomplish to the same end.

“Time and tide wait for no man”? This is probably one of the sayings loathed by all women. To a certain extent, it has depicted one of the limitations of all humans—our lifespan is unfortunately finite, despite scientists have proposed that we are naturally engineered to live up to a hundred and forty years old. Although we say that “Time is money”, we should as well understand that money is no time; no matter how affluent a person might be, he could never purchase back his valuable time. Therefore, we cannot afford to procrastinate and should make the full benefit out of every minute of our life. But perhaps in the future, scientists might successfully produce a tonic for rejuvenation, or might even unravel more about this fourth-dimensional space, and invent a time-travelling machine that will enable us to sneak back to our past life and alter our destiny. Time will tell!
Fires broke out everywhere in the predawn darkness. Images of misery and chaos were found all over the city. Terror, hunger, despair and anxiety were burning fiercely in my heart, and all I had done in those three days was screaming and pleading for help. My paralyzed body was preserved under the tangles of scrap caused by the devastating earthquake. How lucky that I could still breathe in fresh air from the narrow crevice in the rubble, entrenched inches above me. I should thank God that I had not been squashed into tomato juice during the tremor, and I could have been toasted if I had not been saved under the fallen debris!

My shirt was soaked with sweat and blood and I believed I will surely starve to death unless something has to be done. I tried to push away the rubble above with my arms and legs but my feeble body did not allow me to do so. I tried to cry out for help but I have lost my voice completely after days of screaming. No matter how hard I have tried, it was a futile attempt and I knew it. Gradually I become exhausted and my mouth was nearly dried up, I was about to give up. I crossed my fingers together with both hands and ready to pray for the last time of my life.....

Recalling the day of the tremor, the sky was clear and the day promised to be peaceful. Quaint wooden houses, tall buildings and trees were still in shape. When suddenly the earthquake struck the city at dusk, the whole site turned upside down. Walls and floors of the buildings began to shudder violently, highways and roads were cracking up, people were screaming and escaping from the falling debris, and fires caused by ruptured gas mains quickly spread out of control.

I paralyzed by the scene unfolding before my eyes, stood dumbstruck. The sky suddenly went black as if we had trapped in a living hell.

I pulled myself to my feet and assessed my situation. Sweating from the heat, suffering from the cruelty of the fire, I trudged on with one of my legs injured. The apartment buildings were crushed like paper cups, rail lines were transformed into useless tangles of scrap, old wooden houses were falling as if they were made of match-sticks, some buildings laid squashed like an accordion.

Thousands of people had lost their lives and about a million had become homeless......

My head throbbed and I was disoriented. I again found myself slipping into the same eerie vision and I hated to remember that day.

I took a deep breath and experienced some and friends? Are they alright? I began to get worried and nervous. Soon tears rolled down my face as I tried to find something worthwhile for me to stay alive.

I always want to have a glorious funeral, and rest peacefully inside the coffin. I do not want to be unidentifiable. I murmured to myself. What in the world could be worse than this? I closed my eyes and fainted......

'Are you alright?' A voice woke me up in the darkness.

'Feb,' I hesitated for a while, 'but ... who are you? Where am I?'

'Yes! Alright! He is alive!' One of the voices shouted.

'You are very lucky to be found alive. We are the rescue workers searching the rubble for survivors.' Another voice exclaimed.

Now I believe that Fortune favours the bold.

However, what I had found on the top was a hellish city. The images of homeless people, sobbing widows, fatherless children, tottering buildings, the sudden loss of prosperity and security, and the shelterless people shivering in the open air of the winter night who had to keep themselves warm by building bonfires along the streets, all of which were terribly eerie and horrifying.

The pall of black smoke of the gas fires which had risen up over the city filled the world under with gloom and darkness.
& An Unforgettable Experience

Kwong Chi Hoi Cesil F.3D

I have a question which keeps haunting one: Why is this world so unfair? Some people can live luxuriously with much money, while other people live under the shadow of war, diseases and famine. Should we accept the answer given by some religion, that may be they have had done a lot of evil things in the past life, such as killing etc., and are paying for that in this life, so they have a hard life.

Last summer, I went to Rwanda with the Red Cross to help the poor people there. The Civil War in Rwanda has worsened the problem of famine.

We boarded a dusty truck at the airport for our destination, Argall. The road was muddy and narrow. On the way, I saw small children lying on the sides of the road, groaning in pain and crying for help. It was heart-rending to see these innocent tiny children caught in the crossfire of violence, bleeding from broken arms and legs. They were about to join the dead bodies left on the ground. I was told that the army of the opposition party had just been there and had fired indiscriminately at the villagers. Children were not exempted from the killing.

The survivors had nothing to eat as all the food had just been taken away by the army. I saw them fighting for just a small piece of bread. Some of them even ate grass as food like cows. Of course they were not strong as cows. They were very thin and emaciated, without any clothes. I could easily count their bones sticking out of their bodies. I wondered if they were human beings.

As we went further along, I saw thousands of people to Zaire, a Neighbouring country of Rwanda. They were carrying their meagre belongings, walking for miles and miles. Under the hot sun, they were struggling to walk. They were very tired and thirsty. An old man fell down and could not get up again.

Having arrived at the destination, I got off the "nice" truck and helped the Red Cross to set up a tent somewhere in argall. Then I started to help giving out water, bread and some cereals to the villagers. When the people received the food, they ate them as quickly in a single gulp. I knew that they were starving. After distributing the food to them, I had my lunch. Then one small kid came to me, looking at me eagerly, asked me for some more food. This scene made me think about Oliver Twist. I really pitied him and wanted to give him some more, but we couldn’t do so for we didn’t have any food left. So I gave him my own lunch. He didn’t take all the food himself, but shared it with his family. I saw them enjoying the food happily, even though they were just sandwiches.

They were the lucky ones, but the unlucky ones greatly outnumber the lucky. People were suffering from hunger, various diseases and from the sorrow of losing their loved ones. I prayed to God for them; I hope God could stop the Civil War, give peace and enough food to the people of Rwanda, and other unfortunate people in the world.

While I was praying, I tried to figure out why some people had a hard life, while some had an easy life, and what made this world so unfair?

This is the first time I had been to Rwanda, and I would describe it as a "human hell". I would never forget this experience.
During my last summer holidays, I spent my vacation with my uncle on the bank near a river. The country has a population of about 1600 people. They were mainly farmers and factory workers.

One day, as I was helping my uncle on his farm, I became aware that heavy rain was approaching. Thick black clouds were drifting slowing from the west and, a few minutes later, the whole country was covered in darkness. A flash of lightning divided the sky into two. A gale moved at such speed that it carried away almost everything on my uncle’s farm.

As rain fell into the river, the citizens used the wooden cages to cover the poultry, and went to the hill to escape from the floods. Each day the river gradually rose until on the fourth day, it overflowed its bank and the water flooded into the countryside. The water spread further inland and by noon the water had risen to a depth of three feet.

Many decided that it was insecure to remain on the hill and prepared to evacuate to the community hall, which was situated on higher grounds. There were men and women carrying children and their belongings. The mist and the torrential rain had reduced visibility to a distance of five feet. It was quite some time before everyone was safely in the building.

When we looked out of the window of the hall, we could see masses of logs, planks and other floating objects being swept away by the flood. The flood had destroyed their crops and poultry.

Two days before the rain stopped, the floods began to recede. On the third day the level of the flood had subsided to one foot. The sun was shining again and the citizens returned to their homes to investigate the extent of the damage caused by the flood. They shook their heads at the destination before them.

I spent the last few days of my stay in the country helping my uncle to clean up his house. The events taught me the value of life.
Late last August I stepped off a plane at Kai Tak Airport with my friend Kathryn and 22 kilograms of luggage, determined to leave everything American about myself behind me. I wanted to break as many ties as possible with the person I had been in the U.S., to shatter my concepts of my own limitations by immersing myself as thoroughly as possible in the culture of Hong Kong. I came here to lose myself, to accidentally forget myself and start everything over again. I wanted to return home a different man.

Oddly enough, my first memory of Hong Kong relates to this desire. As I stepped off the plane at Kai Tak Airport, with my friend Kathryn and 22 kilograms of luggage, I felt the heat strike me with the force of a small typhoon, coating my body like a thick sheet of iron. That weight was to stay with me for the next 9 months, in one form or another.

I soon discovered the problems of being a ‘quasi-lo’. Being white had never been a difficulty before. It was a learning experience. I also discovered I have a strong American accent, something I felt to be a strong, yet subtly invisible wall between me and everyone else who wasn’t American. I discovered that I would never be able to speak Cantonese like a native, and I discovered that I had led a conspicuously sheltered life in small town, U.S.A. And sadly enough, I discovered that no matter how hard I tried I would never feel truly at home here. I discovered that I was American.

Still, life has not been hell here, if it has been difficult at times. And I have not gone friendless or had any look of laughs. Otherwise, I would not be writing this letter for the LaSallite. Therefore, I would like to say thanks to Brother Francis, showing a deep vein of patience in allowing me to study here, and to my classmates, friends, and teachers who have helped me along. I would like to say hello to 4F, and give a special thanks to my friend, Carmelo, who saved me from a year of hiding away in the library.

Finally, I would like to make a list of interesting memories, vocabulary, etc. that has sprouted from my year here at La Salle:
- the "M"ster
- the Chicken Police
- Sweet Potato
- Toute Ouvertel or Wide Open!
- basketball at break
- football with 4F (Champions!), from who I also got a free jersey (Thank you)
- Spanish with Mrs. Wan
- collecting cards with Thomas in Mong Kok
- Michael Jordon comes out of retirement (yes!)
- interclass debate on Sex Education (Johnson!)
- Gaymond!
- Steven and Stephen!
- Taxi! Taxi!
- Lord of the Rings (Carmelo)
- Total nonsence!
- Silence is gold
- Michael Jordon scores 55 points!
- too much hydrogen!
- Michael Jordon goes back to wearing number 23 (yes!)
- The world is now officially a happy place again

I would like to dedicate this little memorial of mine here (Oooh, I feel important!) to all the future students coming to La Salle (good luck!) and also to all the students in 4F who helped me get through this year alive and with my sense of humor intact. The world is a funny place, I came here to lose myself and found it out instead.
Beyond the campus, away from the sports field, La Salle is ......
As the Father sent me, so am I sending you' was the theme of the 10th World Youth Day. Three of us were sent by the Father to join this youth celebration held in Manila, Philippines. I can still remember that it was a hard journey indeed. The place we lived was the covered playground of a school, San Lorenzo Ruiz Academy, a place full of many unfriendly insects such as cockroaches and mosquitoes. The food was boxes of well-prepared 'cold' rice, breads and noodles. Also, we had to share a few toilets with about 300 Hong Kong delegates. So, you can just imagine how hard the journey was! But for us, it was really a wonderful experience because we could meet different people from all around the world. Together we prayed and shared our daily experience. We also got the chance to meet the Pope, John Paul II!

9th January, 1995

At about 12:00 noon, we landed at Manila. We were welcomed by the delegates from Philippines at the airport. Very soon, we were taken by school buses to the place we lived. After we settled down, we had our supper quickly and joined an evening Mass in the Chapel at the academy. After the Mass, we also learned the 'hand-signs' of the theme song 'Tell the World of His Love' from a kind and friendly Filipino. By then, it was midnight already.

10th January, 1995

The Opening ceremony was held at 5:00 p.m. in a large park called the Luneta Park.

After waiting for a long time, the Opening Ceremony of the 10th World Youth Day began. Delegates from the Philippines sang and danced to welcome people from all over the world. It was then followed by an Opening Mass, held by the Philippines Bishop, Cardinal Sin. The theme of the Opening Mass was 'Christian Call and Mission'. Cardinal Sin reminded us that as a Christian we should not forget our mission. Young people are very energetic and active. Remember to send God's message to everyone near us. Also, praying is very important to us Christians. Cardinal Sin had strongly strengthened our faith. The Opening Ceremony ended in an atmosphere of joy. We went back 'home' at about 11:00 p.m..

11th January, 1995

We attended three different catechism seminars, 'Youth Catechesis', in the following three days. We attended the three seminars together with the delegates from mainland China (about 30 people) and Macau (about 100 people).

'Faith' was the theme on the first day. On this day, our Bishop, Cardinal Wu gave us a talk on 'Faith'. Although it was not the first time for him to give such a talk, it was an unusual one. Normally, he would tell people to attend Sunday Mass so as to show our faith to God. But this time, he told us that we should be the 'Communicators of Faith'. We should do in this way so as to lead others to be faithful in Christ. He told us to remember specific times in our life when our own faith in Christ was particularly strong or weak. Sometimes, people around you might strengthen or deepen our own faith. Most importantly, he told us that disciples of Christ must not only keep the the faith and live on it, but also profess it, give witness to it and spread it. Service of and witness to faith necessary for salvation.

Later, we shared our views on the theme 'Faith'. Together with the delegates from mainland China and Macau, we shared our own feelings and experiences about our daily lives. The atmosphere was good as we could hear different people's feelings from different countries and places, especially those from mainland China.

In the evening, starting from 7:00 p.m., there was a celebration for all delegates, the 'Youth Barrio Fiesta', held in a park. It was an enjoyable one. We sang and danced together with the Filipinos. They wore their colourful traditional clothes. During the events, the whole park was brightened and decorated beautifully by many festooned vehicles. On the vehicles were beautiful statues of Jesus Christ, Mary and Saints. There was a very special one - a statue of Jesus Christ, carrying the Cross on its shoulder. It was carried by about 30 men without wearing their shoes. We could see that they were very faithful in God. Eventually, the sky was decorated by some beautiful fireworks, and the celebration ended at about 11:00 p.m. Everyone's face were wreathed with smiles, showing that they were very happy that night!

The theme on the second day was 'Hope'. It was led by the Bishop of Taiwan, Cardinal Dik. He told us that the virtue of hope responded to the aspiration to happiness which God had placed in the heart of all of us and it took up the hopes that inspired our activities and purifie them so as to order them to the Kingdom of Heaven. It kept us from discouragement; it sustained us during times of abandonment; it opened up our heart in expectation of eternal beatitude. Then we had group sharings about the theme of that day. All the events ended in the morning.

Pope John Paul II arrived at the Philippines at 3:00 p.m. The arrival of the Pope was broadcasted on television so that all the people in the Philippines could see the whole process. Each country sent some representatives to the airport to welcome the Pope. One of us, John Yun, was among the Hong Kong representatives who welcomed the Pope at the airport. He also represented us to hold the flag of Hong Kong! (How honoured La Salle Boys are!)

That night, we were welcomed by a Catholic school, the Philippine Cultural High School. The students of the school were so nice and enthusiastic that they played with us happily! Eventually, we gave them back a present, that is, we performed Chinese folk-dance. (Actually some of us have already practised before since they had to perform before the Pope later!) We met a lot of friends. Both the students of that school and we enjoyed that night very much. We do hope we could meet them again very soon.

13th January, 1995

This was the last day of the 'Youth Catechesis'. The theme was 'Charity'. This time, the event was led by the Bishop of Macau, Cardinal Lam. He said that Charity is the soul of holiness to which all are called; it govern, shape, and perfect all the means of satisfaction. Love is the vocation that includes all others. It is the universe of its own, comprising all time and space... it is eternal. We should love each other like God our Father loved us. We do not need to say anything to show our love to others. He said that peace is built up by love. The world would then be a better place to live in if we love each other with all our hearts.

After having our 'delicious' lunch, we went to a stadium, Ninoy Aquino Stadium, to join a celebration in which delegates from different countries like Korea, Canada and Hong Kong gave their performance. The audience applauded and had a wonderful time.

In the evening, we joined the 'Youth Way of the Cross'.
Again we were reminded that we were carrying the saving cross through the roads of the world, and we should not forget the sufferings of Jesus.

14th January, 1995

This day, we paid visits to two churches. We first visited a church near the academy. Then we visited another church in which we had the 'Taize' praying together with the Philippinos. Unfortunately, we felt so tired that we slept most of the time.

In the evening of this day, the event 'Youth Vigil with the Pope' was held in the Luneta Park. The theme of this event was to bring back into our minds the pilgrimage we had made along the roads of the world. Pope John Paul II stayed there and prayed with us overnight. Although he was old, he tried his very best to stay with us that night. We appreciated him very much. (Thanks Pope!)

15th January, 1995

The Closing Ceremony of the 10th World Youth Day was held in the Luneta Park. It was led by Pope John Paul II. There were nearly 5,000,000 people participating in this Closing Ceremony. It was a miracle!

In the beginning speech of the closing mass, the Pope said, 'I am very happy to meet you to conclude the 10th World Youth Day. I know you have made this encounter a vital and fervent witness of faith. We are bound together by the same faith and confidence in the Son of God who came to us to respond to God's mission for him. We are likewise called to the same mission and sent by Christ to proclaim the Gospel. "As the Father sent me, so am I sending you." During the mass, he reminded us many times, 'You, young Christians, should try your best to help the church and contribute as much as you can. Do not be afraid! God will help you and be with you always.' Pope also spoke in different languages the part 'Prayer of the Faithful', in-cluding Italian, Arab, Polish, French, Hindi and, especially, Chinese! Although his words were not so clearly heard that we cannot understand the meaning, his nice, friendly and gentle voice brought great encouragement to us.

Eventually, the mass ended by the theme song 'Tell the World of His Love', accompanied with the releasing of 300 doves.

16th January, 1995

The experience in Philippines was tremendous. Our faith had been renewed, we worshipped and came in contact with different people from all over the world. We discovered and learned to develop a healthy attitude towards religious devotions and we appreciate the unique and diverse expression of the Christian Faith.

We arrived in Hong Kong at about 11:30 a.m.. God, thank you for taking care of us during the journey. Help us to bring Your message to everyone and tell the world of Your Love!

Leong Hau Chung, Carter 4C
It was the first time for me to feel God's presence through people of different nations. Also, the theme, 'As the Father sent me, so am I sending you' hammered into my mind and at once I recognized the importance of having the vocation to be a leaven. Besides, the enthusiasm and the happiness of the Filipinos showed that they are living in the Love of Christ. Most importantly, I find that I can get closer to God after the World Youth Day.

John Yun (6C)
I feel honoured to have the chance to be so close with God in the Philippines, and to be able to learn so much. To me, this trip was a miracle.

I can still remember that it was a hard journey. Since we did not eat and sleep properly, a lot of our teammates became ill and even fainted in the Philippines. Luckily, the rest of us were able to take good care of them. I was deeply impressed by this because I could feel brotherly and sisterly love all the time. From this, I realized that helping one another is very important: in fact, it is one of the Catholics' missions. No matter how worse the situation is, we need not be afraid because God is always with us and help us. Thank God!

I do hope that people all over the world receive this message and fulfill it. God bless you all!

Carter Leung (4C)

I have no regrets participating in the 10th World Youth Day and I will never forget this memorable activity.

When I first knew that I was one of the three representatives who would join this world wide function, I was very happy and excited because the World Youth Day is held bi-annually and it is the first time for our school to send representatives to participate in this function. Also, it was my honour to have a chance to see our dearest Pope, John Paul II!

During these five days, different religious activities were held, such as mass, the Way of the Cross, etc. All these activities strengthened my faith in God and fulfilled FAITH, HOPE and LOVE in my life. In addition, this was the first time for me to have a mass with young people from other countries. All kinds of discrimination did not exist any more!

Furthermore, I made many friends and some of them were from other countries, such as the Philippines and Macau. We exchanged our gifts and addresses. Now, I still keep in contact with the delegates.

After this meaningful activity, I know the importance of the Church. Besides, through different sharings, I will carry out the words of God in my daily life.

The LaSallian Rhodes Scholar - Keith Mak

Keith Mak, a former student from La Salle College, was awarded the Rhodes Scholarship to attend the University of Oxford to further his studies for the master’s degree.

The Rhodes Scholarships are tenable only at Oxford since the death of Mr. Cecil Rhodes at the end of the 19th century and the establishment of the Rhodes Trust. There are some 85 scholarships available in 17 different countries all over the world, but there is only one Rhodes Scholarship available to Hong Kong each year since 1985.

In considering application, the qualities expressly listed by the late Mr. Cecil Rhodes are regarded:

Proven intellectual and academic quality of a high standard is the first quality required of applicants, but they will also be required to show integrity of character, interest in and respect for their fellow beings, the ability to lead, and energy to use their talents in full.

Keith was going to Oxford in late September 1995 to attend University College. University College was founded in 1249. It is the oldest and the first college to be endowed amongst the 43 colleges in Oxford. The U.S. President, Bill Clinton was also once a Rhodes Scholar at University College.

Apart from being awarded the Rhodes Scholarship, Keith was an exemplary LaSallian himself. After finishing his primary education in Diocesan Primary School, he dramatically turned to La Salle College. When Keith was in Form Six, he was elected President of the Student Association (89-90). At the same time, he was also the captain of the School’s English Debating Team. Keith matriculated from La Salle College in 1991 and since then he has been an active committee member of the La Salle College Old Boys’ Association.

Keith entered University of Hong Kong in 1991 to study law. He obtained his LL.B. (Bachelor of Laws) in 1994 and P.C.LL. (Postgraduate Certificate in Law) in 1995. He will be going to Oxford to take the 2-year Bachelor of Civil Law (B.C.L.) course, which is similar to an LL.M. (Master of Law) degree.

Keith is the first former student from La Salle College to become a Rhodes Scholar. Keith, you have made us proud!

On the Rhodes to Oxford

By BENSON CHAO

FOLLOWING a rigorous selection process which included a test of social skills through a “dining-out exercise”, Hong Kong University law graduate Keith Mak Ka-hon has been awarded a Rhodes Scholarship.

The former La Salle College student association president will spend two years reading for a postgraduate degree in civil law at University College, Oxford.

The scholarship covers accommodation, college fees, flight fares and a £6,900 (HK$65,000) annual allowance.

“After the Hong Kong Rhodes Scholarship Selection Committee narrowed down the 30 applicants to three candidates, they invited us to dine out with about 20 former Rhodes Scholars and the Rhodes house warden, Sir Anthony Kemay, and his wife,” 23-year-old Mr Mak said.

“Perhaps the purpose of this dinner was to see how we interacted with others.

“Thank God I was not very nervous and I managed to socialise with them,” said the Ricci Hall resident.

Mr Mak will be flying to England in mid-October to begin his studies.

He completed a three-year law degree and a one-year postgraduate course in law at the University of Hong Kong after graduating from La Salle College. Mr Mak told Campus Post his selection as a Rhodes Scholar was a dream come true.

Last summer, during an internship in Oxford with a law firm, he decided to contact Father Ribeiro, a former warden of Ricci Hall who was doing research at the university, and paid him a visit on campus.

The moment he set foot on the Oxford University campus, he was taken with the idea of studying there.

“After that visit, I told myself that I had to get back to Oxford to study – with or without a scholarship. Needless to say, I’m thrilled I will be returning on a full scholarship,” Mr Mak, whose fascination with law stemmed from his lawyer-sister’s involvement in the profession, says he will definitely return to the territory to work as a lawyer.

Founded in 1902 after the death of Cecil Rhodes, the scholarship finances about 85 students worldwide to study at Oxford each year.

While there are about 32 American Rhodes Scholars annually, only one place goes to a Hong Kong student.

Students from China are not included in the scholarship programme.

The scholarship, first awarded to a student in the territory in 1985, went to a Chinese University business administration graduate last year.

La Salle Violinist Selected to Attend International Music Camp

Cheng Ka Ming (6C), the concertmaster of the School Orchestra, was selected by the Music Office to represent Hong Kong to join the 1995 World Youth Symphony Orchestra Interlochen Arts Camp in Michigan, U.S.A., in summer.

Ka Ming had made remarkable achievements in music over that past few years. He was the Champion in Violin Sonata Class and Violin Concerto Class in the 1992 Hong Kong Schools Music Festival, the 1st runner-up in the 1993 Commercial Radio Prize and the 1993 South China Morning Post Student Musician of the Year.

Ka Ming had been a member of the Hong Kong Youth Symphony Orchestra for 6 years. He had joined the Orchestra’s Singapore Tour in 1991 and had served as the concertmaster of the Orchestra during her China Tour 1994. He was also one of the two Hong Kong representatives at the 1995 Aberdeen International Youth Festival.

When Ka Ming was concertmaster of the School Orchestra, the Orchestra captured the 1st runners-up in the 46th Hong Kong Schools Music Festival String Orchestra Competition (Intermediate) in 1994 and eventually seized the champion title in 1995.

Ka Ming was the first La Salle student chosen to represent the territory and awarded full scholarship to attend the Interlochen Arts Camp. The Camp, to be held from June 25 to August 21, was first established in 1928. It is aimed at promoting friendship among young musicians aged between 14 and 18 through music. The camp attracted 1400 students from all 50 states of America and 35 other countries. The eight-week camp included master classes and workshops conducted by renowned musicians such as Bobby McFerrin and world renowned cellist Yo-Yo Ma.

After the camp, Ka Ming will further his studies in Yale University in America.
La Salle Boys Going to Youth Exchange Camp

Peter the Redcross Cadet

Lau Tin Hang, Peter (5C), a key member of the School's Red Cross Cadet Unit, was selected to represent Hong Kong in the International Youth Exchange Camp which will be held in July, 1995 at Louisville, Indiana, USA. This will certainly be a valuable experience for this Cadet.

Peter has been a member of the Youth Red Cross since 1990. He became the Assistant Section Leader of our school's Youth Red Cross unit in Form three. He was then responsible for all sorts of training activities for members in the unit. In Form four, Peter became the Head Section Leader of the unit. Moreover, he was the Team Commander during the Annual Footdrill Competition. Under his leadership, the team captured the Championship in the Kowloon Divisional Competition, and finally won the third prize in the Departmental Competition.

Apart from this, Peter was also active in the field of social service. He participated in various kinds of services including visits to elderly homes and the provision of blood pressure measuring services. In addition, being the chairman, he organized a service project with Cadet Unit 25 (Maryknoll Convent School) for children with Down Syndrome in the Tung Tau Estate during last summer vacation. This service project was also awarded the third prize in the Red Cross’ Best Service Project Competition.

Owing to Peter's outstanding performance as a Redcross Cadet, he was nominated by the Hong Kong Red Cross to participate in the 'School Base Outstanding Organization Member Award' organized by the Lions Club International. Eventually, he was chosen to be the winner among members from other voluntary organizations. He was thus given the opportunity to represent Hong Kong in the Lions Youth Exchange Camp which will be held in the United States this coming summer.

The Editorial Board would like to take this opportunity wishes him a very enjoyable experience in the States.

LaSallians swept through 'TIME'

TIME was the theme for this year's Lions Clubs Living English Competition, and for the 18-year-old Derek Chan (6C) and 14-year-old Cecil Kwong (3C), 'time' was definitely on their side.

The competition was co-organized by the Lions Club International District 303, the Education Department and Radio Television Hong Kong, and was sponsored by China and South Sea Bank Limited. It was divided into two sections: Junior and Senior, and 3 distinction winners were selected from each section. Derek's and Cecil's unique style made them stand out to be two of the distinction winners in the Senior and the Junior section respectively (La Salle was the only school to have more than one student squeezing themselves into the winning sextet). Congratulations to Derek and Cecil.

The two students together with the outstanding Youth Red Cross member Peter Lau, would be flying to the United States this summer (1995) to take part in the week-long Lions Youth Exchange Camp.

A letter from Mr. Alex Kwok, the teacher advisor of the School Orchestra

Even though this message is dedicated to several guest pianists such as Ignatius Chan Chung Yee, Conard Chan Hong Wah and some other members of the School Orchestra such as Clement Cheung Kin Pak, Szeto Johnny, Samson Cheung, Peter & Mark Huang, Vincent Law, Wilfred Tin Ka Wo and, I have to apologize for failing to mention, many more, I would like Edmund to broadcast this message to enrich our life in LSC.

I like music and sing in parish choir. I was never a player of any instrument. (Though I have to admit that I did put my hands in the violin when I was dating my future wife during her college life.) It was when I was still teaching in the Old La Salle Building that I first heard a few La Salle boys playing ‘Butterfly Lovers’. Their technique was good and they put some solo performance during the Annual Speech Days in the Old La Salle Building. On one such Speech Day, the soloist made a surprised request to Brother Raphael, in full view of all the guests and parents, to grant $10,000 to set up an orchestra. The money was granted. Instrument bought....

One day, out of curiosity, I entered the Music Room, which was at the back stage of the school hall. I bumped into some instruments laying around, apparently unattended to for a long time. I picked up one of them, a cello and saved it to the New La Salle Building. (I had given up violin because I knew very well that I would never catch up my girl friend in violin.) My first performance, playing simple long notes among other student players, was an arrangement of ‘Home Coming’, a piano solo piece played by Ignatius Chan, accompanied by La Salle School Orchestra! The student conductor, Wylie?, arranged the music. In fact, I was not able to play the School Song properly. I was new and did not have enough mastery of the instrument! Later, I took up the conducting, asking my wife to arrange pieces of music for the performance in the Annual Speech Days. Years gone by and we began to play the original scores!

In 1993, our principal violinist, Cheng Ka Ming was awarded the SCMP Student Musician of the Year among 12 finalists. I went to Malaysia in November for 8 days and missed the Speech Day. Ms Grace Wu helped them out. Under the leadership of Cheng Ka Ming, they (15 in all) took part for the first time in the 46th School Music Festival (1994), Intermediate String Orchestra Competition, came second without a conductor with a score of 82 marks, 5 marks behind the Wah Yan (Kowloon) team.

On February 28th, 1995, we took part again in the same section with 21 members; again without a conductor. (In fact, ever since our coming second in 1994, the Association of Schools Music Festival changed the rule, requiring a minimum of 21 members to be qualified to take part!)
The competition took place in the Shatin Town Hall. Our major rivals were: Wah Yan who played Edward Elgar’s Serenade for strings and scored 88 and won first, DGS played T.Osborne computer music ‘Bytes and Pieces’ got the third with a score of 82. St. Stephen, Stanley, who played Mozart’s Divertimento, (K136) also came third. We played Benjamin Britten’s ‘Simple Symphony’, which was in fact not simple at all, and scored 87!

After the competition, the DBS orchestra, who was the only participant in the Advanced section, discovered that the piece
Wah Yan played was a set piece
2 years ago and thus violating the rule. It was in fact the fault of the Association of School Music Festival for not warning Wah Yan when they submitted their choice piece! On April 11th, af-after the winners’ performance concert, the Association notified
Wah Yan of their breach of rule and on May 1st, St. Joseph’s Feast Day, we were informed of our being upgraded to the First Place. We won on technicality!

It has been an eventful year. Cheng Ka Ming is leaving for the States in June to pursue his studies. We are expecting the Form 5 members to come back in September. Well, such mobility has been a fact of life for school activities. Boys, remember to cherish every opportunity you have and live your life in full at any moment! Music has entertained my life in La Salle.
I hope you will enjoy and remember it.

一谈法律

法律，外行人只会说是重复理论科学，除非理论科学和案例外，更无一己之经验和阅历去作适当的判断。其实，这些只是对他们对法律的一知半解。

一谈律师

律师和法官本本上都是为人民服务，不是为了实现正义，而是为了经济。律师和法官之间的关系，是律师不能向法官求情，求情的往往有罪。律师不能作律师。

一九九五年，與李嘉鋒憶起

當年我們奮鬥了整個的辯論世界，變革著思想，逐漸的走向真正的辯論世界。當年有那些在辯論台上的創舉和成就，我們現在可以回想起來。

黃祖賢

時間過得太快，一晃眼我們的中學畢

論生涯已告結束，中學的決賽及無數的友誼賽都像昨日發生的事情。記得年初時，由於不少曾效力中學

的學長都出國留學，同學們又相繼

離伍，中學的絕緣無法成形。在左擁右撲的情況下，最後缺乏評判老師及台下講解成，

是又遇上有時評判老師及台上裁判員

的問題，最後我們還是硬著頭皮出賽去。

黃祖賢

也不斷的在辯論台上扮演著演員的角色，最後是演員的夢想成真。在這次比賽中，我們全體師生的友誼也大大

增進了。於是在我們全體師生的友誼和校

政的支援下，我校的辯論隊成功地

獲得了一員，也是我的個人成長的一

個重要階段。
離情

李嘉銘

主席，誼判，在座各位：

這些話，在這年裡已成為我的口頭禪。記得我剛入學，參加辯論時，常常因為沒有出過比賽，心裏不夠自信，常常在比賽中失誤，但後來，隨著實戰經驗的積累，我變得越來越有信心。

辯論，是一種比賽，也是一種生活。它讓我們學會了如何表達自己，如何與人交流，如何在壓力下保持鎮定。辯論，就像生活，有起起落落，有成功有失敗，但重要的是我們如何面對它。

主席，請注意：我並沒有說「你贏了」，而是在感謝你讓我們有一次這樣的機會。

當我們在辯論的過程中遇到困難，不要放棄，要勇於面對，要勇於表達。因為，這就是我們的機會，這是我們的生活，這是我們的未來。

謝謝大家。
後記

謝字說不完，恨字說不完。在這樣一段執著汗和淚的歷程中，最重要的不是四個謝字，而是那些一直在背後默默支持我們的人。我們的師長、學長、同事及一眾學弟、學妹，是你們在背後默默支持我們，才有了今天的成績。感謝你們的辛勤付出，讓我們的成果更加輝煌。

在以後的日子里，我們將繼續努力，為學校榮譽而戰。讓我們的表現為所有人留下深刻的印象，並用實力證明我們的價值。感謝你們的陪伴，讓我們的旅程更加精彩。

謝謝你們，感謝你們的付出，讓我們的成就更加輝煌。讓我們共同期待未來的榮耀！
未完的路

在準決賽之後的個多星期後便是聯中決賽的大日子。面對著傳統對手拔萃男書院，我們今年背負一個重要的使命，就是要把往年失去的錦標奪回來。

在準決賽時的那首歌在運動場上回響，沙沙向來慣於在逆境下作賽。運動場上如潮水般的場面，一浪接一浪，這勝的機會增大。我們於比賽日的星期一星期六就展開了預備工作。我們組成了一隊由三至六年學生組成的資料搜集組，探出搜集一切可能成為論題的資料。當然我們的資料庫是必不可少的，我們就利用餘下的數句鐘編織材料，以便爭取最有利的資料。

為了使工作更加有效率，全體人員分為三個小組分別為主線工作組， recruits and action planning group。主線工作組及資料搜集組，四位員工，嚴惠芳老師及陳家樂學長於主線工作中主要負責分析及研究，而李則中老師在北京的論點提出後交由寶方的論點及主方論點的論點。任何有力之論點均須充足，有力之論據去支持，故十有八九以軍方之言及主要論點。
王者之戰

爭標的道路本來就是不平坦的，若無
幸運之神的眷顧路就更難走。擊退強敵
聖方濟各後，滿以為可鬆一口氣，可當
我得知八強對手是來自歷屆聯中賽
中六奪桂冠的皇仁書院時，卻使我精神緊
緊緊張起來。硬仗當前，我們馬上準備
工作，迎接這場“王者之戰”。為求知
己知彼，我們於賽前四出搜集一切有關對
手的資料，如對方以往的錄音及錄影
帶等。經過分析，發覺到皇仁是一隊實
力非凡的對手，其涉及的範圍極之廣泛，
而不華的隊伍，他們的論點絕少漏洞。
今次的對辯是香港匯理會中學生辯論賽 neutrality.}

比賽當日，我方結集大軍於藍田聖
保祿學校，準備和對手展開激戰。比賽
方分別以生動的例子展開激烈對攻，我
方政治現實為理據向對方展開最後總
攻撃，使對方不能作出正面而有力之回
應，而我方亦因此而奠定勝利，最後以
三比零擊敗對手。

風雲再起

軍決賽的路途荆棘滿佈。友校拔
萃男書院順利率先進入決賽。我們若要
壓倒多支強隊的聖保祿學校，我校辯論
校對賽時便顯得有點吃虧。針對其打法，
我們便一面以攻為守的風格，用詞以風
趣幽默為原則，並加入大量生動活潑的
例子，以制衡對方。
再遇宿敵

經過連串的辯題及公平，全隊亦開始建立了一個統一的風格。當我們對數次感到惶恐不安時，他會一步步地邁進，無論如何崎岖，我們都會邁過的。

比賽那天的早上，一陣突然的冷風，使我憶起當時的病情了。比賽開始前一刻，大家都感到緊張，大家整裝待發，滿懷信心地出發到戰場。

各位，大家都知道，我們的志視相投，大家同心協力，必ず勝利を祈っています。 喇沙中文辯論隊

前路茫茫

古谚有云：万事起头难，今年的中文辯論队亦是如此。在以往的一届一届中，虽然经常处于低谷，但老师们依然坚持不懈，将这份精神传承下去。今年的辯論队更是全力以赴，希望在未来的比赛中取得更好的成绩。

本文与以往一样，一开始便受人才流失的困扰。但老师们仍不放弃，不断发掘新人，最终成功地将辯論队推向了一个新的高度。辯論队成员们也展现了他们卓越的才华和团队精神，为学校争得了荣誉。

在辯論队中，每位成员都发挥了不可替代的作用。他们不仅是辩论高手，更是团队的中坚力量。他们的努力和坚持，为辯論队的未来奠定了坚实的基础。让我们为辯論队的辉煌而骄傲，为他们的努力而喝彩！ 論生死
梁日昇（中四乙）

華人，與其他愛好者比起來，沒有甚
麼病會好；死，是難免的，但現代有
多懦弱的人，卻常常把“死”字掛在
嘴邊，要別人為他無償的生命而擔心。

領袖隨想
黃啓宗（中六丙）

領袖的真實，卻又十分真實。領
袖似神聖，卻又十分實際。領
袖像群山之頂，堅立在世界的中
央，能俯瞰各處的變化景象，叫一切落
在它掌握之中。

領袖無非是太陽，地球的向日葵時
刻地仰望它，等它指示應變的方針，這
時，向日葵才不失去本身的個性。遇
到陰天之時，它們便六神無主了。
秋天的黄昏

關子謙（中四乙）

一陣秋風吹過，只覺得渾身暢快，大樹也被吹醒了，但它們並沒有動怒，只是沙沙作響的和應著。我欲聞風，啊！

在餘暉的照耀下，這顯然是指畫的小蛇，隨波逐流，它們都在這金光閃耀的水裏悠融。

在這萬籟俱寂的景色下，我亦陶醉了，只想容身於大地的懷抱之中。

不久，夕陽終於隱沒在那最高的陸後，餘暉變得深沉暗淡起來。漸漸的，大地也被灰色的天幕所吞噬了。風也變得冷了，我不禁打個寒顫。一看錶，已是六時許了，我燒了香卷，站起身便走。

朋友與敵人

陳嘉恩（中二乙）

在這個世界上，人與人之間的關係千變萬化，從朋友到敵人，只在一念之間。如何正確處理朋友與敵人的關係，是每個人都必須面對的課題。

朋友與敵人，一個是積極向上的力量，一個是消極向下的力量。朋友可以給我們帶來力量，敵人可以給我們帶來挑戰。在現代社會中，朋友與敵人的界限往往模糊，我們需要學會如何正確地處理這兩種關係。

朋友是我們生命中不可或缺的部分，他們可以給我們帶來愉快和幸福。朋友間的互動可以激發我們的創造力，使我們的生活更加多彩。朋友間的相處應該是建立在雙方的尊重和理解之上，只有這樣，才能建立真誠的友誼。

敵人是我們生活中的另一個方面，他們可以給我們帶來壓力和挑戰。在與敵人相處時，我們應該保持平和和理性，不要被敵人的言語所激怒。相反，我們應該學會如何巧妙地應對敵人的挑釁，以保持自己的立場和原則。在處理敵人的時刻，我們應該保持理智和耐心，不要因一時之怒而做出錯誤的決定。

朋友與敵人的界限往往模糊，我們需要學會如何正確地處理這兩種關係。這需要我們具備智慧和同理心，以及良好的溝通和解決問題的技巧。只有這樣，我們才能在人生的旅途上走得更遠。

在這個複雜多變的世界中，朋友與敵人關係的處理是我們必修的科目。讓我們學會如何正確地處理這兩種關係，以期在人生的旅程中走得更穩，飛得更高。
我們對餘下大半年的工作更充滿信心。

今年是學生會成立二十週年紀念，為了隆重其事，我們特地舉辦了一個名為「雙週慶活動」。這活動包羅萬有，計有合唱會、書展、模型展、拔河比賽、學生會常識問答比賽等。合唱會規模可不少，我們很榮幸地邀請了多位樂壇巨星如許志安、梅艷芳、張學友、劉德華等作為嘉賓。每次節日之際，皆有嘉賓表演嘉賓，並且邀請到兩位唱片製作人參與活動。

這種活動的成功，無疑是因為學生會的成員的努力和專心。他們無時無刻不在勞動，以期為學校作出更大的貢獻。我認為這個活動的成功，是因為學生會的成員們的辛勤付出，他們的熱誠和努力，使這次活動增光添彩。

由於本年度學生會舉辦的活動很多，因此花去了我很多時間，但我不敢草率處事，樂可犧牲自己休息和遊戲的時間，以免有負同學對我的期望。學生會的事務繁多，有時不免令我心力交瘁，但我將它看作是對我工作能力的鍛鍊，也正是我成長的機會。在學生會的工作中，我獲得了新的知識，使我變得成熟及堅強，自信心因此而加強了。

最後，我預祝未來的接班人能群策群力，把學生會的事務辦得更加出色。
學生會會長感言

今年，學生會舉辦了不少大型活動，首項大型活動是全校性的活動。參與的学生們非常努力，即使在初賽之際，也表現出不少優異的表現。此外，學生會也開始發出新的活動，例如校園節和迎新節，這些活動都得到了同學們的熱烈歡迎和配合。

學生會辦公室現在設置了新的設備，方便學生會的工作進行。我非常感謝那些為學生會工作做出貢獻的同學們，你們的努力和付出讓學生會的工作更為順利。我期待著未來的活動，相信學生會會有更佳的表現。

最後，我想感謝所有支持學生會工作的老師和同學。學生會的成長離不開您們的支持和幫助。感謝您們！

今年有許多學生在校刊的工作，尤其是校刊的編輯工作，始知不容易。於編輯過程中，我曾遇到不少困難，例如編輯時碰到問題，往往費思量。至於篇幅限制及文稿質量，校刊終能如期付梓，實使編者感到如釋重負。
